SCENES AT ALLEGHENY COUNTY'S NEW FAIR AT IMPERIAL

COUNTY FAIR IS REVIVED

Findlay Township Farmers Open a Big Agricultural Show.

SOME FAST RACING

PRETTY GIRLS ARE NUMEROUS

Who said Allegheny county is not a rich agricultural region?

Who says Allegheny county farms will not produce prize pumpkins?

Who says Allegheny county housewives cannot make crazy-patch quilts, currant jelly and strawberry jam of the sort that will please the most exacting judge?

Who says Allegheny county horses cannot trot or pace just as fast as those that come from the famous stock farms of Kentucky?

Allegheny county is just getting metropolitan enough to have everything that is provincial. That is why the first annual fair of the Allegheny County Agricultural association at Imperial had an auspicious opening yesterday. It was the first farmers' fair held in the county in 15 years. It brought out everything characteristic of the rustic regions. It revealed the size of the corn and the pumpkins, the clear qualities of the jellies and the jams, the deft handiwork of the crazy-patch and battenburg makers, the obesity of the hogs and the chickens and the speed of the horses. The fair will be continued until Friday—and all the pretty girls of the southern part of the county will win sweethearts.

The show opened yesterday. The prettiest girls of Findlay, with cheeks that matched the ruddy color of the woodbine leaves, with eyes that smiled like the cloudless September skies and with voices that challenged the sweetness of the mockingbird and the meadowlark were there to grace the bucolic inaugural. They came in the family buggy and had driven since sunrise in order to be on hand early. They dined on gingerbread and fried chicken. They rode the merry-go-round until they didn't care what happened, they swung in the swings, held hands and spooned—and drove home in the moonlight. Who said the girls of Findlay would not win sweethearts?

Everything Was New.

Of course everything was new in the Imperial fair grounds yesterday. Even the negro who dodged the rubber balls was new and he got furiously pelted over the head while the cigars were being handed out by the boxful. The buildings were new and were resplendent in new paint. The race course was new, but it was remarkably fast. Old horsemen declare that it is one of the very best half-mile tracks in the state.

Oh, the races! The people who drove were after the goods. Every man knew his own horse. He acted as his own jockey and was bent on taking first money. Of course there were other entries and the man who was bent on winning was called upon to consider the other competitors. Lew Vensel, the famous Panhandle engineer who hauls the fastest trains between Pittsburgh and Columbus, was there with his bay mare, Susie Hall. Lew wore a golf cap, a green sweater and his railroad jumpers.

People who have ridden on Vensel's train know that he hits only the high

AGAINST GOVERNMENT; IN FAVOR OF CHINAMAN

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WHEELING, W. Va., Sept. 19.—Today in the United States court, Judge Dayton discharged from custody Yee Gee Yu, a Chinese laundryman of this city, who had been indicted for violation of the Chinese exclusion act. It was shown that he was a merchant in Boston before coming here and not a laborer. In giving his decision Judge Dayton, who was recently appointed to the bench after serving 10 years in congress, said:

"It was largely a question of political expediency and to meet the demand of the western country to shut out the Chinese that the exclusion laws were passed. We might as well admit them, as bad legislation gets upon the statute books enough by congress as well as by our state legislatures.

"There cannot be any question—there never was any question in my mind—about the propriety, and I always felt the necessity of passing laws restricting certain classes of foreign immigrants, but I never could understand why that restriction should be placed upon the Chinese and not be placed upon Italians, Slavok, Hungarian and the South of Europe labor just as obnoxious to this country as the Chinese.

"And while these Chinese exclusion laws are upon the statute books, and our gates have been opened substantially to those other classes of laborers, this court as far as he can, proposes to construe for the Chinaman and against the government because he thinks it is an unjust discrimination.

"I think I have said facetitiously that there are two things in my congressional career that I was ashamed of. One was of voting for the oleomargerine bill and the other was of voting for this Chinese exclusion law."

COLOMBIA'S PRESIDENT BECOMES A DICTATOR

Gen. Reyes Imprisons Supreme Court Judges and Precipitates Riots.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

PANAMA, Sept. 19.—Unconfirmed reports reached here today that Gen. Rafael Reyes, president of Colombia, declared himself dictator September 8 and imprisoned the members of the supreme court at Bogota.

Mobs, angered by this action, attacked the presidential palace and were fired on by troops, who killed or wounded many of the rioters.

The reports say revolutions have been started in Antioquia and Santander.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Diego Mendoza, Colombian minister to Washington, is at present in this city. When informed of the Panama dispatch tonight he said: "I do not believe there is a word of truth in the report. I received a cable dispatch from Bogota two days ago and it said that the country was in complete and absolute peace, and that President Reyes was engaged in the reconstruction of the Colombian finances.

"If anything of importance occurred I would surely have been informed of it. I am sure there is no disturbance in Colombia."

DIRECTS SUIT TO RECOVER EQUITABLE MONEY

Paul Morton Will Try to Compel the Mercantile Trust to Disgorge.

WANTS RETURN OF MILLION DOLLARS

THEIR SECURITIES DOUBTFUL

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, Sept. 19.

Paul Morton, president of the Equitable society, today made public the fact that he has directed Wallace McFarlane, as counsel for the Equitable, to begin suit against the Mercantile Trust Company to compel restitution by it of sums aggregating, principal and interest, more than $1,000,000. Mr. Morton asserts these sums were applied under the former Equitable management to improper or unauthorized loans, and his report, which is addressed to the board of directors, throws light upon some extraordinary financial transactions of the former regime, both before and after the death of the late Henry B. Hyde.

In this connection Mr. Morton also refers to the notorious $685,000 loan carried by the Mercantile trust, which has been the object of much speculation as to the uses to which it was put by James W. Alexander and Thomas D. Jordan, and which Mr. Morton now designates as the "J. W. A. No. 3 account." His statement, however, does not illuminate the uses to which this loan was put. He finds that it was unauthorized and was not mentioned in the Equitable books, but that, despite this fact, three payments by the society had been made to the Mercantile trust on account of that loan, all of them apparently unauthorized.

An Unsolved Mystery.

For what purpose these payments were made remains as great a mystery as ever. They were, respectively, for $100,000 on December 30, 1901; for $85,000 on October 4, 1902, and for $100,000 on February 4, 1904. Mr. Morton has directed that suit be brought to recover these sums, which, together with the sum of $718,264.30, with interest, for the recovery of which, growing out of the so-called "Turner loans," suit is also to be instituted, aggregate an amount considerably in excess of $1,000,000, which Mr. Morton contends is due to the Equitable from the Mercantile trust, which has been one of the most important of its subsidiary institutions.

Incidentally, the narrative places on record another story of a "dummy loan" much like those negotiated by the New York officers through their negro messenger and some of their clerks to transfer certain of their unlisted assets. In the present instance, George V. Turner was the secretary of Louis Fitzgerald, who was then the president of the Mercantile Trust Company.

The John W. Young mentioned in Mr. Morton's statement is the same syndicate promoter who was conspicuous, together with Alexander and Green, in the affairs of the shipbuilding trust, which were the object of a searching inquiry some time ago.

Collateral Was Doubtful.

These so-called Turner loans, Mr. Morgan's report set forth, were carried in 1894 by the Western National bank, which was controlled by the Equitable Life Assurance Society. The collateral for the loans was objected to by a bank examiner. Henry B. Hyde then agreed to transfer the loan and collateral to the Mercantile Trust Company. At that time, apparently, the loans amounted to $661,491.

George V. Turner, in whose name the loan stood, was secretary to Louis Fitzgerald, then president of the Mercantile Trust Company, and a close business associate of Henry B. Hyde. The loan was guaranteed by Marcellus Hartley, John E. Searles, Louis Fitzgerald, W. M. Coler, Jr., and H. B. Hyde. On March 21, 1896, the same guarantors renewed their guar-

The total vote for recorder is 32,337. There are still a number of districts to be added to this. The presidential vote in the county was 90,324, divided as follows: Pittsburgh, 38,726; Allegheny, 13,558; McKeesport, 3,605; boroughs, 22,969; townships, 11,466.

The expert accountants will now apportion the presidential vote to each candidate in proportion to the vote received at the primaries. Chairman T. J. Ford thinks this work may be completed today. The board worked in perfect harmony yesterday and there was no disposition on the part of the defeated candidates to show any soreness or make any contests. Several districts have been cast aside because of mistakes in the returns.

MISS ROOSEVELT MAKES ROYAL ENTRY INTO KOREA'S CAPITAL

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

SEOUL, Sept. 19.—Through streets crowded with white-robed Koreans and lined by the imperial bodyguard standing at "present arms," Miss Alice Roosevelt, riding in the imperial yellow palanquin, this evening triumphantly progressed from the railroad station to the American legation. The roadways had been freshly paved and the shops draped with Korean and hastily hand-painted American flags.

Miss Roosevelt, Rear Admiral Train, Senator and Mrs. Newlands, the Misses Boardman and McMillin and Congressmen Longworth and Gillette arrived at Chemulpo this afternoon. American Minister Morgan and staff and a number of high Koreans greeted the party, which proceeded to Seoul by a special train. The imperial car, which is only furnished to royalty, was placed at Miss Roosevelt's disposal.

The court chamberlain met the party at a half-way station on behalf of the emperor, with inquiries as to Miss Roosevelt's health.

On arrival at Seoul, the party was hailed by a Korean band, which played the "Star Spangled Banner." Korean policemen and Japanese gendarmes guarded the roadway, and grotesquely-clad retainers bore long lanterns. The passage of the party along the streets was everywhere heralded by the bugles of troops.

Miss Roosevelt and Mrs. Newlands are guests of the American minister, and the rest of the party are staying at the imperial palace.

DIES IN BARRED CELL, ALCOHOL IN HIS HAND

Tragic Death of Aged Man Who Had Been Arrested at Least 200 Times.

Ed Kearns, aged 70, whose name has appeared on the Central station docket at least 200 times, has been arrested for the last time. He was taken to the station house at 10 o'clock last night on a charge of drunkenness. Five minutes later he died in his cell. In his pocket was half a pint of alcohol, his favorite beverage.

Kearns was a familiar figure in the down-town streets, with his long, flowing white hair and stooped shoulders. He was a scrap picker until the patent street cleaning machines and Director Bigelow's salamanders put Kearns out of business. In recent years he lived by begging at lodging houses.

Last night he was staggering at Second avenue and Market street. Policeman Kinney called the patrol wagon and Kearns was loaded in.

"I think this will be my last ride," he whispered to the wagonmen.

"You will live forever," said the officers.

Kearns asked the turnkey to permit him to keep his bottle of alcohol. The request was granted. Kearns was placed in a cell and five minutes later the turnkey stopped in front of the bars to speak to the old offender and found him dead with the bottle in his hand.

RETURN STOLEN PROPERTY BECAUSE OF NAVAL RECORD

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

BOSTON, Sept. 19.—Because of their professed admiration for the naval record of Rear Admiral Francis T. Bowles, United States navy (retired), robbers today returned to the admiral property they had taken from his house in this city.

Yesterday two men pretending to be gas inspectors were admitted to the Bowles residence by a maid. When they left the house they carried off an iron box, which resembled a treasure chest. The box contained documents of value only to Mr. Bowles and a gold chain.

Today the papers were returned by a messenger to the owner, with a letter informing him that the property was restored because of his excellent naval record. The thieves added they would keep the chain as a souvenir.

WOMAN CHECKS HER BABY.

In Excitement of Catching a Train Infant Is Forgotten and Placed in Baggage Car.

MARION, O., Sept. 19.—(Special.)—In her excitement incident to catching a train to Caledonia today Mrs. Charles Forsyth checked her baby cab and forgot to take out her baby. The only available space for the cab was high upon two trunks. There the cab with its tiny human freight was jolted about and caught twice in falling by the baggageman.

Meanwhile the child's mother ran wildly up and down the aisle of the rear coach crying for her baby. When the train stopped the mother ran to the baggage coach, but not until she snatched the baby from the cab and smothered it with kisses did the infant awake.

Among the first arrivals this afternoon was former Auditor General Hardenberg and Recording Secretary Robert A. Lindsay of Pittsburgh.

RABBI'S IDEAS ARE APPROVED

Great Interest in Dr. Levy's Mission to Japan and Its Results.

HIS WELCOME HOME

Co-Religionists Discuss the Feasibility of Establishing Jewish Buffer State.

CRITICISMS BY CLERGYMEN

Dr. J. Leonard Levy's mission to Japan, its objects and results, as exclusively described in The Gazette, was almost the sole topic of conversation in the two cities yesterday. It provoked much commendation and some criticism.

When the rabbi of the Rodeph Shalom congregation and president of the Pittsburgh Peace society arrived at Union station from his trip half around the world in the interest of peace and the persecuted Jews of Russia, he was welcomed by a large number of his friends and members of his congregation. At the station to meet him were Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Guggenheim, George A. Levy, a brother of the rabbi; Charles H. Joseph and A. J. Sunstein. Dr. Levy went direct to his home, 1526 Denniston avenue, Squirrel hill, where he was greeted by decorations of American and Japanese flags.

Step in the Right Direction.

Dr. Levy's proposal to found a buffer state in Manchuria, where the persecuted Jews of Russia can migrate and work out their destiny free from persecution, was generally accepted by the Jews of this city as a step in the right direction.

Among the ministers of Christian churches considerable dissatisfaction was expressed with Dr. Levy's statements about the missionaries in Japan and the methods they employ to convert the natives. At a meeting of ministers Dr. Levy was severely denounced and his statements relative to the Christian missionaries were declared to be false.

Henry Jackson of Jackson Bros., Liberty avenue, who has given much thought to the condition of the Jews in Russia and other parts of the world, and who is a leader in the Zionist movement, said Dr. Levy's idea to have Manchuria settled by Jews from Russia is very good.

The Zionist movement to have the Jews settle in Palestine has been heartily indorsed by 750,000 Zionists, and Mr. Jackson stated he believes more will be accomplished if the movement for the amelioration of the persecuted Jews be united and all work for the same purpose.

"Manchuria has not the traditions so dear to the Jew," said Mr. Jackson, "as Palestine has. The Zionists have established 35 colonies in Palestine with a population of about 40,000 people. The colonists are raising olives and olive trees, palms, etc. The people also make wine. In Palestine the Jews can live their religion and have their customs, but what can be expected in Manchuria from the heathen Chinaman?"

Refused African Territory.

Mr. Jackson said the Territorial society, of which Israel Zangwill is president, has been formed for the purpose of securing the land concessions offered in eastern Africa. The English government offered the Zionists 5,000 square miles in Agunda, East Africa, and the territory was explored by engineers and found favorable for settlement, but as the Zionists' primary idea is to have the Jews settle in Palestine, the organization was unable to take advantage of the concession.

Dr. Levy's mission and efforts to have peace established was given the highest commendation by M. Oppenheimer of M. Oppenheimer & Co., Liberty avenue, yesterday. Mr. Oppenheimer said he has known Dr. Levy personally for several years and believes his suggestions to have the Russian Jews settle in Manchuria worthy of thoughtful consideration.

Mr. Oppenheimer stated that in the 40 years he has been in business in Pittsburgh he has employed between 200 and 300 Polish and Russian Jews, and he has arrived at the conclusion that the Jews of Russia are bright and intelligent men. He said the men who have been employed by his firm have gone out and engaged in business, and the majority of them have made a success of their undertakings.

"While the Jew is primarily a man of business inclinations and has shown aptitude for following the mercantile business," said Mr. Oppenheimer, "it has also been shown that he can make a pretty good success as a farmer. Colonies established in farming communities in the eastern and western parts of the United States have been successful, and many of the Jew settlers have proved to be good farmers. In Manchuria, which is undeveloped, the Jews who would settle there will have to engage at first in farming, but their success in the United States shows that they can turn to farming if necessary, and for that reason Dr. Levy's proposition is worthy of much thought."

Criticize Dr. Levy's Statements.

At the meeting of the Allegheny presbytery of the Presbyterian church in the First church, Arch street, Allegheny, the Rev. Dr. H. D. Lindsay, pastor of the North church and president of the committee on foreign missions, severely censured Dr. Levy's reports concerning missionaries and said his statements were false.

Prof. Kelso of the Western Theological seminary, whose father has been a missionary for 30 years, said Dr. Levy's criticisms are permeated with prejudices. He said the rabbi condemns the whole missionary body on superficial knowledge gained on a flying visit.

The Rev. Dr. W. O. Campbell of Sewickley, who presided at the meeting, said the rabbi's statements are baseless fabrications.

After the meeting the presbytery issued a paper stating its entire disbelief of the truth of Dr. Levy's statements and reaffirms its most hearty and entire confidence in the missionary workers in Japan.

J. P. Knox, after reading Dr. Levy's report of his mission to Japan, said he is in hearty sympathy with ameliorating the condition of the Jews, but was much surprised at the disparaging report of the Christian missionary workers in the orient. Mr. Knox said that, as a member of a Christian church largely engaged in mission work in the orient, he would like to know from Dr. Levy what religious body will have to bear the odium of such doubtful methods of missionary enterprise for Christianizing the heathen.

THREE HOMICIDE CASES TO SOLVE

Coroner Armstrong and County Detectives Have Trio of Tragedies to Investigate.

OTHER VIOLENT DEATHS

The coroner has three homicide mysteries to solve. Bolis Davidowski of Sheraden was committed to jail last night by Coroner Armstrong on a charge of murdering Antonio Pughese of 262 Woods Run avenue, Allegheny, who died at the St. John's General hospital last Friday. Both men worked in the Pressed Steel Car plant at Woods Run and on September 11 they had some words. It is alleged Pughese threw rivets in Davidowski's face, and the latter picked up a club and struck Pughese on the back of the neck. The blow rendered him unconscious and he was taken to the hospital where he died without regaining consciousness. Neither the mill men or hospital authorities reported the case to the police, and they knew nothing of it until the death was reported to the coroner. Davidowski was arrested Saturday by the Allegheny police and was turned over to the coroner yesterday.

The Allegheny police are holding Joseph Gorlusky, a Russian Jew of 849 Carpenters alley, to await the result of the inquest into the death of Frank Lubowski, a fellow-countryman, who lived at 852 Carpenters alley. The latter died early yesterday morning, it is believed, from the result of a kick in the stomach he got while in a fight with his neighbor on Sunday night.

According to the story told by the prisoner, his 12-year-old son got into a fight with one of Lubowski's boys over some chewing gum that was stuck to the former lad's hair. The parents took up the fight and Lubowski knocked Gorlusky down with his fist. Then Gorlusky arose and kicked the other, who was rendered unconscious and never recovered.

The police were informed yesterday morning of the affair and Detectives Einstein and Speer were put on the case. As they left city hall Gorlusky called at Superintendent Glenn's office and gave himself up. Gorlusky does not deny he kicked Lubowski, but says he did it in self-defence. Both men have families and came to this country to Allegheny only a few months ago. Lubowski was 47 years old and Gorlusky is five years younger.

Tony Lion, an Italian, died at the South Side hospital, last night, from a gunshot wound, received in a fight last Sunday at Bellevernon. He was brought to the hospital Monday, and he said he had been shot by a fellow-countryman, but did not give his name. The coroner has been unable to find his assailant.

George Milcsi, a coal miner, of Beadling, died at the Mercy hospital last night from a broken neck, caused by a fall of slate in the Harrison mines yesterday morning. He was 26 years old.

The coroner was notified last night of Elwood Leavering, a negro, inmate at the Western penitentiary. Death was caused by consumption. He was a short-term prisoner.

Mrs. Margaret Manion, aged 40, of 12 Morrison street, died at the Mercy hospital yesterday from burns received at her home last Saturday. She was burned in a lamp explosion.

STRANGE FAIRY INVADES DARK CELLS OF THE JAIL

She Turns Out to Be Ballet Girl Who Escaped from St. Paul's Orphan Asylum.

When Mary Cooney, a 13-year-old ballet girl, arrested at Luna park, was led into the Allegheny county jail last night, wearing her pink stockings and filmy skirts she created a sensation among the prisoners. Was she a fairy? Some of the old habitues of the prison thought so. They questioned their cell-mates and wondered. They caught sight of the tinsel and saw the iridescent flash of the young woman's eyes. Had their day of deliverance come?

But if they had been acquainted with the facts they would have heard a very prosaic story. Mary Cooney had simply escaped from St. Paul's orphan asylum at Idlewood and followed the bent of her ambition to go on the stage. She secured a place among the coryphees at Luna park, and when her presence there was discovered, she was arrested by two women probation officers who bore an order for her arrest, signed by Judge Macfarlane. The girl told Warden Lewis that if she was prevented from following her stage career, she would commit suicide.

Preparing for Press Club Night.

Nicholas F. Auen, the champion gun driller of the United States, was secured yesterday to appear at Luna park on Press club evening, next Monday. With a 16-pound gun Mr. Auen performs tricks with lightning-like speed that seem almost miraculous. In the Electric theater, Arcadia, Ziz, Chateau Alphouse, Scenictorium, Luna theater, Mystic river, Circle swing and other attractions, will be heard amateur barkers.

NIXON RESTAURANT.

Under the New Management a Pronounced Success—Formal Opening Yesterday.

With each of the three rooms that comprise the Nixon restaurant, dressed in their opening attire, the original beauty of the rooms being enhanced by many genuine rare plants distributed effectively throughout, and by fresh cut flowers arranged in artistic settings, with the most competent service force possible to secure, with practically a new and modern kitchen, in which the preparation of the cuisine receives the proper consideration, the Nixon Restaurant, under the new ownership and management of Mr. George Schmitt, formally began its career yesterday, Mr. Schmitt welcoming in numbers his many friends and patrons who came in response to the general invitation issued through the newspapers and mail.

The day was gratifying. It seemed as if everyone had accepted, ladies in a majority. The souvenir given to each lady, being a useful article, was particularly pleasing, and in great demand. All day and evening, until long after the last selection was rendered by the superb Nixon Restuarant orchestra, the tables were occupied. From every side, Mr. Schmitt was showered with congratulations and wishes of success for the Nixon Restuarant.

Mr. Schmitt desires to thank his many friends and patrons for their remembrance and appreciation of his efforts to give Pittsburgh a restaurant of the highest standard.

PAUL MORTON DIRECTS SUIT TO RECOVER MONEY

anty, the loan having grown to $1,276,478, the increase being due to attempts to develop the property on which the collateral for the loan was made. Part of this collateral was given by John W. Young, and consisted of Salt Lake and Eastern railway stock, and other salt stocks. This collateral proved to be of little value.

Other collateral consisted of contracts of the Kentucky Mineral and Timber Company and the Amity Land and Irrigation Company of Colorado. Attempts were made to develop the Kentucky property and the Colorado property. Large sums were expended for that purpose, and by July 1, 1906, the cost of the Kentucky property stood at $619,067 and the Colorado property at $2,809,633. The Equitable Life Assurance Society paid the Mercantile Trust Company $218,264 on these loans January 23, 1900, and $500,000 on February 4, 1904.

"The records of the society," said Mr. Morton, "disclose no authority whatever for these payments, and the cash entries in respect to them were very obscure."

Mr. Morton also sets forth that on February 14, 1900, the executive committee of the Equitable Life Assurance Society passed a resolution authorizing the president to convey to the individual guarantors of the Turner loans the assurances of the society for their protection. On February 14, 1900, the president of the society, Mr. Alexander, made a statement those loans were made in the interest of the society and assured the guarantors the secretary would see the amounts the companies loaned would be repaid with interest. Mr. Morton referred the matter to special counsel, who have assured him the Equitable Life Assurance Society is not responsible for the loans. Mr. Morton has also notified the Mercantile Trust Company he will expect it to repay the $718,264 paid to it by the Equitable Life Assurance Society.

Demands Money Be Returned.

Mr. Morton found that $265,000 was paid by the Equitable Life Assurance Society to the Mercantile Trust Company on the $685,000 loan, the nature of which loan has never been explained. Counsel has been instructed to begin proceedings for the return of this sum. This loan was carried on an account known as the "J. W. A. No. 3 account." Mr. Morton also reported to the directors that it would be necessary to charge off $86,488 unpaid balance of a loan to John E. Surles. The collateral against this $86,468, Mr. Morton declares, is without value.

At the conclusion of his report Mr. Morton stated: "In case any other transactions of this character are developed, you will be duly advised."

Mr. Morton found the Turner loans were made by the Western National bank before the Equitable Life Assurance society became interested in the bank. The loans originally were as follows:

"To John W. Young, $113,655, on collateral consisting of Salt Lake & Fort Douglas Railroad Company bonds and stock; Salt Lake & Eastern Railway Company stock, Salt Lake Dock Company stock and Deming, Sierra Madre & Pacific railway stock.

"To the Kentucky Mineral and Timber Company, $258,384, the collateral being contracts for the purchase of certain lands in Southeastern Kentucky.

"To the Amity Land and Irrigation Company, $264,599, the collateral representing a controlling interest in certain irrigation ditches in Powers county, Colorado. To the total of $636,048 was added interest of $25,443, making the total $661,491. The manner of transferring the loan from the Western National bank to the Mercantile Trust Company, when the bank examiner objected to the collateral, is thus described by Mr. Morton:

"Henry B. Hyde, who was president of the society at the time and also a director in the bank, arranged to transfer the collateral to the Mercantile Trust Company in the following manner:

"The collateral was first assigned by the bank to George V. Turner, secretary to Louis Fitzgerald, then president of the Mercantile Trust Company. Contemporaneously with the assignment Turner, on the security of the collateral, obtained from the trust company a loan of $661,491 (the exact amount that the collateral stood at on the books of the bank) evidenced by his note dated November 15, 1894, and this amount was turned over to the bank in payment for the collateral which it had assigned to Turner.

Hyde One of Guarantors.

Upon Turner's note there was indorsed a guaranty of payment by Marcellus Hartley, John E. Searles, Louis Fitzgerald, W. N. Coler, Jr., and H. D. Hyde, and upon all renewals of the note the same guaranty was indorsed. These gentlemen were all directors of the Western National bank, and held considerable amounts of its stock. Mr. Hyde was also president of this society as stated; Mr. Fitzgerald was president of the Mercantile Trust Company and a director of this Society and chairman of its finance committee; Mr. Hartley was also a director of this society and a member of its finance committee.

It developed soon after the Mercantile Trust Company assumed the loans, Mr. Morton reports, that the collateral for the loan to John W. Young was worthless, and then it was that enormous sums were spent in an effort to develop the Kentucky and Colorado properties. On July 1, 1905, the cost of the Kentucky property stood at $619,057 and the Colorado property at $2,809,533. The cost of the "Colorado property" was assumed by the Commercial Trust Company to the extent of $500,000; by the Western National bank (now the National Bank of Commerce), to the extent of $200,000, and by the American Deposit and Loan Company (now the Equitable Trust Company), to the extent of $100,000; on certificates of participation issued to them, respectively, by the Mercantile Trust Company January 23, 1900.

No Reference to Loans.

Agreements were executed by Turner and the guarantors or their representatives consenting to the issue of the certificates and agreeing that the collateral should apply to them equally with the notes held by the Mercantile Trust Company. The Turner loans were made by the Mercantile Trust Company in 1894, but Mr. Morton finds the records of the Equitable Life Assurance Society contain no reference, prior to 1900, to the Turner loans.

"The Mercantile Trust Company, however," says Mr. Morton, "has produced an instrument signed by James W. Alexander, president, dated May 11, 1899, about a week after the death of Henry B. Hyde, certifying that the Turner loan and additional advices for the same amount were really made for the benefit of the society, as it was the principal shareholder of the Western National bank and was practically pledged for its protection.

Renews His Assurance.

On February 6, 1900, over five years after the guarantors had incurred their obligation to the trust company, President Alexander addressed a letter to each of the aforementioned individual guarantors or their representatives, stating that the Turner loans were made by the Mercantile Trust Company at the request of the society, and that it was at the request of the society that the individual guarantors guaranteed the trust company against loss, and that, therefore, the society would hold them, the guarantors, harmless from loss on account of their guaranty. On February 14, 1900, the executive committee of the society passed a resolution authorizing the president to convey to the individual guarantors the assurances of the society for their protection. This resolution is the only minute on the records of any committee of the society or its board of directors in respect to any connection of the society with the Turner loans.

On February 14, 1900, the president of the society, Mr. Alexander, also wrote to the officers of the three aforementioned corporations holding certificates of participation in the Turner loans, repeating that those loans were made in the interest of the society and assuring them the society would see the amounts their companies loaned would be repaid with interest.

Society Not Responsible.

As soon as I became aware of the facts in regard to this transaction, I referred the matter to Wallace MacFarlane, special counsel, to ascertain what the society's legal responsibility was in the case. He gives me as his opinion that the Mercantile Trust Company should look to its guarantors for the payment of the obligation, and that the society is in no sense responsible to the trust company. It is also his opinion that it is very doubtful whether the society is liable to the guarantors. This, however, is a matter that can only be settled by litigation.

I have notified the Mercantile Trust Company to this effect and have urged that it proceed against its guarantors. I have also notified the trust company that we would expect to have repaid to the society $718,264 and interest, which I find the society has applied on these loans, and I have instructed counsel to take the necessary proceedings for the recovery of this money.

I have been unable to form a definite opinion as to the value of the properties by which the "Turner loans" are secured. They certainly have substantial value, and the officers of the Mercantile Trust Company are sanguine they will ultimately produce sufficient money for the liquidation of the loans. In any event, the individual guarantors of the loans, including the estates of Henry B. Hyde and Marcellus Hartley, are amply responsible, and the trust company, by enforcing its rights against them, should be able to escape ultimate loss upon the loans.

Coming to the mysterious $685,000 loan made by the Mercantile Trust Company on the "J. W. A. No. 3 account," Mr. Morton found no such loan had been authorized by the society, and he repudiated it. The "J. W. A. No. 3 account" loan was repaid recently by individuals. Mr. Morton discovered, however, that from 1901 to 1904 the Equitable paid $265,000 on this loan, and he has instructed counsel "to take the necessary proceedings to recover these amounts for the society."

The Searles loan was originally $540,000 and was reduced to $86,488. The remaining collateral on this loan, Mr. Morton finds, is without avail.

places. What is Joe Patchen's record compared with the gait he strikes with his big Atlantic when he knows his fireman and pulls out the trottle for a mile in 48 seconds? He only reaches his normal condition when he is splitting the air at the rate of a mile minute. Vensel's Susie is good for the 2:15 any day, but her driver forgets that he is not running the Southwestern limited and she appears to go slow. Yesterday Susie and Lew ran away with themselves. He was the hero of the hour along the track and from the grandstand and in the chorus of the rail birds was heard:

"Slow up for Carnegie! Put on the air at Burgettstown! Watch the block at Dinsmore! Hold her down at Bulger!"

But Susie and her driver didn't listen, and Vensel took second money.

While the crowds in the grandstand were cheering—while Vensel still thought he was running for the Wheeling Junction block to make up 20 minutes which he had lost on the Walkers Mills grade, the quiet, sober folk were being delighted with the display in the floral hall. They saw the celebrated crazy-patch quilt which was made by the women of the Valley Presbyterian church, and which was recently auctioned off at $35 to add to the congregational funds. They saw the home crocheted quilt with its 17,800 balls. They marveled at the turnips raised by J. P. Stewart, which weigh six pounds and seven ounces. They were amazed at George Beitzinger's 22-pound cabbage and his 53-pound pumpkins. They saw corn that grew to be 17 feet from the ground to the peak of its tassel. In short, no wonders are lacking at the Imperial fair.

Fifteen hundred people attended the fair yesterday. Great crowds are expected the remainder of the week. The grounds are well laid out and every facility has been provided for handling large crowds. There was no disorder. Several special police officers were on the ground, but there was no call for their services. Detectives J. B. Kohen and Jerry Lutz of the Allegheny county force were on the grounds and promptly closed the games of shell-game fakirs who were invading the quiet valley. Imperial is a dry town for those who buy their drinks in wholesale quantities. In the absence of an obliging retailer, a colored man with a number of quarters of very bad liquor done up in bottles covered with newspapers, for a while did a thriving business outside the grounds.

Hans Wagner's Horse Cuts Up Funny Caper at Imperial

"Honus" Wagner and his horse, Red Fox, were the big show attractions at Imperial fair yesterday. The famous shortstop is resting at his home in Carnegie for the Philadelphia series and drove out the Steubenville pike to see the prize pumpkins in Findlay township. While going to feed his horse he took off the bridle. Red Fox broke away and "Honus" followed with a stealing-home-with-two-men-out clip. The horse went straight toward the red lemonade stand, overturned several gallons of the citric beverage and got entangled in a side-show tent.

"Honus" offered to settle, but the man who suffered the damaged tent and the one who saw his lemonade soak into the ground were gallant gentlemen.

"We are proud, Mr. Wagner, to have you with us," they said. "It is worth half a barrel of lemonade any day to have the big chief of the Pirates visit Imperial."

SEVERAL HURT IN RUNAWAY ACCIDENTS

Mrs. K. N. Totten and Her Guests Thrown from Carriage in Schenley Park.

Mrs. K. N. Totten of 4232 Fifth avenue, with her niece, Miss Aiken, and Mrs. Campbell, a house guest, were injured while driving yesterday morning in Schenley park. Mrs. Totten's team took fright at the "dinky" locomotives used on excavations at the Carnegie institute. Mrs. Totten and the driver were thrown to the ground and severely bruised. Mrs. Campbell and Miss Aiken were not badly hurt.

Yesterday afternoon as J. W. Hobensack, a druggist at Thirty-third street and Grant boulevard, was driving along the boulevard in his buggy, the horse took fright at an automobile and ran off, trampling Linso Menci, aged 9, of 3313 Grant boulevard, who was playing on the thoroughfare. His injuries are not fatal.

Benjamin J. Wenchel, chauffeur for H. E. Nemo of 334 Stratford avenue, ran into a fire plug in front of the Union station on Beechwood boulevard, yesterday afternoon, tearing the plug completely out and injuring the auto. The water gushed from the broken pipe in such quantities that the boulevard was soon flooded and great excitement prevailed in the neighborhood until the arrival of the employes of the water department, who shut off the supply of water from that main.

Charles Bush, a dairyman of Brownsville avenue, South Side, did the aerial act yesterday miraculously escaping injury. He was seated in his wagon at South Twenty-second and Josephine streets when the horse, frightened by a passing train, ran off down Twenty-second street at full speed. Near Sarah street it ran on the pavement and the front wheel of the wagon struck an awning post. The sudden stop threw Bush out and he described a great arc, turning over several times in his flight and alighted, practically uninjured.

Elect Additional Teachers.

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., Sept. 19.—(Special.)—It required 25 ballots last night for the borough school directors to decide on two additional teachers, required by the increase in attendance at the Connellsville public schools. Finally Miss Gertrude Meyers of Connellsville and Miss Olive Boyd of New Haven, Pa., proved the winning ones out of the long list of applicants.

Reed, who was attending a reunion of his regiment, nearly all of the candidates were at headquarters. John A. Fairman and Robert K. Cochrane met for the first time. It was "Hello, Jack," and "How are you, 'Bob?'" Cochrane congratulated Fairman and remarked he was going to do everything in his power to help elect his victorious opponent at the fall election. Harvey A. Lowry and W. W. Murray laughed good-naturedly over the returns from districts where the voters gave their opponents majorities. They are both ready to help elect the whole Republican ticket.

When the board met yesterday, Chairman Ford called attention to the fact the certificate of nomination of Judge Young must be filed in the office of secretary of the commonwealth 42 days before the election. As Judge Young had no opposition in the primaries the board agreed to credit him with the 50,594 votes cast for president in the county. Chairman Ford and Secretary Muehlbronner were instructed to certify his nomination at once.

In Pittsburgh mistakes were made in the returns from these Pittsburgh districts and they have been held over: First of Fifth ward, third of Sixth, first of Twelfth, eighth of Twentieth, first of Twenty-second, first of Thirtieth, Thirty-third ward, second of Thirty-fourth, first and fifth of Thirty-seventh. In Allegheny the second of the Eighth ward and the fourth of the Thirteenth are missing. These country districts did not make returns: Glenfield, Greentree, Haysville, first and second districts of Braddock township, Crescent township, first district of Elizabeth township, second district of McCandless township, third and fourth districts of North Versailles township, second district of Reserve township, Sewickley township and the first district of Shaler township.

NO GLAD WELCOME FOR HOT WEATHER

Burning Sun and High Temperature Return and Prostrate First September Victim.

COOLER WEATHER PROMISED

With several days of unusually warm weather for September, Pittsburghers were thrown back without interruption into weather like this section experienced during July and August and everybody sweltered. With a blazing sun during the day and sultry nights residents of this vicinity have suffered during the last few days to a greater extent probably than at any time during the summer months. There was one prostration from heat reported during the afternoon, and the victim who enjoys the distinction of being the first person prostrated during September since 1900, is in St. John's hospital, Allegheny. He is:

FRANK MARTIOSK, aged 18, a Russian. He was overcome while at work in the plant of the Schoen Pressed Steel Car Company in Woods Run, Allegheny.

While Pittsburghers sweltered yesterday afternoon under 86 degrees of summer heat, this section was not the hottest place in the United States. Parkersburg, W. Va., had a temperature of 90 and several other western stations in the country reported temperatures in the neighborhood of Parkersburg's maximum.

Although the temperature in this section did not go above 86 during the day, there was little let up last night, as the mercury failed to get below the 82 degree mark by 8 o'clock. After the maximum for the day was reached at 3 p. m., the mercury clung to the high points and went down so slowly that little change could be felt by the perspiring multitude, which struck for the open fields and places where they might get some fresh air, even if it was not cooling.

Humidity Is Prominent.

Humidity has been playing a prominent part in the oppressive weather and sleeping at night time, especially after midnight on Monday and Tuesday was almost impossible, and as a result residents have been sitting out much later than has been the custom for the last few weeks, during which the prevailing indications were that winter was fast overtaking this section.

Light topcoats were brought out and the convenient summer straw hat had been discarded with the sound of the gong, announcing in stentorian tones: "Straw hats off." Those who gave heed to the gong and bought the fall felt hat to replace the straw are now abusing themselves for leaving the straw hat with the hat dealer, as the last few days' hot sunshine, if continued for long, will almost force the straw hat back to a renewal of life for a season, however short.

In the last seven days there has been a great change in the maximum temperature recorded at the local office of the weather bureau. A week ago the maximum, which occurs in the afternoon, was 64 degrees. Since then the mercury has been leaping to new heights daily and has finally gone up to 86 degrees, making all swelter. The shady side of the streets were much in demand yesterday afternoon by people who had been brought out by the bright sunshine.

September a Hot Month.

While this section is fussing and the fat man is cussing about the hot September weather, the records compiled by the local weather office show that so far Pittsburgh is rather fortunate, as none of the high temperatures of former Septembers all the way back to 1872 have paid this section a visit. The month has not yet gone, but the weather man hearing the cries of the people distressed by the heat, has promised to alleviate their suffering and predicts rain and cool weather for this section today.

Since 1872 the mercury has made some high records in Pittsburgh. In 1881 the highest temperature recorded during September was 102 degrees. This record was followed in 1884 by 100 degrees, and since then other high temperatures have been reached during the month. Out of the 33 years since 1872 the records show the highest temperature recorded during September has been 90 or higher in 22 different years.

During yesterday afternoon and evening there were several showers of rain, but they brought no relief, but by their frequency induced people who had to be on the streets to burden themselves with umbrellas.

The day's temperatures, furnished by the local weather office, follow:

12 midnight	74	11 a. m.	83
1 a. m.	73	12 noon	85
2 a. m.	72	1 p. m.	79
3 a. m.	72	2 p. m.	84
4 a. m.	72	3 p. m.	86
5 a. m.	72	4 p. m.	85
6 a. m.	72	5 p. m.	84
7 a. m.	72	6 p. m.	82

DISFIGURED WITH ECZEMA
Brushed Scales from Face Like Powder—Under Physicians Six Months But Grew Worse—Some Said Face Would Be Marked for Life—Now Without a Blemish.
CUTICURA REMEDIES WORK WONDERS
"As I was a sufferer with eczema I write to tell you what a great friend I found in Cuticura Remedies. In six months I had tried three doctors, but did not get any better. It was on my body and on my feet so thick that I could hardly put a pin on me without touching eczema. My face was covered, my eyebrows came out, and then it got in my eye. I then went to another doctor. He asked me what I was taking for it, and I told him Cuticura. He said that was a very good thing, but that he thought that my face would be marked for life. But Cuticura did its work and my face is now just as clear as it ever was.
"My brother-in-law told me about the wonderful Cuticura remedies. I took his advice and got the Ointment, Soap, and Resolvent. I washed with the Cuticura Soap and then applied the Ointment, and took Cuticura Resolvent as directed. In a short time my face began to get better, and when I had taken one bottle of Resolvent I could brush the scales off my face like a powder. When I had taken four bottles my face was as clear as ever.
"I told all my friends about my remarkable cure. I feel so thankful I want everybody far and wide to know what Cuticura can do." It is a sure cure for eczema. (signed) Mrs. Emma White, 641 Cherrier Place, Camden, N. J., April 25, 1905."

INQUIRES ABOUT BISHOP'S ESTATE

Spaniard Claims to Be Only Living Relative of Rt. Rev. Miguel Domeneck.

ASKS MAYOR HAYS TO HELP

After almost 27 years have elapsed since the death of that Rt. Rev. Miguel Domeneck, second bishop of the Pittsburgh diocese of the Roman Catholic church, inquiry is being made to learn what estate, if any, the prelate left in this city. The inquiry was received yesterday by Mayor Hays from a Spaniard, who claims to be a nephew of Bishop Domeneck and his only heir. Aside from a few old parisioners of the old St. Paul's cathedral, there are not many people now living who personally remember the only bishop who served as chief of the Pittsburgh and later of the Allegheny dioceses of the Catholic church.

> Dear Sir:—On February 22 of this year the consul of the United States in Tarragona, Spain, published a notice in the newspapers of this town, convocing the heirs of the bishop of Pittsburgh, deceased, on January 7, 1878. As I am the only living heir to the deceased bishop of Pittsburgh, the Rt. Rev. Miguel Domeneck, and my uncle by relation, I herewith beg to ask you whether deceased left any property, in what amount, and whether any heirs have presented themselves, with what right and whether the property left by the deceased has been left in deposit to the succeeding bishop, or whether the latter is still alive. In all, any information that you could possibly give me so as to put some light into this affair, will be received with best thanks.

The letter is signed by Domeneck S. Blanck of Castelar street, Reus, Tarragona, Spain. The newspaper notice mentioned in the letter was enclosed with the letter to the mayor.

So far as could be learned yesterday Bishop Domeneck left no estate in Pittsburgh. The priests spoken to on the matter last night stated that so far as they know Bishop Domeneck took all his possessions with him when he left Pittsburgh.

Bishop Domeneck served for a time as bishop of the Pittsburgh diocese after the death of the Rev. Rt. Rev. Michael O'Connor, the first bishop of Pittsburgh. Later the Allegheny diocese was erected and the territory embraced in the Pittsburgh diocese. Bishop Domeneck was appointed bishop of the Allegheny diocese and served in that capacity for about a year, when his health failed and he decided to travel in the hope of recovering his health. While sojourning in his native town in Spain Bishop Domeneck died.

Bishop John Tuigg was at the time of the death of Bishop Domeneck the bishop of Pittsburgh and at the death of Domeneck the Allegheny diocese was abolished and the territory again came under the jurisdiction of the bishop of Pittsburgh.

The only property so far as can be learned which was held in the name of Bishop Domeneck was the diocesan property, the property in the name of Bishop Domeneck was transferred at his death to his successor, Bishop Tuigg, as trustee. Since the death of Bishop Domeneck the Pittsburgh diocese has had three bishops —John Tuigg, Richard Phelan and J. F. Regis Canevin.

BATTLE AT JAIL DOOR.

Cries of Prisoner's Wife and Child Encourage Him in His Fight With Three Constables.

After a fierce battle, William Hamer was landed in jail last night on a commitment issued by Alderman Louis Alpern. He was arrested on a charge of assault and battery and for interfering with the execution of a legal proceeding on the information of Alderman Emil Spahr.

Constables James Glenn and Charles Tyler were given the warrant to serve. The prisoner fought with them from Alpern's office to the jail. A crowd of about 300 pedsons followed and among them were the prisoner's wife and child. In front of the jail the prisoner made a final effort to escape. He knocked down one constable and then the other. Constable James Simon from Allegheny was in the jail and went to the officers' assistance. The screams of Hamer's wife and child encouraged him to fight harder.

After a struggle, in which a number of blows were delivered on the prisoner's face, Hamer was pulled into jail. His clothes were in tatters and his face was badly cut from handybillies. The officers were exhausted and covered with blood from Hamer's face.

AUTO IS A HOODOO.

Prize Won in an Elks Lottery Is Sent to the Scrap Heep by Its Owner.

J. E. Larkin, a McKeesport music dealer, got an automobile in a lottery given by the McKeesport lodge of Elks. This was a year ago, but the prize has been a hoodoo ever since. The day after Larkin got it it ran into a curbstone and threw him and his daughter, both being painfully hurt. Another time the machine, which had no top, suddenly refused to budge, away out in the country and in a heavy rain storm. Larkin was soaked and nearly got pneumonia.

Yesterday the devilish wagon cut up dire capers. Larkin and the same daughter, Miss Etta, were coming down steep Jenny Lind street when the gasoline tank exploded, setting the machine on fire. The two occupants leaped out and the machine leaped on, flames spurting in all directions. Somebody turned in a fire alarm and hose company No. 1 stopped the machine and deluged it with water. Mr. and Miss Larkin were painfully bruised in their leap for life.

Now Larkin has decided to relegate the machine to the scrap heap, because of the series of accidents.

WORRIES OVER ASSAULT.

Mrs. Anna Holmes Takes Laudanum, but Is Pumped Out in Time.

Worrying over an assault made upon her two weeks ago, Mrs Anna Holmes of 1823 Fifth avenue, McKeesport, yesterday took laudanum with suicidal intent. She was hurried to the hospital and the laudanum was pumped out.

Two weeks ago Mrs. Holmes was attacked by a man on a bridge in McKeesport and her clothes were nearly torn off. She escaped and notified the police. A man who was sentenced to the workhouse for another offense will, upon his release, be rearrested and charged with the assault upon Mrs. Holmes.

ARTHUR G. MARSHALL IS BROUGHT BACK TO TOWN

Fugitive from Justice is Accused of Embezzlement and Sent to Jail.

Arthur G. Marshall, the alleged insurance swindler, was brought back yesterday from New York by Detective Cecil G. Rice. Marshall was lodged in jail. He was brought here on requisition papers issued by Governor Pennypacker, an indictment charging him with embezzlement of $10,000 from the Duquesne Insurance Company having been brought by the grand jury. In addition to this indictment there are five others, charging him with embezzling money from the North American and Lafayette insurance companies. The suits are brought by alleged victims of the operations of Marshall and Frank Dunbar, his partner, and are backed by several well-to do farmers, whom Marshall and Dunbar are said to have induced by false representations to become stockholders and directors in the companies.

Arthur G. Marshall.

The books of the company were secured by the receiver appointed by the courts on the application of F. L. Kahle, attorney for several persons who insured with the companies, whose houses burned down and who say they recelvd no insurance money. It is alleged that Marshall and Dunbar collected $20,000 in insurance premiums during the last two years, and that the money has disappeared from the treasury of the companies, and is represented by alleged purchases of stock in bogus industrial corporations.

Attorney McCready of the firm of McCready & Moore yesterday called on Marshall at the Central police station, accompanied by Marshall's wife. They talked together three hours. It is probable that efforts will be made today to secure Marshall's release on bail.

ENDEAVORERS INCREASING.

Good Reports Are Presented to the Allegheny County Union. Officers Elected.

The executive committee of the Allegheny County Christian Endeavor union opened its first fall and winter session last night at the Third United Presbyterian church, Allegheny. President W. E. Steiner presided over an assemblage composed of representatives of 60 societies.

The Rev. W. A. Phillips, pastor of the Lincoln Avenue United Presbyterian church, opened the exercises with prayer. Miss Nan L. Hunter, superintendent of the junior class, read a report showing an enrollment of 108 societies, an increase of 33 since the first of the year. A district rally will be held in the Wilkinsburg Presbyterian church on Sunday, when a native of Japan will deliver an address.

President J. M. Copeland of the Allegheny city branch, reported the result of the court. The report of Miss Margaret G. King, corresponding secretary, showed an enrollment of 108 junior societies, 3 intermediate societies, and 207 young people's societies, a total of 328. The membership numbers 15,000.

The following officers were elected: J. M. Copeland; vice president, W. H. Topson; recording secretary, Miss Jamison; treasurer, W. H. Keller; corresponding secretary, Miss Annie Haight; junior superintendent, Miss Mary Cort; intermediate superintendent, A. R. King.

It was decided that October 12 would be Christian Endeavor night at the Exposition.

SPEER IS RECOMMENDED FOR POSITION IN SCHOOLS

Joseph M. Speer, brother of Detective William M. Speer, was recommended last night for the position of supervisor of the industrial schools of the city of Allegheny. The report to the board of controllers was made by the industrial committee. The position was left vacant by the resignation of Clifford B. Connelley, who goes to the Carnegie Technical schools. Mr. Speer has been a teacher in the industrial departments of the Fifth, Sixth and Ninth wards for several years and has a good record for efficiency. The committee recommended that Mr. Speer be paid the same salary as was drawn by Prof. Connelley.

O'Brien Said to Be Found.

Manager W. J. Woods of the local branch of the tobacco company which employed George W. O'Brien, the man who is said to have disappeared on Friday, said yesterday that O'Brien had been found yesterday in Monongahela and had been sent to his aunt in Easton. Woods says O'Brien had a sunstroke last July and seems to be in a dazed condition.

Carnegie Library Strike On.

The strike of various crafts of the Carnegie library addition contruction is still on, and nobody knows when it will be called off. The labor unions deny responsibility for the strike, and say it was not called, but the men quit work as individuals. The strikers say the employment of non-union roofers caused the trouble.

CITY RECEIVES PRESENT FROM BIG CORPORATION

Castle Shannon Railroad Company Breaks All Precedents and Receipts Bill in Full for Courtesies Extended—Controller Larkin Is Dazed.

"This is the only case on record of a corporation making a gift to the city," said Controller Larkin yesterday, as he exhibited a bill from the Castle Shannon Railroad Company for the sum of $87.50 which had been marked by the company, "Receipted in full for courtesies extended by the bureau of highways and sewers."

The bill was for hauling and other charges, due since 1903. The controller gravely made the following notation on the back of the bill and filed it among the archives of his office:

"One case of corporate gratitude."

"An official of the company came into the office yesterday and told me that he had an old bill against the city and wanted to know what to do with it," said the controller. "I told him that old bills against the city got rough sledding in this office. I said that I had a lot of them on my desk, which he could have cheap. I said his bill would have little chance of going through, but that he might present it and I would do the rest. He said he was thinking the best plan would be to make the city a present of the bill receipted in full for favors which the company had received from the bureau of highways and sewers.

"The favors, I believe, were some street sweeping which the bureau did for the company free of charge. When he said he was thinking of making the city a present I said that it was a good idea and encouraged him to do it. I wish there were more people with bills against the city of the same way of thinking. He said he would think the matter over and today brought in the bill, as you see, receipted in full.

"This is certainly a remarkable case. This bill ought to be framed and posted conspicuously on the walls of the city hall. I have never heard of the like before and I don't expect it to occur again in my time." The bill was receipted by W. R. Woodford of the Castle Shannon company.

WEAVER SLATE TO GO THROUGH

POLITICAL RENEGRADES IN LINE

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
Press Building,
PHILADELPHIA, PA., Sept. 19.

While the City party managers refuse to admit that they have slated a ticket which will be nominated at their convention tomorrow, it is generally understood that Mayor Weaver's selections will be agreed upon. The administration today succeeded in forcing Councilman Crothers to withdraw as a candidate for sheriff. This makes certain the nomination of Councilman Wilson H. Brown, the mayor's favorite.

Dr. R. B. Burns is Weaver's choice for coroner and Rudolph Blankenburg and ex-Magistrate J. M. R. Jermon are the men he has picked for county commissioners. Both men have an almost prehistoric record as "reformers." Mr. Blankenburg has never been pleased with the Republican administration of state and local affairs. In the Union party, now eliminated, Blankenburg was strenuously active and his unexpended energy he has now generously donated to the Lincoln and City party "reform" movements.

Ex-Magistrate Jermon's prominence is not as great as that of Mr. Blankenburg. He, as magistrate, was favored with the political suits instituted by the reformers, enjoying a patronige now monopolized by Magistrate Eisenbrown, who Mayor Weaver, after his break with the Republican leaders, had transferred to Central station. Arno Lenhardt and others are also mentioned as possible nominees, but if the mayor controls the convention Blankenburg and Jermon will be the lucky numbers.

The War Veterans' association this afternoon adopted resolutions indorsing the Republican county ticket. Lieut.-Gov. William M. Brown of New Castle was one of the many callers today at Republican state headquarters.

"The Republicans of Lawrence and adjoining counties will deliver their usual off-year majorities for the state ticket," Mr. Brown said to Chairman Andrews. "I have not heard of any disaffection in the western counties, or, in fact, in any part of the state.

"Republicans throughout the commonwealth understand the situation in Philadelphia. If they are in any manner influenced it is in the direction of renewed and redoubled effort to increase the party majority, thus adding to the discomfiture of the political renegades who are trying to wreck it. These so-called 'reformers' are not fooling the people. They have fought the Republican organization of Pennsylvania under a half dozen political aliases and were always beaten."

Director of Public Safety Potter has ordered all members of the police and fire departments to resign from Republican ward committees. The order is being obeyed as dismissal is the penalty. This is the first move since Mayor Weaver's speech Saturday night, when he pledged his administration to the defeat of the Republican county ticket.

MAKE ORDER WELCOME.

Independent Americans Hold Their Annual Convention in McKeesport. Treasurer Declines Re-Election.

The annual meeting of the state council of the Independent Order of Americans convened yesterday in Elkin hall, McKeesport, with 250 delegates in attendance. J. Denny O'Neil welcomed the delegates on behalf of the Tube City council No. 378, and Mayor Falkenstein bade them welcome to the city, saying "anything but murder goes." The following officers were nominated and will be elected today: For state councilor, Harry E. Walter, Philadelphia; state vice councilor, H. H. Marcus, McKeesport; state secretary, W. A. Pike, Philadelphia; state treasurer, W. A. Hendrickson, Duquesne, and James A. Hoyt, Philadelphia.

Allentown and Erie were placed in nomination for the meeting of 1906. Evan G. Badger, treasurer of the order, declined to stand for re-election, not being a representative in the state body. There was a parade last night, headed by a platoon of police. Deputy Mayor Peter Langsdorf was chief marshal and John F. O'Connell was chief of staff.

BRINGS PLANS FOR $1,000,000 CATHEDRAL

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 19.—Archbishop John J. Glennon, head of the Catholic archdiocese of St. Louis, who has been abroad for two months, returned today, bringing with him plans for the erection of a $1,000,000 cathedral. He visited architects in Paris and Berlin for the purpose, and states that the proposed St. Louis cathedral will be one of the most imposing in the country.

Waive Hearing and Give Bail.

Clif Ellis, Alex. Moulton and Thomas Welch, who were arrested in a raid on the Commercial club by county detectives and Constable T. A. Joyce, appeared before Alderman Toole yesterday, waived a hearing and furnished bond for their appearance at court.

TROLLEY CASE DECIDED BY ATTORNEY GENERAL

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

HARRISBURG, Sept. 19.—Attorney General Carson gave an opinion today on the application for a writ of quo warranto against the Grant & Liberty Street Railway Company. The application, which is similar in substance to one instituted by the district attorney of Allegheny county to December term, 1904, is allowed. The attorney general is of the opinion that such an application was not within the powers of the district attorney, inasmuch as writs of quo waranto to test grants of sovereignty made by the state were entirely under the control of the attorney general and not within the powers of a local officer. In this view, he says that he has been sustained by the courts, and the question of power may be considered at rest.

Referring to the alleged fraudulent manner in which the charter was obtained by the Grant & Liberty Street Railway Company in using names other than the real incorporators, etc., the attorney general says that all these charges are specifically denied by the respondent. Thus issues of facts are raised which the attorney general has no means of determining, as he lacks the power and the machinery of a judicial tribunal. Continuing, the attorney general says:

"Plainly these matters are proper facts for a judicial inquiry and in granting the application as to them, I express no opinion whatever upon the merits."

The opinion concludes as follows: "In my judgment the courts of the locality where a controversy such as this arises are the best judges of its merits. Their local knowledge, their knowledge of the parties, of the witnesses and of the topography of the region, as well as the convenience of the parties themselves, their counsel and their witnesses, should not be disregarded except for grave cause. No such cause appearing, I select the courts of Allegheny county as the forum of trial."

GOES BACK TO WASHINGTON.

Must Answer to Charges of Kidnaping His Own Children and Contempt of Court.

James H. Broderick was taken back to Washington, D. C., last night, to answer a charge of kidnaping his own children. Broderick, who is a compositor on the Washington Star, is divorced. His former wife had the children and last Wednesday he took them and came to Pittsburgh. He was arrested on a telegram from Washington and locked up. Monday habeas corpus proceedings to secure his liberty were instituted and the case came before Judge Frazer yesterday morning.

In the meantime Detective Sergeant T. P. Hartigan of Washington had come after Broderick. United States Marshal Stone went into court and explained to Judge Frazer that it was a United States case, as Broderick had acted in contempt of an order of the District of Columbia court. Judge Frazer dismissed the habeas corpus proceedings and turned Broderick over to Marshal Stone. The latter took his prisoner before United States Commissioner Lindsey. He waived a hearing and agreed to return to Washington.

Broderick was kept in the federal building during the day, the children were brought in from Tioga street, where he had placed them, and last night Broderick went back in charge of Assistant United States Marshal Henry and Detective Hartigan.

OLD MEMORIES RENEWED.

Fiftieth Anniversary of High School Founding to Be Celebrated by Reunion and Meeting.

The semi-centennial committee of the central board of education last night agreed upon the official program, so far as the board is concerned, for the celebration of the 50th anniversary of the founding of the high school. There will be a reunion and meeting, to be held in the chapel of the old high school at Fulton and Bedford streets.

The meeting will begin at 2 p. m. John H. Kerr, who left school in his graduating year to serve in the army during the rebellion, will speak on "The High School and the Civil War;" the Rev. James H. Boice, a son of the first janitor, will speak on "Philotus Dean, A. M.;" the Rev. Henry Berkowitz of Philadelphia will talk on "The Wood Street School;" D. L. Gillespie, president of the central board, and Prof. Rynearson, director of high schools, will speak on "Our Later Schools." All the speakers but Kerr are graduates of the high school.

Yesterday's Review of New Millinery For Autumn.

Cordial expressions regarding the exhibit, both from the point of variety and the artistic work upon the models displayed, go far toward spurring us to renewed endeavors to give women the very finest millinery for the very lowest prices.

The gathering yesterday to view the pretty conceits of the millinery art was a characteristic one, and an invitation is again extended to all women interested in everything new and beautiful for wear upon the head, to be present today and look over these exhibits.

We are making a specialty this year of pretty and inexpensive trimmed hats—hats that sell for $5.00, $7.50 and on up to $10.00, $12.00 and $15.00. We say we are making a specialty of this grade of trimmed hats, and it is along these lines that the fame of our Millinery Department has broadened out.

Of course, for women who are prone to want the best, we have the finest and most attractive creations that noted Paris modistes have brought out for the Autumn of 1905. Some of these Paris models are rather costly, on the other hand, the deft fingers of our expert milliners have made true copies of them, so true they can scarcely be told apart, and the price of the Pittsburgh model is far and away below the stunning conception from Paris.

If you are attracted by handsome appointments and a variety of millinery unequaled in this city, you will be pleased to spend a pleasant hour or two in this department today.

The Dolls Extend an Invitation.

Tomorrow the latest arrivals in dolls will receive in Aisle No. 6, West Store. These dolls were just taken out of the Custom House and have yet to make acquaintance with the little girls of Pittsburg, therefore the reception tomorrow.

Not only are the dolls themselves new and beautiful, but their dresses are models of doll fashions.

They are on sale, of course, 10c to $25.00.

New Stocking Darner—Used on Sewing Machine.

The inventive genius of women often asserts itself. This time a woman invents this idea of darning stockings by an attachment which is worked by the aid of a sewing machine.

Thus the darning of stockings becomes a pastime instead of a worry.

Never shown before in Pittsburg. Call at Notion Department and the demonstrator will show how it works, or you can see it in operation at our Basketry Booth, Exposition.

Wednesday, September 20, 1905.

Gov. Hanley of Indiana is pursuing former Auditor Sherrick with bitter denunciation, which serves to keep the Hoosier state more agitated than if a new poet had been discovered. The occasional washing of dirty state linen is necessary, but it is just as well not to splash in the suds afterward.

Another advance in crude oil prices was announced yesterday. It had been indicated by the previous day's advance in refined, it being the rule of the Standard Oil Company to preserve a fair relation between the two quotations, ever since the speculative market ceased to have influence. It is good while it lasts, though it spells ruin for the Russian producers.

Because the New York police have got no further with the case of a murdered girl than to attach suspicion to a man who has disappeared, the New York Herald calls attention to the inefficiency of the metropolitan police. There is justice in its complaint. Here in Pittsburgh when a case of mysterious death occurs the police say "suicide" and save themselves the trouble of hunting for a murderer. New York police have much to learn.

Lively doings are reported from Bogota again. Gen. Rafael Reyes, who will be remembered as the special envoy sent here to protest against American recognition of Panama, has declared himself dictator and imprisoned the members of the supreme court. This has naturally led to rioting and a revolution is on. The Colombian government is oftener in a state of eruption than the Colombian volcanoes, but the people appear to prefer to have it that way.

Negroes of Nashville, Tenn., who, as is the case in most southern cities, have been discriminated against by the traction company, with sanction of the law, have decided to operate a line of motor cars for their own accommodation. White persons will not be barred from the cars, which are planned to give the local traction company some wholesome competition. The experiment is an unusually interesting one which, if successful, will doubtless be followed in other cities where similar conditions prevail.

Internal Revenue Commissioner Yerkes has entered upon an explanation regarding his recent order to tax certain patent medicine vendors as dealers in liquor. The commissioner may be right, but it would seem a committee of physicians might be more able to judge the medicinal qualities of a compound than an internal revenue collector. It was the custom of our grandfathers to have their "bottle of bitters" and each was his own judge of the proportion of spirits and roots. Have not manufacturers the same right in compounding without paying liquor taxes?

The recommendation of the executive board of the American Bankers' association that members be prohibited from compromising with persons charged with crime, is most commendable. As has been said: "A man who steals $5,000 goes to the penitentiary, but a man who steals $250,000 and can pay back half has a chance to compromize and get out." The knowledge that a compromise of this character might be carried out has doubtless helped to swell the number of defaulters in positions of trust. The proposed action by the Bankers' association should be taken on business as well as on ethical grounds.

The relative importance of heredity and environment in the development of child character has been the subject of countless discussions. Luther Burbank, the horticulturist, offered an interesting contribution in a recent address and, as might be expected, laid especial stress upon environment, saying: "There is no doubt if a child with a vicious temper be placed in an environment of peace and quiet, the temper will change. Let a child born of criminal parents have a setting of morality and decency, and the chances are he will grow into an upright man. As time goes on, environment will crystallize the American nation, making the finest human product ever known." From under-estimation of the influence of heredity, a good many persons have come to over-estimate its importance. Heredity cannot be changed; environment can. Full recognition of the latter's importance would seem to be the part of practical wisdom.

Dr. Levy's Mission.

Dr. J. Leonard Levy is home from a mission in the interest of humanity that must be assigned place in the foremost rank of individual efforts. By the enterprise of The Gazette and the skill of its staff correspondent, Jerome Nordman, the people of Pittsburgh were made acquainted, yesterday morning, with the details of Dr. Levy's benevolent project and the measure of success attending its presentation.

Dr. Levy is modest in relating the results of his effort. He has hopes that something will come from it to bless his race and to aid the peace of the world. Before he disclosed, through The Gazette, his plan for a buffer state in Manchuria, the world had knowledge from the peace envoys of some powerful influence working for the amelioration of the condition of the Russian Jews. There can be little doubt this was one of the subjects of secret discussion at Portsmouth or that Japanese pressure, inspired by Rabbi Levy's proposition, had its effect in obtaining from Sergius Witte the promise given to Mr. Seligman of New York.

Russia will give the Jews better treatment; that is almost certain. It is another matter whether a buffer state will be created in Manchuria. There is good reason to believe Japan will do its best toward that end. If China will consent, as it well may, Russia will almost certainly welcome the opportunity to assist Jewish emigration into the new land. There can be no question the rulers of Russia recognize the present condition of the Jews in Poland and in the region toward the Black sea as a menace to internal peace. They would gladly separate those Jewish subjects from their hostile neighbors, and they would probably prefer sending the Jews away to according them justice at home. The greatest difficulty is likely to be obtaining the consent of China and gaining the assent of the Russian Jews to removal.

There are many material obstacles to overcome before Dr. Levy's plan can be carried out, if ever, but even if it fails the luster of his grand effort is hardly dimmed. In any event he has pled the cause of justice and to some purpose. He has enlisted sympathy in Japan for an oppressed people and he has forcibly brought to the attention of Russia the injustice it has been doing, for which it has been execrated around the globe. This is much for one man to do. The Gazette welcomes him back to Pittsburgh and is proud because this envoy of peace and of humanity went forth from here.

Nature's Kindness.

Some short-sighted people have been complaining of the unseasonable temperature. They have simply suffered some personal discomfort that this great country may revel in the elysian fields of prosperity. Out through the Middle West, a week ago, were millions of acres of the tallest, heaviest-eared corn that ever gladdened the eye of man, not ripe for the harvest. Today that corn is ready for the knife of the gleaner. When the frost comes it can do little damage.

Nature has been kind. Every one of these days that have added to the sweat of the brow by which men earn bread has been worth a million dollars. Not all to the men who own farms in the prairie corn belt—there is some for the miller, some for the stockowner and some even for the dwellers in the towns who eat roast ribs of beef and fried ham. There is such a store of wealth in a billion bushels of corn that it reaches clear around to the fat boy who smiles fondly over the hot dodger in the morning.

When poor mortals grumble at the weather they little know what they are doing. They measure universal needs by one person's desires, or more broadly by the welfare of a township. Fortunately the weather is beyond their control, regulated by a power that sees all and that precipitates the rain upon the just and the unjust alike.

Fixing the Blame.

A writer in the Outlook wishes somebody would write a handbook on tipping, telling Americans just what is the proper fee for every little service rendered by menials abroad, in order that Uncle Sam's nieces and nephews may not only save their pocketbooks, but their reputation for always knowing the right thing to do. While there is a limited field for such a book, owing to American ignorance of continental and English customs, we doubt whether it would do much good, after all, for the reason that readers would not be likely to follow the advice given them.

The fact is, Americans are responsible in large measure for the annoyingly expensive proportions attained by the tipping custom abroad. In most European countries ancient custom has prescribed the amount of the small gratuities to be given waiter, "boots," barber, cabman, chambermaid, etc. Until the American invasion of Europe, servants expected no more than the tips established by custom. When Americans travel abroad they like to spend money; they travel "first-class" when second class is often equally comfortable, and they pay higher prices than do natives for the same accommodations at hotels. In their desire to be known as "spenders," they receive the enthusiastic co-operation of landlords and shopkeepers. So in tips. For a trifling service worth 5 cents, the American hands out a quarter with easy grace. He, perhaps, can afford it, but the next American who falls into the hands of that waiter or cabman may have a slender purse. Unless he tips with equal munificence, he is liable to embarrassment and even insult. The result is, Americans have raised the size of the average tip throughout Europe about 500 per cent. Let us remember, when growling about the tip nuisance on our next trip abroad, the part played by our well-meaning but over-liberal countrymen.

Railroad Rate Bill.

United States Senator Elkins stated in New York yesterday the committee on interstate commerce, of which he is chairman, will have a railroad rate bill ready to present at the opening of the session of congress December 1. This marks progress. Mr. Elkins did not disclose the nature of the bill, but ventured the opinion it will satisfy the demand of President Roosevelt and the public.

From other sources there is information the senate bill will follow the lines suggested by Samuel Spencer, when he appeared before the house committee. Mr. Spencer, in brief, suggested a special commerce court, or special sittings for commerce cases of the circuit courts, these to pass on appeals from decisions of the interstate commerce commission; no appeal from these decisions except on points to law, such appeals not to act as a stay; to bring private car lines, fast freight lines and water lines within the jurisdiction of the commission; relieve carriers of existing prohibitions against making reasonable agreements among themselves for the purpose of making lawful rates, these agreements subject to approval by the interstate commerce commission.

A fair bill may be constructed along these lines. Great care will be necessary to properly restrict pooling agreements and to guard against giving government aid to a general advance in rates under such agreements. A special commerce court or commerce sessions of circuit courts appear proper whether the reasonable rate adjudged by the commission shall take effect on decision by such court, as Mr. Spencer suggests, or terminate on such decision after being put in effect by the commission, as provided in the Townsend-Esch bill. In any event it is gratifying to know the senate committee has heard the popular demand for a law that will regulate rates and will have the bill ready when congress meets. The public will know more definitely whether the demand is being met when the provisions of the bill are made public.

Revise the Tariff.

All hail! Our wise contemporary, the Leader, has discovered there is a tariff question. Yesterday it said:

> The views thus expressed by Dr. Holland are certainly not those of an alarmist, nor are they incompatible with trade conditions which have altered materially since the McKinley tariff law was enacted. Undoubtedly the changes which have come to pass need to be met with new legislation, or rather with intelligent revision of the old.

The Leader is not often as accurate as this. Conditions, it says, "have altered materially since the McKinley tariff law was enacted." How true. "Undoubtedly the changes which have come to pass (since 1890) need to be met with new legislation, or rather with intelligent revision of the old." Carry the news to William L. Wilson, deceased, and to Nelson Dingley. The Leader has given a hesitating, partial indorsement to the efforts of both.

When the Leader on August 16 informed its readers that William H. Berry had just been nominated "with equal unanimity" and was, therefore, a good man to vote for there was some wonder as to when it would catch up with the procession. This sapient discussion of the tariff situation is convincing that it is making heroic efforts. Like Kuropatkin, who promised to dictate terms of peace in Tokyo, and started at top speed in the other direction by the long way around. When will the Leader reach the point where Mark Hanna decided to "stand pat?"

A New York man who has just returned from Europe, and was seasick both going and coming, proposes to sue the steamship company for the value of the meals he didn't get. He has no case in court, but we can understand now how the steamer people are able to pay such big dividends.

The proprietor of a piece of land bordering the Niagara river rapids has put up a sign reading: "Please do not commit suicide from these premises." While the penalty to be imposed is not stated, no gentleman would disregard such a courteous request.

A Minnesota bachelor has declined a nomination for high office because he said he couldn't stand the ordeal of kissing the babies. In politics, as in other walks of life, the seasoned married man stands the best chance.

Somebody now wants to know why Grover Cleveland was not "summoned to that Bryan banquet" in Chicago. Grover always was more of a summoner than a summonee.

The suggestion of a Connecticut Yankee that phonographs be utilized to swear at the Panama canal mules emphasizes the tendency to replace men with machinery.

While Mr. Bryan is away we will all try to think of some good men for the Democratic presidential nomination.

"War is a moral medicine," declares a magazine writer. Nicholas believes it is possible to get an overdose.

It has now been proposed to try some Indian labor on the Panama canal. Digger Indians, probably.

Just as we are congratulating ourselves on the ending of the war, the football season starts.

M. Witte directed the concert on board ship. Baron Komura will face the music a little later.

In this weather we don't mind even if our best friends give us the cold shoulder.

THE PRIMITIVE TOOLS OF CHINESE FARMERS

While Not Bearing Favorable Comparison With Ours Yet They Do Good Work.

F. A. Gannon writing in the Toronto World about the characteristics of the Chinese says that "John Chinaman is a poor farmer, because he is one hundred years behind the times in the appliances he uses to till the soil. For instance, in the collection of the Peabody museum in Salem, Mass., a Chinese plow has a single handle, and an iron shoe, but it contains wood enough to build a house, and the wood is put together in such an awkward puzzling manner that one opens his eyes in wonder at it, especially a long curved arm that sticks out ahead of the shoe like an inverted bowsprit.

A rake, with four iron prongs, and a hoe, look like reasonable implements, as does a barrow, but a water raiser is a device that one would expect to meet only in clumsy, slow moving China. The water raiser looks something like the endless belts used as conveyors in many American factories. But it is built entirely of wood. Its joints are cleverly hinged, however. The belts revolve, as it scoops up water, but a small American boy, with a small American pump, would drown that Chinese water raiser in about three minutes.

Characteristic Chinese Implement.

A buck saw is a characteristic Chinese implement. Its teeth are set backwards exactly opposite to the American ways, its frame is of hard wood, but it is stiffened up with twisted bamboo, just as an old-time New England saw used to be tightened up with twisted hemp. A Chinese plane consists of a block of hard wood, through which a blade has been forced, and is held fixed in its place. Chinese rules and squares look like common sense tools, except that they are marked with the queer Mongolian hieroglyphics. A Chinese hatchet has a square head and although it is fully 1¼ inches thick in its thickest part, yet it is ground down to such a keen edge that a lusty Yankee would have little trouble to split the morning kindling with it. And a New York mason would have no trouble using a Chinese trowel, except that he might not find the union label beneath the mortar that still sticks to the iron.

One part of the Chinese exhibit is this museum that gives a man a shudder is that containing the Chinese barber tools. A Chinese tonsorial artist would skin an American a mile, for fact, not slang, or at least, it looks as if that would happen if he got the unfortunate "Melican" man into the chair. A typical Chinese razor has a blade about two inches long, and a third of an inch thick at its heel. This blade is jointed to a handle as thick as a fat lead pencil. Possibly its edge was once keen but the blade was never concaved, and it now looks as if it would do a fair job for a school boy. Other razors are much like it.

Not As Clumsy as Their Tools.

However, it must not be presumed that the Chinese are clumsy because their tools look so. They can outcarve any nation. Some beautiful specimens of ivory carving from China—boats, temples, flowers and other articles—are contained in this museum, and, in particular, is an ivory sphere about six inches in diameter, containing 12 and 20 movable spheres, each one of the 12 and the 20 being inside the other, and each being carved with delicate tracings. How in the world it was ever done in a Chinese puzzle; also a testimonial to Chinese skill and patience.

The ways of the Chinese are peculiar, according to Bret Harte, but the demand of the Chinese is for modern goods in the hardware and other lines, according to George E. Anderson, U. S. consul at Hankau, China, and other authorities. China is credited with originating the mariner's compass, printing, gunpowder, poker, and many other devices, good and bad, but despite her early start in civilization, her people are today sadly lacking many of the necessities of an up-to-date world. Therefore there are markets in China for modern American goods, and, according to various reports, certain American goods have gained a little foothold in coast cities and trading towns, just a tiny grip on China's mass of 400,000,000 people. "There's millions in it," is the vain opinion of the Chinese trade, promulgated by the dreamy Col. Sellers, but it remained for the hustling Yankee, German and Englishman to realize Sellers' vision in ways most practical and profitable.

Queer Hardware.

Queer hardware is to be found in China and some choice specimens of it have been collected in the Peabody museum in Salem, Mass. Chinese agricultural implements and Chinese carpenter and mason tools are peculiar, in the sense that Bret Harte uses the word, and other Chinese things are picturesque.

For instance, a Chinese gentleman of the old school takes his cutlery with him when he goes to dine, a nice assortment of private chop sticks, a keen, thin-bladed knife six inches long, and a fan, all of which fold up in the peculiar Chinese way, and is carried in the girdle, the pants pocket of the shirted Mongolians. Several fine specimens of these chop sticks are contained in the museum.

Some Chinese guns and weapons are wonderful tools of the warrior's art. One match lock gun is ten feet long and its butt and stocks look like a piece of timber. It is matched by a spearlike sword equally high and more ferocious, for it has a sawlike edge and a spike prong. Two handed swords are six feet long, and several cannon suggest those old revolutionary guns that are stuck up in New England towns for hitching posts. A whole arsenal of these monstrous weapons would not stand up for ten minutes against a modern repeating rifle, or even a Rough Rider with a couple of [illegible] Colts.

A dotchin is a curious looking Chinese scale. Its method of use is not apparent. It consists of a hard wood pole six feet long and its swivel and also its platform chain are at the same end. Some small and peculiar looking balances made largely of wood, are used for weighing gold.

WOMAN TO DESIGN CORSETS FOR MEN

Mme. Wade Will Endeavor to Build Up the Masculine Figure.

By FRANK A. PARKER.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Mme. Linda Ross Wade is no longer vice president of the National Dressmakers' association. In future you will find Mme. Wade, late of Masonic temple, engaged in a new occupation, and in no less an enterprise than designing corsets for men. Mme. Wade says that after building up the human figure and the National Dressmakers' association at the same time, her efforts have not been appreciated, and that Manager M. F. Rubens of the association, after promising to pay her according to the extent she made good, has balked at the proposition.

In a nutshell this is what Mme. Wade is going to do. She is going to build a corset which will be just the thing for mere man. "My corset demonstrations in regard to women were founded on a study of physiology," said Mme. Wade, "that is why they were so successful. Now this corset for man will be built on the same principle, only, of course, it will be nothing like the woman's corset. The man's corset will not go in at the waist, but it will be constructed so as to support the abdomen. There is no more excuse for a man having a big stomach than a woman. Men's stomachs can be reduced the same as women's by the correct wearing of corsets. Men's corsets must be constructed so as to lift up the stomach."

Another Old Landmark Gone.

Wreckers today began the preliminary work of demolishing the old Boreel building at Broadway, Cedar, Thames and Temple streets. Like its neighbor, the old Trinity building, it will soon be replaced by a modern skyscraper, far more ornate and spacious than the present building. The Holland society some years ago placed a tablet on the present building with this inscription: "The site of Lieut.-Gov. Delancey's home, later the City hotel. It was here that the important agreement in opposition to the stamp act was signed, October 31, 1765.

"It was also known as the Province Arms, the Liberty Arms and Burns' coffee house tavern." The site, including the City hotel, was bought by John Jacob Astor in 1828 for $121,004. His daughter, Sarah, married Robert Boreel in 1842 and received the property as her dowry. In 1901 the property was sold for $2,225,000.

Another Man Refuses to Run.

Justice William J. Gaynor will not run for mayor. He has written a letter to John Brooks Leavitt stating that he will not permit the use of his name for first place on the fusion ticket. Mr. Leavitt is a prominent member of the Citizens union. The Citizens union has been making overtures to the Republicans today with a view of getting back into the fusion movement. It looks, however, as though all the men mentioned for the mayoralty nomination agree with Lou Payn that there is no hope of winning.

Largest School Building Completed.

The last of 4,055 seats was screwed down to the top floor and men are busy today cleaning up the litter left by carpenters, cabinetmakers, painters and plasterers in the largest school building in the city. The new building covers nearly a block of ground, fronting one whole block in Hester street, between Essex and Norfolk, and running back nearly 150 feet in Essex street and 100 feet in Norfolk street, where it joins public school No. 75, where 2,600 children are already at their classes. If the two buildings were calculated together, and they are really the same as one, they would together comprise a school of over 6,600 pupils.

Metropolitan Museum Is Growing.

Park Commissioner Pallas has filed with Building Superintendent Hopper plans for the new north annex of the Metropolitan museum in Central park, opposite Eighty-third street. It is to be a two-story and basement edifice, with large courts on the east and west, lighted by windows ornamented with arches supported by columns. The facade is to be of ornamental brick, trimmed with limestone and harmonizing with the existing building. There is to be a large lecture hall two and one-half stories high, with a domed ceiling.

Only Awaiting Gov. Higgins.

When Gov. Higgins returns from Europe the latter part of this week it is expected that he will announce the committee of 50 he is to appoint in connection with the committee of a similar number appointed by the mayor to have charge of the proposed permanent world's fair to be established at Verplanck's Point to mark the 300th anniversary of the discovery of the Hudson river in 1609. The plan is to call a mass meeting of the citizens, at which the whole project for a great steel and brick building, to cost $6,000,000, and to be the largest building in the world ever built for an exhibition, is to be set forth.

SOME GOOD STORIES OF PITH AND MOMENT

Gossipy Chat and Anecdote of Entertaining and Instructive Character.

A watchman who has been engaged by the directors of an Australian bank had brought with him good recommendations. The chairman of the board sent for him and proceeded to "post him up" as to his duties.

"Well, James," he began, "this is your first job of this kind, isn't it?"

"Yes, sir."

"Your duty must be to exercise vigilance."

"Yes, sir."

"No stranger must be allowed to enter the bank at night under any pretext whatever."

"No, sir."

"And our manager—he is a good man, honest and trustworthy; but it will be your duty to keep your eye on him."

"But it will be hard to watch two men and the bank at the same time."

"Two men? How?"

"Why, sir, it was only yesterday that the manager called me in for a talk, and he said you were one of the best men in the city, but it would be just as well to keep both eyes on you and let the directors know if you hung about after hours."—London Answers.

Kindness Unappreciated.

Magistrate Crane tells this story of his experience with a young lawyer in the Essex Market police court.

When his case was called he stepped on the bridge alongside of his client, dressed in the height of East Side fashion. His left hand was literally covered with huge diamonds. In the course of his argument he drifted from the case altogether into an essay on the morals of the law.

"My dear young man," said the magistrate, "get back onto the straight path again and then do your arguing. You're entirely off the legal course."

He colored deeply and Magistrate Crane regretted not being more tolerant.

"Don't worry, however," he said kindly, "but just do that and I'll be better able to follow the thread of your contention."

"Glad to accommodate your honor!" the young lawyer shouted with great deliberation. "You see I thought you did not quite comprehend my argument. I am dealing with a very complicated point of law and I suspected that it might be too intricate for your honor to follow at the rate I was going."—New York Tribune.

No Need of a Key.

It happened during the recent visit of Secretary Taft. Several of them were debating on the important affairs of the city, when one of the company suggested that it would be a graceful and courteous thing if those who preside over the municipality out at the City hall would present the war secretary with the keys of the city.

"Well, I can't quite comprehend what good the keys of the city would be to Secretary Taft or any one else," quietly suggested Gavin McNab, "in view of the fact that San Francisco is a wide open town."—San Francisco Chronicle.

Got Rid of His Dog.

The junior partner entered the office with his face aglow.

"What's up? Inherited a fortune?" asked his partner.

"No. Better than that! It's about my dog. You see, when my wife went abroad this year she insisted that I spend the summer at one of the suburbs. To console myself last week I bought a dog.

"The first night the landlady informed me that the dog was mad, and that she would not keep him another day. So I started out to get rid of him. But this was sooner said than done. I tried to drown him, but I was so fond of him that when he struggled to come out I let him. I tied him to a cart at some distance from the house, but when I returned he was sitting on the door step waiting for me.

"Finally, yesterday, I determined to bring him to town with me and lose him. So this morning I put him into the baggage car, and when I reached the Grand Central I went back to the car to get him. There the baggageman met me.

"'Fifty cents,' he said.

"'What for?'

"'For taking care of your dog.'

"'Not much,' said I. 'I won't pay it.'

"'You won't,' he snarled. 'Then I'll keep your dog.'

"'Thank heavens!' I almost shouted. 'The dog's yours.'"—New York Sun.

Jake's Experience.

"Doctors are certainly curious sorts o' fellows," said an old South Washington man, who, with three or four friends was sitting around a table in a certain beer shop near the Seventh street wharf.

"What do you know about doctors, Jake?" said one of his companions. "They don't seem to bother you much?"

"Well, I had to go and see one of them last week," was the reply. "I have been run down and have pains and all that sort o' thing, so somebody told me I oughter go and see a doctor, and I went. The young feller asked me all sorts of questions and punched my ribs and the small o' my back, hearing something awful. Then he begin asking questions. 'I take it you're a drinking man,' he said, and, of course, I confessed that I was a regular when it came to booze. Told him I had been taking my drinks straight along for more than 15 years. Well, this young feller ups and tells me to stop for two weeks. 'Don't swallow a drop of liquor for two weeks,' he says. 'And you'll feel much better, and then'—says this doctor.

"'Well, what then?' I asks, and durned if he didn't tell me right then and there after that two weeks was up to begin another two weeks and follow up in that way right along.

"'Why, doctor,' I says to him, 'you might as well tell me to stop drinking altogether.' 'One dollar, please,' he says. 'What for?' I replies. 'For medical advice,' he remarks, and then I just pays up like a man, but think charging a man a dollar for telling him to get on the water wagon and stay there all his life looks like extortion."—Washington Star.

Beats Any Snake Story.

"About 10 o'clock on last Wednesday morning a large hawk caught a very valuable young rooster weighing over two pounds, belonging to L. A. English in Forest park and carried it several hundred yards," says the [illegible] (Kas.) Star. "The chicken was too heavy for the pestiferous bird and it dropped it, and the chicken made a beeline for home, arriving at its roost two days later. This is not all of the story, and the hawk brought more ill luck to the neighborhood than a black cat. This was the only chicken hatched from a sitting of thirteen eggs, which cost $5 for the sitting; the same day the little daughter lost her kitten; the neighborhood was searched but no kitten could be found; the boy lost his baseball. Thursday evening the chicken came back, the kitten came to its place by the kitchen door, and the boy ran to get the cat and the chicken he stumbled over his ball, and now the English family is happy, except the chicken, which is somewhat bruised from its fall and is minus some feathers."

STORIES FOUND IN THE LOBBIES

Interesting Happenings Concerning the People Who Are Traveling.

M. F. Collins, superintendent of the waterworks plant at Lawrence, Mass., left for that city last night after having spent two days inspecting the new filtration plant for Pittsburgh. Mr. Collins was the guest of Morris Knowles, chief of the water filtration commission of Pittsburgh, while in the city, having arrived here Sunday morning from New York, where he had attended the annual convention of the New England Waterworks association. Mr. Collins was outspoken in his admiration of the Pittsburgh plant.

"I have seen a good many waterworks and filtration plants," said he just before he left the Union station on the New York flyer last night, "but I have never seen a plant that is as good as this one will be. I was really amazed at the progress that has been made in its construction. I have never seen a job where so much attention was paid to the details, those smaller things that are all-important in a thing of this kind, as has been paid to the filtration plant here. Our plant at Lawrence is of the same type—English sand filtration—but it is not so large as the plant here, nor is it covered. Because of the latter we suffer very much by climatic conditions.

"There is another point of great interest about this plant, one which the people of Pittsburgh do not realize at all. This is the thing of having the cleanest and finest park in the city in connection with the filtration plant. When that plot of property is properly sodded up and modeled it will be one of the most beautiful places in the city."

Mr. Knowles, who was sitting beside Mr. Collins, also said that this feature is one that has not been taken into account sufficiently, and that it is the intention of the filtration commission to make the property as nearly perfect in sanitation and beauty in this way as in any other.

"I was amazed when I came here Sunday morning," continued Mr. Collins. "My last visit to Pittsburgh was in 1899, and in the six years that have passed Pittsburgh has almost become another city, an entirely new city with a dozen fine skyscrapers and numerous other splendid structures, as well as with three fine railroad stations and additional railroad facilities. It is a wonderful city, alive and progressive in every phase."

Returning from Visit to the Pope.

Bishop John F. Cunningham of the Concordia diocese of the Roman Catholic church in Kansas and Mgr. Joseph Perrier were passengers through Pittsburgh last night on the Pennsylvania limited. They were en route home from a tour of Europe, a portion of which time was spent in Rome, where they had the honor of two private audiences with Pope Pius X. They went to Europe in June as members of the American pilgrimage to Rome, and with the members of the pilgrimage they also had two public audiences with the pope. They regard the pope as a fatherly man, and a man in the right place. While in Rome they met Archbishop Ryan of Philadelphia. Their tour included Italy, Switzerland, France and Ireland.

Judge White Is a Bronco Rider.

The Hon. Harry White, former judge of Indiana county, passed through the city last evening on his way to Philadelphia. He spent several hours in conference with friends here on business matters before leaving on the New York flyer at 10 o'clock.

"Oh, no, nothing particular that I know of; just a business trip down east," said he, as he stood by the Pullman car.

"Why, hello, here, judge; I thought you were in bed!" remarked a friend who stepped up astonished at seeing the judge traveling. "How are you?"

"I'm all right, guess. Bronco riding goes pretty hard at the start, but it is exhilarating, indeed. You didn't hear how the thing happened? Well, it was just one of those western horses playing tricks with me in the Grand Army parade. He took a notion to walk on two legs—his hind legs—it happened—and I took a notion to show him that a Pennsylvanian had some grit. As a result we both took a tumble, and I came out the 'under dog.' It was pretty severe, but I am feeling fine again."

"Funny Place for It to Come From."

Something of the amusement that is occasioned when a rumor of baseless foundation—a "hot-air story," for instance—is printed about some man in high position doing this or that, was shown yesterday when Robert Pitcairn, resident assistant to President A. J. Cassatt of the Pennsylvania railroad, was asked what he thought of the news dispatch from Chicago in regard to Mr. Cassatt retiring from the presidency at the next annual meeting.

"Funny place for it to come from," remarked Mr. Pitcairn, smiling. "They must have had a wind storm out there."

"Well, isn't it possible that Mr. Cassatt may retire?" was asked.

"He may die, today yet or tomorrow, for aught any mortal knows," rejoined the dean of transportation men in the Pittsburgh district. "Really, you fellows are much exercised over a thing of that kind. I do not know anything about it, and think very, very little of such a story when it comes from any place but headquarters."

"Even during the world's fair at St. Louis we did not have as heavy regular travel as we have nowadays," said Capt. J. E. Quigley, Pullman conductor of the St. Louis and New York limited trains of the Pennsylvania-Panhandle route, as he stood arranging the many patrons of the St. Louis limited for the night ride on the handsome train through Ohio and Indiana. "We have the train loaded full tonight and on our trip east we had an extra car. It is seldom that the trains, either eastbound or westbound, have many [illegible] or two upper berths empty." [illegible], Pullman conductor of the Pennsylvania limited, also spoke of the heavy travel. These trains are among the finest passenger trains operated by any railroad in the country, and the increasing patronage of them testifies to the desire of the American public to have the best accommodations in traveling. The [illegible] special trains pass through Pittsburgh every night well laden with passengers. Travel in general is exceedingly heavy and extra equipment must be added to a number of trains each day.

RAMSEY LEAVES ANN ARBOR ROAD

Is Dropped from Its Board of Directors and from Its Presidency.

SOON TO ISSUE STATEMENT

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, Sept. 19.

Joseph Ramsey, Jr., is no longer a director of the Ann Arbor railroad. It became known in Wall street this afternoon that at a meeting of the stockholders of the Ann Arbor company, held at Ann Arbor, Mich., last Saturday, Mr. Ramsey was not re-elected to the board, although the two other retiring directors, Rudolph Kleybolte and J. E. Tolfree, were. Frank A. Durban, president of the Detroit, Toledo & Ironton railroad, was elected a director in place of Mr. Ramsey.

Mr. Ramsey has been the president of the Ann Arbor railroad as well as a director. His failure to be re-elected, of course, means his dropping from the presidency as well.

"My resignation from the Ann Arbor," said Mr. Ramsey, "was placed in the hands of the board of directors last June, before I sailed for Europe. Since I returned from abroad they expressed their desire for me to remain, but in view of the fact I had so much business to attend to, I did not wish to remain. The action taken at Saturday's meeting is in entire accordance with my views.

"The Ann Arbor is not a Gould property and Mr. George Gould and I went into it simply on account of a syndicate participation. Since then all the stock has been sold."

Mr. Ramsey said he was preparing a statement to send out to stockholders and debenture bondholders of the Wabash, covering the entire situation in his fight with the Goulds.

Mr. Ramsey said he was not surprised to hear that the committee representing the debenture "B" bondholders of the Wabash was likely to come out publicly in his support. At the same time, he said, he had no promise from the bondholders' committee. He continued:

"I have gone into this fight on the merits of the case and with no prejudice to anyone. Should I win, I propose to conduct the property in the best interests of all the stockholders. That is all I can say."

Mr. Ramsey's attention was called to the statement of George J. Gould that he "thought the kindest course he (Mr. Gould) could pursue in this matter was to say nothing."

"As for Mr. Gould," said Mr. Ramsey, "he may have meant from this that he was refraining from talking for fear of saying something that would hurt my feelings. There is not, however, a thing he can say that I would not be glad to have said."

Mr. Ramsey said he had no intention of making public, prior to the holding of the stockholders' meeting on October 10, any statement of the amount of stock and bonds that has come to his support. He remarked, however, he had no reason to be disappointed, but that it would be obviously foolish for the commander of an army to make a statement just at the beginning of his campaign of the number of his forces and just what he proposed to do.

JURY INDICTS CARLTON.

Alleged Bigamist Held in Brooklyn on Three Charges—To Be Tried on Monday.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—(Special.)—Three indictments for bigamy were handed down by the grand jury in Brooklyn today against Frederick E. Carlton. Carlton was immediately arraigned before Judge Aspinwall in the county court to plead. He said he was not guilty and opposed the motion for a speedy trial on the ground that he would have difficulty in getting his witnesses together.

Carlton told the court that at the time he is alleged to have married Lulu Kitterling of Rochester he was in Yokohama. He also said that the other cases against him, on which the indictments are based, are outside of the jurisdiction of the court. Judge Aspinwall ignored the man's appeal and fixed Monday as the date for trial.

The Delineator for October.

From the artistic viewpoint, as well as that of fashion, the October Delineator keeps the high standard it has attained as a woman's magazine. Many pages are given to the styles of the month, additional space being devoted to the New York and Paris fashions, set forth with chic and individuality by Helen Berkeley-Lloyd and Edouard La Fontaine; and the literary side, household topics and special features are on an unusual plane of excellence. Of widespread interest to parents, teachers and all who lead or follow in educational lines is an exceptional article, "Education for Life Through Living," by William H. Maxwell, superintendent of New York city schools; N. Hudson Moore writes interestingly of old desks and secretaries, giving the hall-marks that enable the amateur to place them correctly; Allan Sutherland tells the history of "Onward, Christian Soldiers," the hymn that is the inspiration of the young; Clifton Johnson takes the reader across the wild coast of Devon into the wilder country that was Lorna Doone's.

Mr. Paine's story, "The Lucky-Piece," and the third installment of Miss Winslow's "At Spinster Farm," furnish interesting reading of a lighter character. The marketing of milk is a vital public question in that it deals with the health, and consequently the life of the child. In this issue of The Delineator Mary Hinman Abel discusses the milk question in various phases. The title of another article, "Club Women and the Food Question," shows something of how the campaign instituted in the interest of pure food has spread. Pastimes for children include another chapter of "Son Riley Rabbit," that has delighted so many little ones, suggestions for Hallowe'en amusements and other subjects of juvenile interest.

—1905 Fall and Winter French Challis.

500 pieces of the most stylish printings ever the French people made in these desirable and useful goods, 50c.

For years we've made a specialty of French Challis.

Established an exclusive department for Challis—nothing else for sale there—and it's a large one.

It's conceded that this store sells as many, if not more, fine French Challis at retail than any other store in America.

French Challi makers produce 6 to 10 different colorings of a pattern—some colorings don't sell as well as others.

Went through our entire stock and took out all these—about 100 styles 50 cent French Challis and put a price on them, 35c.

All who want Challis—this is your opportunity and an immediate one—many of them not as pretty as the new ones, but they're the best—neat, medium and elaborate styles—light and dark.

Handsome silk stripe Challis, 25c, 50c and 75c.

5 cases of yard-wide American Printed Challis, 7½c—new goods and pretty—best thing, owing to the width and styles, that there is—for comfort coverings.

new silks

Prices, $5.00, $6.00, $8.00 to $12.00 a yard.

These are the rare exceptional things—the general assortment of new Silks is in itself a sufficient attraction, containing so many rich, beautiful things at a much lower price range that you will be more than pleased with your visit.

Superb new Broche Chiffon Taffetas, $1.50 a yard.

Exquisite Warp Print Silks, 85c to $1.50.

Beautiful new shades and quality solid color Chiffon Moires—evening shades, $1.00.

Yard wide all-silk Satin Radium—superb printings, $1.50.

Radium Silks you know are the popular thing this season—brilliant, soft and light in weight.

A hundred styles handsome Moire Velour Novelties—woven effects—absolutely exclusive here, 75c, $1.00, $1.25, $1.50.

WILL NOT TAKE UP GRIEVANCES

Pittsburgh Meeting of the Federation of Labor Will Be Conservative.

WILL BE A PEACE PARLEY

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
Room 10, Postal Building,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 19.

If the disposition of the executive council which continued its session in this city today, prevails, the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor to be held in Pittsburgh beginning November 13, will take a conservative position upon all labor troubles. It will refuse to give any consideration to grievances upon which all other means of settlement have not been exhausted. This policy is outlined in the call for the Pittsburgh convention, which was issued today. It is specifically stated that no grievances will be taken up unless the interested parties have previously held conferences and attempted to adjust their differences. The call also states that no grievance that has been decided at a previous meeting will be considered at the Pittsburgh convention.

The members of the executive council express their belief that the convention will partake more of the nature of a peace parley rather than a council of war. Delegates, according to the call, must be selected at least two weeks before the convention meets and their names forwarded to the secretary at Washington.

Secretary Frank Morrison submitted his report for the past 11 months, this being the last month of the fiscal year of the American Federation of Labor. It showed that on September 1 there was a balance in the treasury of $103,323.34. The report also showed that there are affiliated at this time with the federation 118 international associations, 40 state federations of labor, 670 city central bodies, 820 local trade unions not internationally affiliated, with a total of 26,000 local trades with a membership approximately of 2,000,000 workers.

A resolution was adopted at today's meeting expressive of the sentiment of the workmen thwart any effort of those interested in any change of the existing law excluding Chinese laborers and coolies from the United States and its possessions.

Prescott F. Hall and Robert C. Ward, representatives of the Immigration Restriction league of Boston, appeared before the council and urged the co-operation of the American Federation of Labor with the league to secure the passage of amendments to the immigration laws that will further restrict immigration to this country. The subject was discussed at length and will be taken up again during this session of the council.

WOMEN AS DELEGATES IN U. P. PRESBYTERIES

Allegheny Body Agrees to Allow Them to Act as Such and Vote—Presbyterians Meet, Too.

The Allegheny presbytery of the United Presbyterian church convened in Sewickley yesterday morning. The case of the Rev. P. C. Anderson of Tarentum was taken up. He resigned his pastorate several months ago, then he withdrew it at the request of 200 members; then he renewed it at the request of members hostile to him and said he would let the presbytery act on the resignation. A committee of seven was appointed and instructed to report its finding to the presbytery on Friday.

The Allegheny presbytery of the Presbyterian church met in the First church, Allegheny. It adopted the report of the committee on the Pleasant Hill trouble and returned the Rev. W. T. Garraway as pastor of the Pleasant Hill congregation. Mr. Garraway has been supplying the church at Pleasant Hill and another church near there. Because of his attitude toward the Christan and Missionary Alliance some members of the Pleasant Hill church asked the presbytery not to return the minister to that charge. The First church of Beaver reported that it had extended a call to the Rev. Dr. J. L. Marquis of Redlands, Cal., at a salary of $2,500. The Rev. W. D. Campbell was moderator of the presbytery.

The Death Roll.

Samuel Worth Stewart.

Samuel Worth Stewart, aged 51, an employe of the city bureau of construction for 15 years, died Monday evening at 6:45 o'clock at his home, Willock street and McFerron avenue, Twenty-second ward, after an illness of six weeks. Mr. Stewart was one of the best posted men on local engineering and county historical subjects in the city. The value of his knowledge and services was attested by his retention in the city employment through various changes of administration. Mr. Stewart was a descendant of a family that settled in Allegheny county at the beginning of the last century. His great grandfather is said to have been the owner of the land which now comprises Schenley park before it passed into the hands of the Schenleys. He was born in the Squirrel Hill district on September 13, 1851. In 1878 he was married to Ellen Dougherty of Pittsburgh. He is survived by his widow and two children, Mrs. William Wolfe and Robert N. Stewart, both of Pittsburgh. He was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church.

Charles E. Westerman.

Charles E. Westerman, a well-known guide mill roller, who formerly worked for the Carnegie company at Homestead and Duquesne and for the last three years was employed by the American Steel and Iron Company at Reading, will be buried at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow from the house of his father-in-law, C. L. Wilson, 37 Grant street, Munhall. Mr. Westerman died at Reading on Friday, having been mortally injured the day before. A red hot ¾-inch iron bar, 50 feet long pierced and passed through his thigh, Westerman not even becoming unconscious. He was removed to the Reading hospital. A few hours later an artery ruptured, and he died the next day. His body was brought from Reading. Mr. Westerman was 32 years old. Three years ago he married Miss Minetta Wilson, the contralto singer of Homestead, who survives him. He is also survived by his father and mother, and a sister, Mrs. Shields, all of Lima, O.

He was a member of the Etna Presbyterian church and leaves his widow, four sons and one daughter.

Samuel Stewart.

Samuel Stewart, aged 53, one of the best known rivermen of the lower Monongahela valley, died yesterday at Browns station. He is survived by his widow and two children. COMMANDER YOUNG IS PLACED ON HIS TRIAL

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

MARE ISLAND, CAL., Sept. 19.—When the court-martial of Commander Lucien Young of the gunboat Bennington convened today a telegram was read from Acting Secretary of the Navy Darling asking that he be provided with the daily proceedings of the court, and also that a copy of the same be furnished to Commander Young. The court then adjourned and proceeded to the Mare Island hospital to take the testimony of Ensign Wade.

When the court reconvened Judge Gear objected to the testimony of Wade being taken at this time in the absence of a report on the mental and physical condition of the witness.

Charles G. Smith, passed assistant surgeon of the hospital service, was called by the court to testify regarding Wade's condition. He stated that Wade had been suffering from gangrenous appendicitis and that an operation was performed. He said that Wade was now weak. His condition was favorable for recuperation, but at present he was not able to stand any heavy strain mentally. He said that Wade was able to give testimony, but that a long examination and cross-examination would have ill effects. In two or three days he might be ready for examination.

Judge Gear's objection to the testimony of Wade being taken at this time was sustained by the court, which then adjourned to make an inspection of the vessel.

PEACEMAKERS GATHER IN WORLD CONGRESS

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

LUCERNE, SWITZERLAND, Sept. 19.—The universal peace congress began its sessions today, in the theater of the Kursaal with 340 delegates in attendance. In the large American delegation are Rabbi Louis Grossman of Cincinnati, and several members of New York and Boston civic organizations and boards of trade.

M. Comtesse, a member of the Swiss government, was elected honorary chairman and delivered the opening address. He outlined the progress of the pacific movement, pointing out, however, the necessity for safeguarding the patriotic idea and providing for the national defence.

Frederick Passy, formerly a member of the French chamber of deputies, on behalf of France, also spoke in favor of a world-wide peace.

B. F. Trueblood, of Boston, read the report of the American delegates who present a proposition analagous to that recently adopted by the interparliamentary congress at Brussels, favoring a second conference at the Hague, to draw up an international arbitration treaty, and favoring periodical congresses for the discussion of questions relating to the limitation or reduction of armaments and the protection of neutral commerce against belligerents.

Chinese delegate evoked applause by protesting against European military designs against China, where he said peaceful ideas prevail.

ANOTHER SCANDAL IN THE INSURANCE FIELD

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—Charges of fraud, misapplication of trust funds and attempts to transfer assets to another concern, are made in a suit for a receiver and an accounting, filed this afternoon against present and former officials of the Western Life Indemnity Company, an assessment insurance association. E. I. Rosenfeld and W. H. Gray, the latter being the organization of the association, are prominently mentioned in the bill in connection with alleged fraudulent voting of funds to themselves.

The bill was filed in the United States circuit court by Attorney S. Levinson, representing numerous policy-holders.

Gray is alleged to have secured proxies from the thousands of members and thus controlled the directors. By securing this control, it is alleged, Gray had passed a resolution voting him the right by contract to draw $1 for each $1,000 in insurance issued. This was done in secret, and although the complaining policy-holders recently learned of it they were refused information by Rosenfeld, Moulton, Gray and others. Besides these many thousands of dollars alleged to have been improperly taken, it is declared Gray and his associates, by other fraudulent means, took many thousands of dollars from the concern.

The defendant company has more than $20,000,000 in policies outstanding.

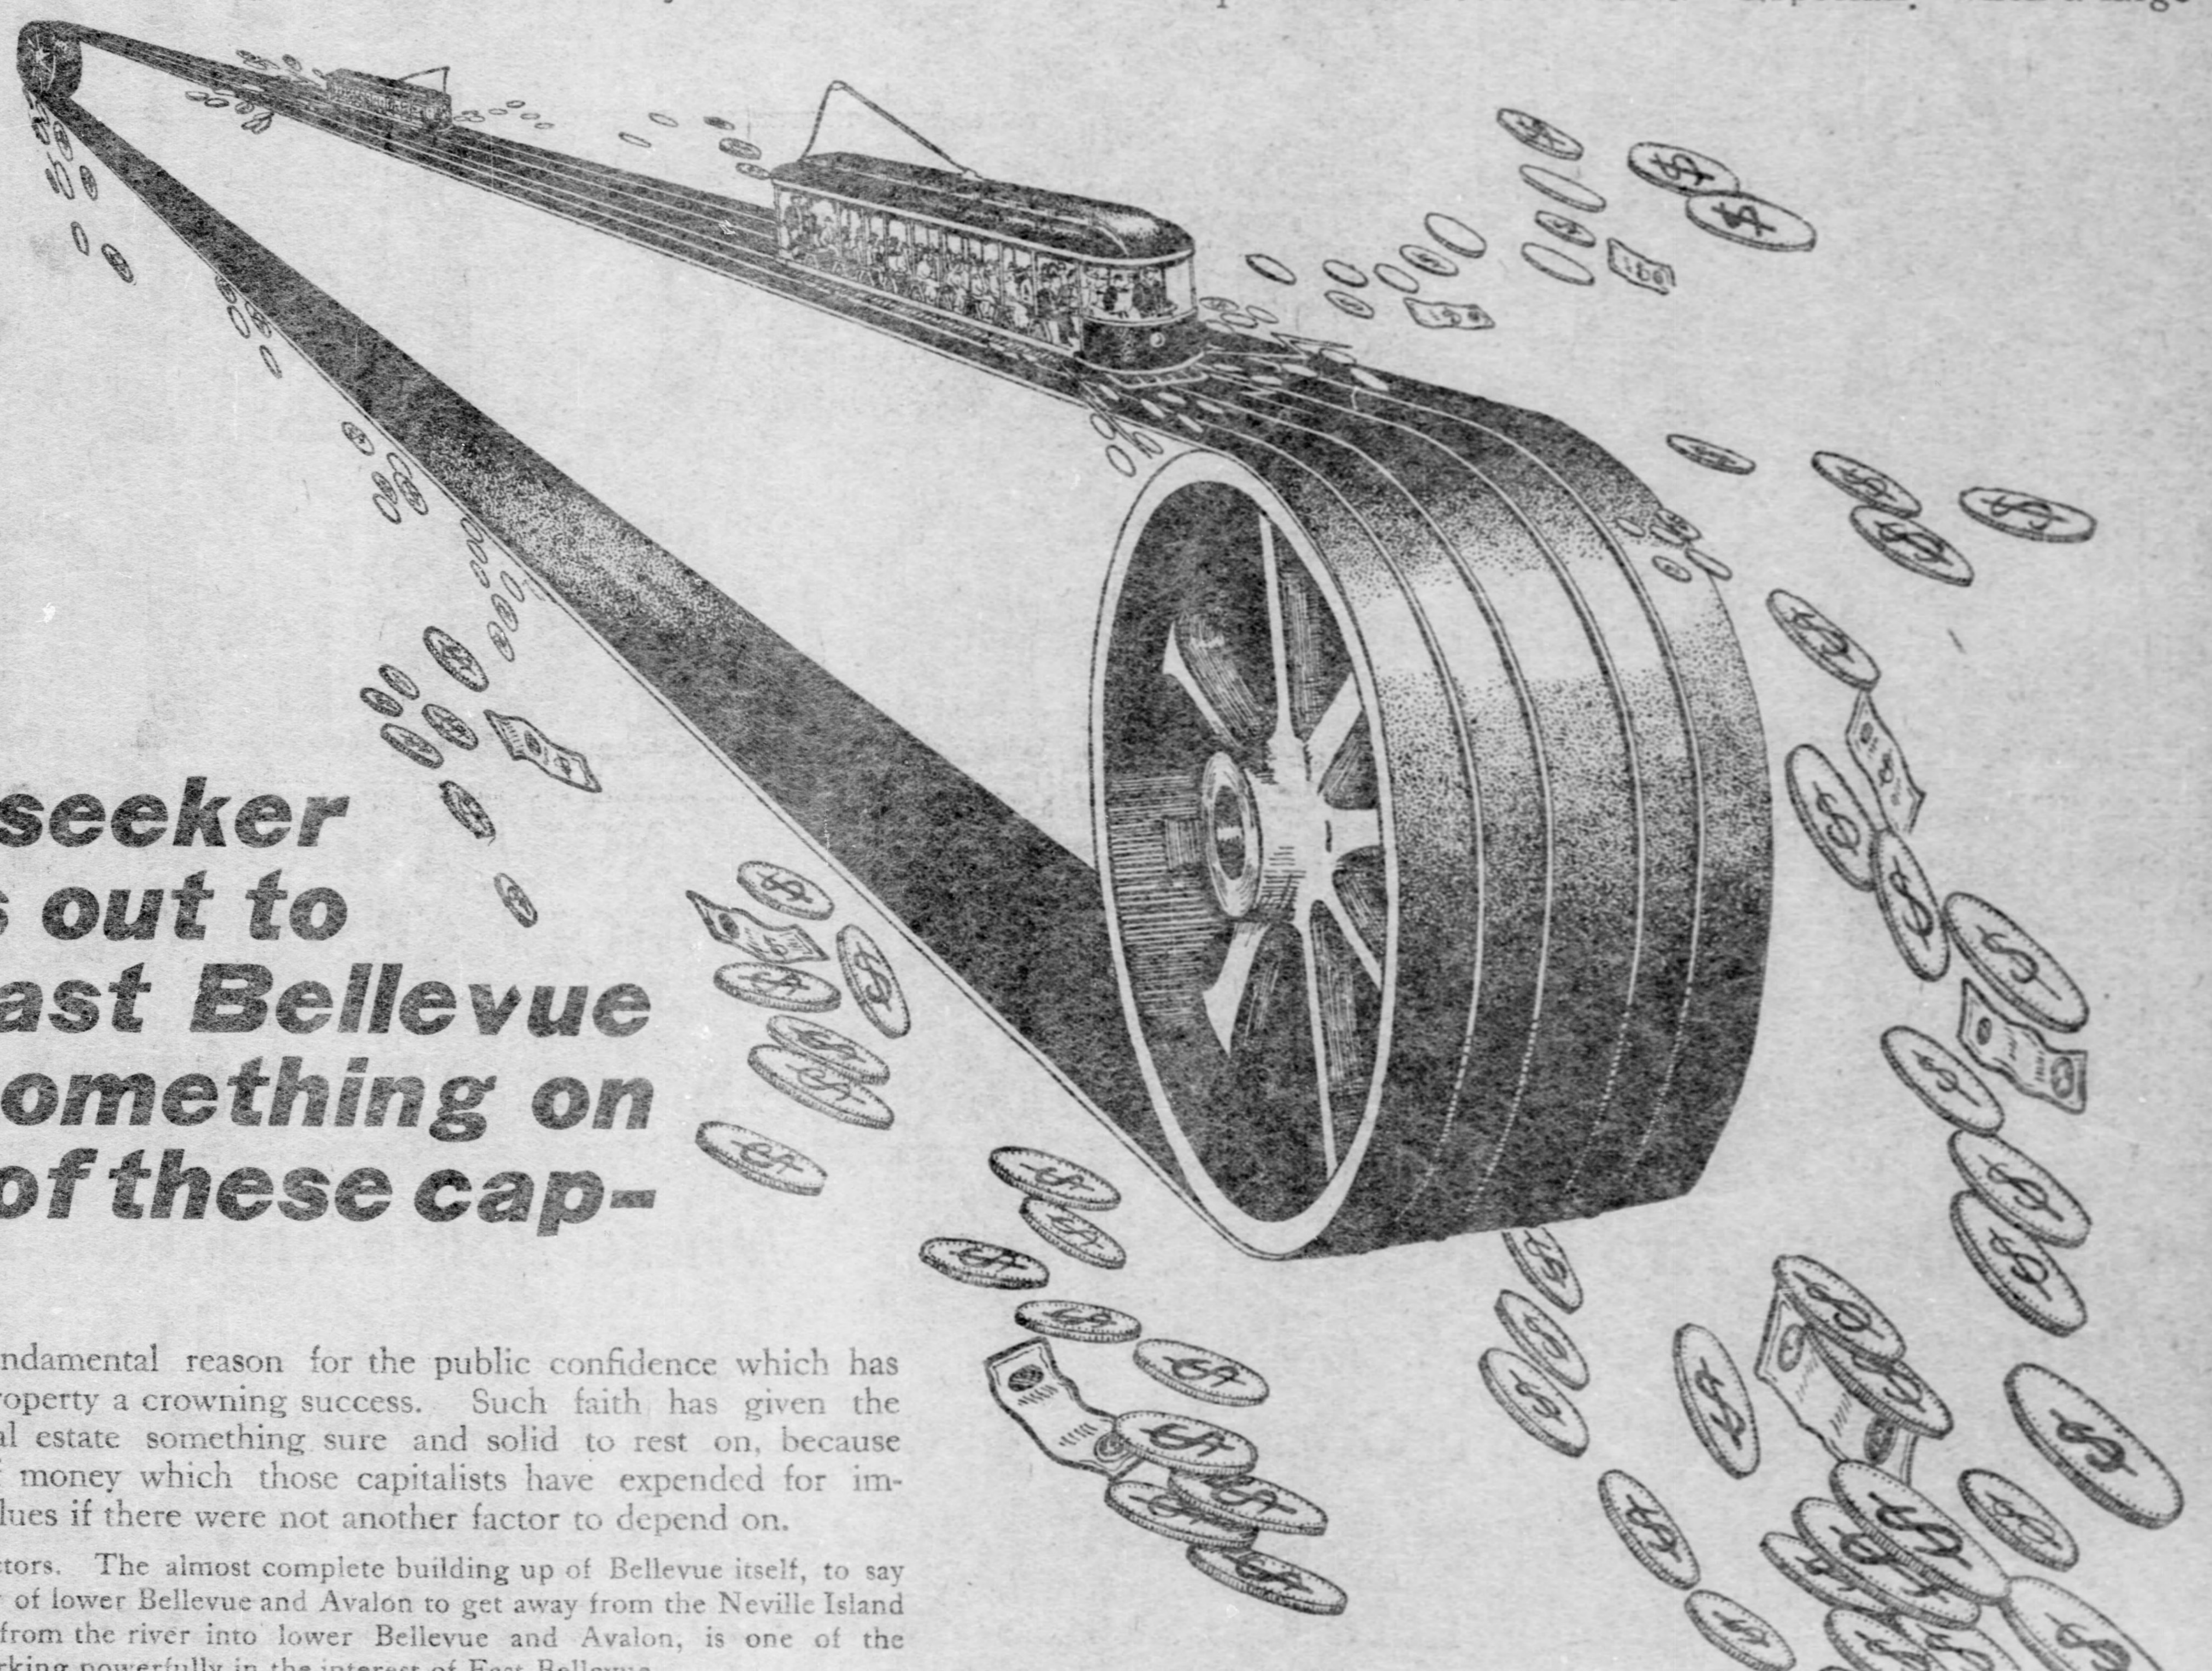
East Bellevue

By — The — Loop

The most wonderful feature connected with this whole East Bellevue proposition is undoubtedly the great traction belt-line that has been built to bring this ideal property into the market.

There are hosts of other arguments showing the investment quality of this great undertaking, but after all is said and done the one thing which stands out above everything else is the vast capital that was launched to build the matchless trolley system that has been installed.

Had men of foresight not seen that the territory was one that was sure to build up, entirely and exclusively by reason of its logical location, they would never have put up the enormous money that the road has cost. Capitalists are conservative. Especially when a large number of them go together to investigate and discuss the advisability of investing millions of dollars—as they did before they decided to establish this great Bellevue-West View belt-line and the miles of city and street improvements which must accompany it.



It is well for every investor or home-seeker who goes out to look at East Bellevue to bank something on the faith of these capitalists.

Their faith was the fundamental reason for the public confidence which has already made the sale of the property a crowning success. Such faith has given the purchaser of East Bellevue real estate something sure and solid to rest on, because he knows that the volume of money which those capitalists have expended for improvements would establish values if there were not another factor to depend on.

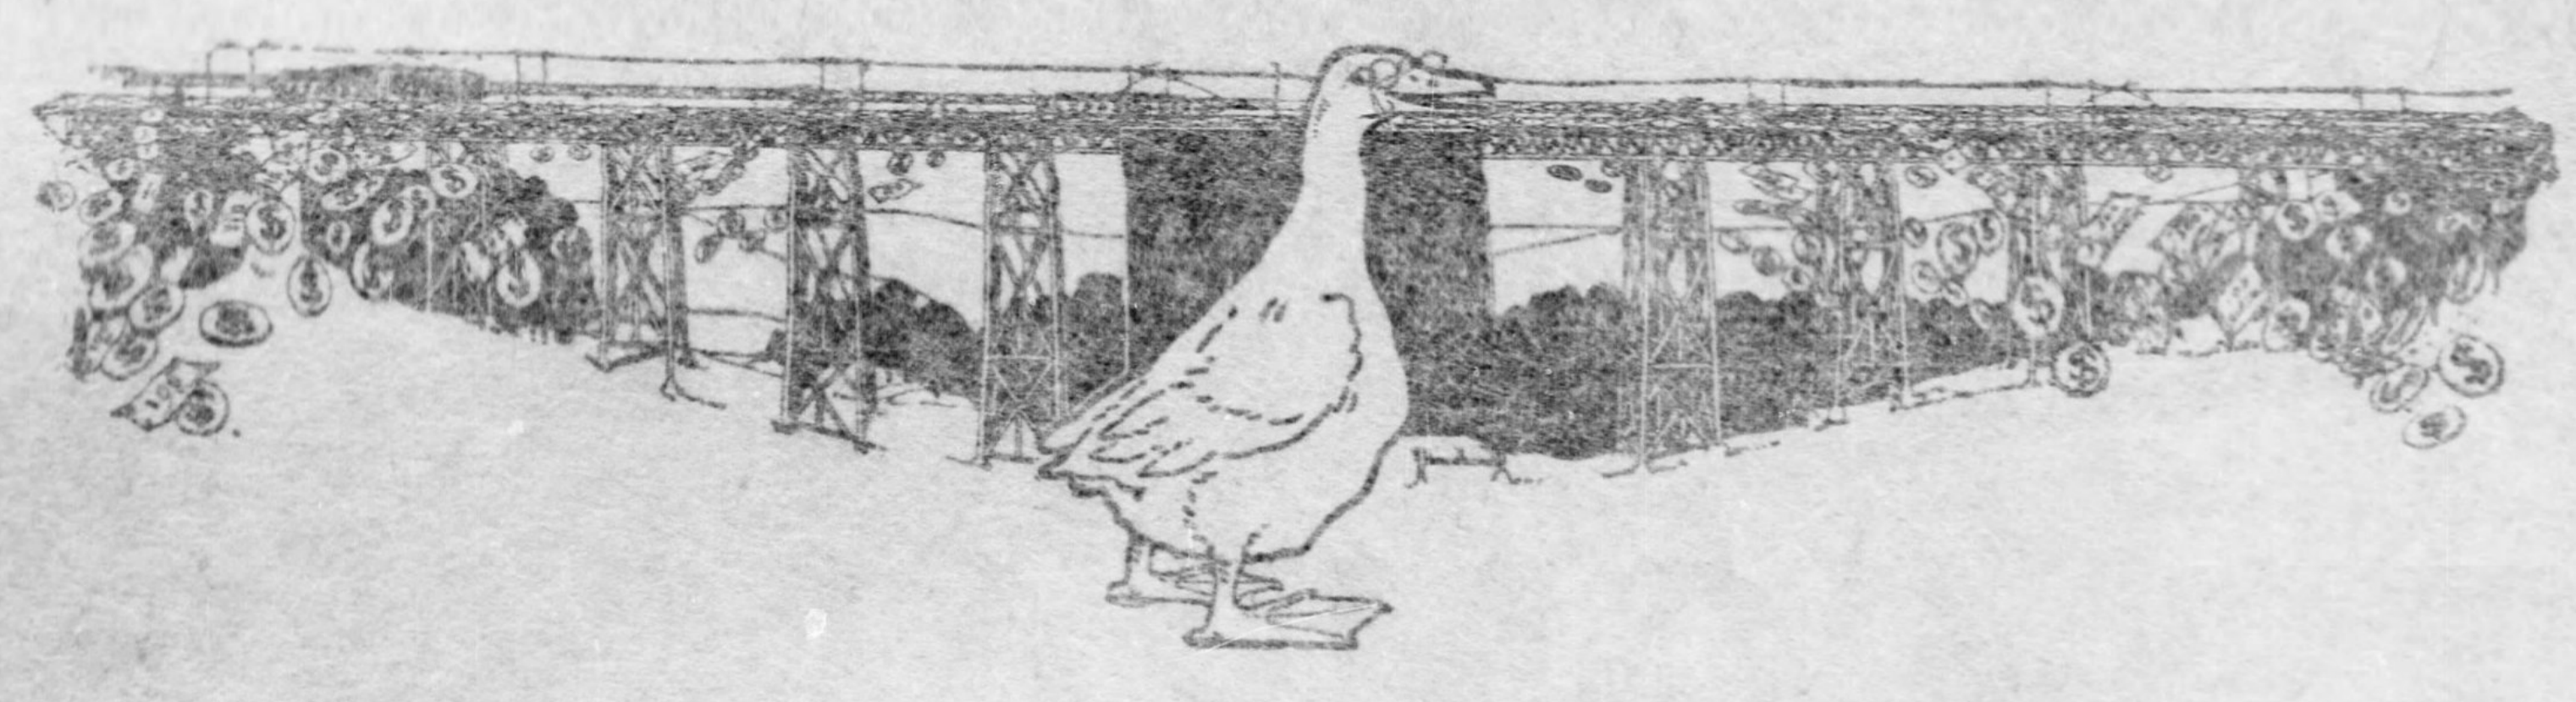
But THERE ARE other factors. The almost complete building up of Bellevue itself, to say nothing of the irresistible tendency of lower Bellevue and Avalon to get away from the Neville Island blast-furnace clouds as they sweep from the river into lower Bellevue and Avalon, is one of the numerous other factors that are working powerfully in the interest of East Bellevue.

Still another factor is the stiff prices at which Bellevue frontage has been transferred. If Bellevue frontage is worth $40 to $100 a foot, who can say that East Bellevue frontage, just across the line from Bellevue, is not worth more than $2 to $20 a foot? Who can say that the increase in these prices will not be immediate and large? There is only a bridge and a few steps separating the two neighborhoods. The improvements of one are equal to the other. If anything, the traction facilities of East Bellevue are superior to those of Bellevue, because you can reach town from East Bellevue for one fare over two different main-line systems.

East Bellevue has graded and sewered streets, granolithic sidewalks, will soon have electric lights, gas, sand-filtered city water same as is furnished to Bellevue and West View, etc.

Most of the lots are 40x150 feet and have building restrictions.

Prices for these lots range from $75, $100, $150, $200, $250, $300, $350, $400, $450, $500 to $1,000, on terms of 5 per cent down and 2½ per cent monthly, with 10 per cent discount for cash.



In connection with these terms special free-gift offers are made. Provisional Premium Bonds and Architect's services. Ask about these specialties. The bonds are provisioned to earn for purchasers anywhere from 5 to 25 per cent of the prices of the lots.

TAKE BELLEVUE OR WEST VIEW CARS on Ninth St. or on Liberty Ave. at Wood St. or Sixth Ave. or on Seventh St. Either line will take you direct to East Bellevue. Bellevue cars run through the Eleventh Ward of Allegheny and through Bellevue. West View cars go by way of East St., Perrysville Ave. and West View.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Sept. 19.—(Special.)—The Pirates came to Youngstown today with the avowed intention of getting revenge for the drubbing which the Steel Workers gave Pittsburgh last season, and they certainly evened up with a vengeance. Youngstown, in its present crippled condition, was simply toyed with by the big leaguers, and Leifield looked like the bogy man to Hogan's sluggers, who have been making the independent twirlers take to the tall and uncut all season. He allowed by one hit, and Charley McCloskey got that, when Leifield tried his quick return. McCloskey drove the ball into middle field for a single. Not a Youngstown batter reached second base.

The Pirates put up a fast game in the field, making some wonderful plays. Koch distinguished himself by making marvelous catches of two high line drives, and, not satisfied, he smote the sphere in the seventh inning, sending it far over the left field fence. Ritchey, Flannigan and Leifield also performed some clever bits of fielding.

Heine Peitz hit safely every time up. This was considered one of the most remarkable features of the game. Heine says he now leads the Bush league.

The Youngstown team was really in bad shape for such a contest. Phyle's absence from third weakened the infield, and while Will Thomas, the left hander, did his best at that corner, he could not handle the bunts fast enough, and the Pittsburghs soon discovered the weak spot and played it for all they were worth. The local team lacked ginger and there was never any chance for them.

The game was witnessed by a crowd of 5,000 people, the largest of the season. The fans were keenly disappointed on account of Wagner's failure to play, and there was considerable talk about the fact. The score:

Coach Wants All Out for Football Practice—Says He Would Give Ten Years for College Career Again.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, PA., Sept. 19.—A mass meeting of W. & J. students was held at the college today to arouse interest in football and if possible, to induce more new men to come out to practice. Speeches were made by Robert Murphy, president of the athletic association; John C. Wicks, manager of the football team, and Coach Piekarski.

"What we need," said Piekarski, "is more men to choose from. If all the available men in college would turn out we would soon have a team that would defeat Lehigh and Lafayette, and colleges of that class. It is ridiculous to think of picking a good team from 10 or 15 fellows. We ought to have five times the number that is daily turning out. What is also wanted is more college spirit that will force these big men to come out and play football or leave college. It won't hurt you. It will do you good. I would be willing to give 10 years of my life to be able to play four more years of college football."

As a result of the mass meeting there was the biggest turnout so far this season at college park this afternoon.

W. U. P.

CONNEAUT LAKE, PA., Sept. 19.—(Special.)—With a broiling sun overhead 20 minutes of savage scrimmage practice was done this afternoon by the W. U. P. football candidates. The men were lined up indiscriminately, regulars and scrubs being well distributed among both teams. Klawuhn and Q. Banbury showed good form at half back and end. Mosse is paying special attention at present to the training of his quarter-backs. Frank Grigs, Ritchie and Swenson are plugging away at the new plays every day. Boisseu was put in at half today and Q. Banbury is working at end. Scrimmage work will be a regular feature of daily practice from now on.

Harvard.

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., Sept. 19.—(Special.)—Determined on having absolute discipline in the Harvard varsity football squad and anxious to avoid temptations whatsoever, Coach Reid this afternoon announced that hereafter no member of the coaching squad or spectator on the side lines will be allowed to smoke cigars, pipes or cigarets.

At both sessions today the candidates worked through their stunts in a miserable drizzling rain. Throughout the morning and afternoon Reid kept the players continually passing and catching the ball. The several methods of catching, holding and carrying the leather were illustrated thoroughly, and few fumbles were noticeable. Burr, the old Andover guard, weighing 204 pounds and standing six feet two inches, announced today that he had matriculated successfully and would join the squad in a few days. Six new men donned their suits this morning. They are Paul, a sub-tackle for two years; Nichols, who captained the 1907 class team; Thompson and Stone, members of the track team; Fish, a clever quarter-back and Irwin, half-back.

"Pete" Bowditch, right end on the varsity for three years, who has been selected to look after the ends this season, returned to Cambridge today and took charge of the punt chasers.

Cornell.

ITHACA, N. Y., Sept. 19.—(Special.)—Regardless of extreme hot weather, with the temperature registered at 85 degrees, Coach Warner kept the Cornell football squad on the run today. He is anxious to get the weight of several down to fighting trim. The heaviest, including Capt. Costello, who is trying to train down to 180 pounds from 200, in order to play quarter back, were given extra strenuous practice. After the usual preliminaries a fast game of association football was played for 30 minutes.

The assistance of P. E. Larkin, Cornell '06, was secured today for the coaching staff. Although he played but one year he was considered the fastest end Cornell ever had. For the past two years he has been prominent at Georgetown in football and baseball. He has refused an offer to permanently assist Coach Warner, but will be here for several weeks before he returns to finish his course at Georgetown. His brief service here will be valuable assistance to the coaching of Cornell's end candidates.

Princeton.

PRINCETON, N. J., Sept. 19.—(Special.)—The Tigers had a snappy practice this afternoon so far as it went, but as yet there is no heavy work, but the men are beginning to show signs of football players, and even at this time Princeton's chances for a strong team this year are very slim. The practice consisted entirely of light work, such as tackling the dummy, kicking and getting down under punts. A good number of last year's men are back, among whom are Conney, Rulon, Miller, McCormick, Tooker, Dillon, Carathers, Simons and several other men, such as Pfeifer and Conners.

The coaches will have a hard time picking a man for quarterback, but the men are rapidly rounding into shape and the student body feels a ray of hope about the prospects. There is a deplorable lack of heavy line men, but the back field is strong and fast, and the coaches hope to get some big fellows from the entering class.

RAIN STOPS THE SPORT

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 19.—Norman B's feat of stepping the Columbus track in the first heat of the 2:09 trot in 2:06¼ was the best feature of the opening of the Grand Circuit races here today. Zephyr was favorite and Angiola second choice. Miss Mabel, a 5 to 3 favorite for the Kentucky stock farm futurity for 3-year-old pacers, was beaten in straight heats by the other starter, Bonalet.

Pat T., second choice to Myrave in the 2:18 trot, won out after he had lost the third heat by repeating breaking. Hal C. had the small field in the Hotel Hartman stake for 2:13 pacers outclassed and won the last two heats in slow time. He lost the first by a break at the head of the stretch. The Hoster-Columbus breweries stake, the 2:15 and the 2:11 pacing events, were unfinished on account of a heavy rainstorm.

Nine thousand people saw the sport. Most of the finishes were close. The track was in fine condition. Summaries:

There will be either eight or ten clubs, and maybe 12, if the outlook warrants it. Andy Yochum will call the meeting to order.

Niles by One Run.

SHARON, PA., Sept. 19.—(Special.)—Niles defeated Sharon today 5 to 4. Boyle started to pitch for Niles, but was taken out in the third and Geyer substituted. The latter was hit safely twice, but in the other six innings not a bingle was made from his delivery. There were three home runs, Harkins, Ferguson and Krueger hitting over the left field fence. Rudolph's hitting was a feature. The score:

AMONG THE BOXERS.

George Dixon will meet Tommy Murphy in a six-round bout at Philadelphia tonight. It will be his first appearance since his return from England.

Billy Nolan, the manager of Battling Nelson, is creating a breeze on the Pacific coast by charging that California legislators were bribed to kill the anti-prize fighting bill.

Aurelia Herrera and Eddie Hanlon have signed to fight for $1,000 a side. The papers call for a meeting on October 17 at the Pacific Athletic club of Los Angeles, the combatants to weigh 133 pounds, ringside, and to receive 50 per cent of the gross receipts, to be divided 75 and 25 per cent.

Owing to the fact that Ray and Roy Clinton, the clever 8-year-old boxers, will appear at Luna Park on Pittsburgh Press club evening next Monday, many applications have come from boxers from this section to secure bouts. The committee of the Press club has decided that only one bout will be put on.

At Monongahela tonight the Denver club will hold a boxing show above the ordinary. Good talent has been secured, as follows: Kid Sullivan and Patsy Branigan, O'Neil and Hines, both of Allegheny; Roscoe and [illegible], of Pittsburgh, Kid Zember, the butcher boy, and Buck Reardon; Jack McAuliffe and [illegible] Cattar, the latter from the North Side. Clinton twins are requested to report at the club today.

Young People can make no better investment than to join the Night C[illegible] of the Iron City College. They begin Monday, Sept. 25th.

SIXSMITH TO MANAGE PITTSBURGH HOCKEY TEAM

Manager McSwigan Gives Up Local League Idea for International Affair.

Rumors as to whether Pittsburgh will have any hockey at Duquesne garden this winter were set at rest yesterday when Manager A. S. McSwigan closed a contract with Arthur E. Sixsmith to put a first-class team in the International league. Several hockey stars in Canada whom the local management tried to get last winter have accepted Mr. Sixsmith's terms contingent on their securing good positions at their trade. Places for them are now being found. Sixsmith will not give out any names of players yet. He said yesterday he will treat Pittsburghers to a hockey surprise when he announces the make-up of his team. His well-known ability to land players is looked upon as the best assurance that Pittsburgh will have a winning team.

There has been considerable talk about Pittsburgh dropping out of the International league and forming a local league, but the time is not opportune for this. A meeting of the International league will occur within two weeks to consider matters for the coming season. James R. Dee, secretary and treasurer, is taking a vote by mail as to when and where the meeting will be held.

HOMESTEAD IS AGAIN BEATEN BY BRADDOCK

Braddock again showed its superiority over Homestead by winning yesterday's game at Homestead, 7 to 6. Frank Eastley, who pitched for Homestead, received poor support in the opening inning. After chances had been offered to retire the side Braddock began to hit and then Eastley took matters easy. The side was finally retired and Eastley pitched good ball the remainder of the game. A one-handed catch by Orbin was a feature. The score:

COLLEGE AND SCHOOL.

The University of Pennsylvania baseball authorities have decided on an innovation in that sport this year. For the first time the Quakers will have fall practice. However, it will be confined to the freshmen and will not apply to the 'varsity. Capt. Emlen Hare has issued a call for the freshmen candidates, who are not working on any other team, to begin work on October 4.

Another track halfback, who has just entered Yale, is Wiley of the Hill school. He is also a distance kicker. For two days Zimowski has been proving himself the best punter of all the candidates on the Yale squad. He weighs 175 pounds and is a fleet sprinter.

Cable, a 260-pound candidate for center from De Paw (Ind.) preparatory school, is at Swathmore.

"BILL" JOHNSON DIES.

Well Known Allegheny Pitcher Expires Suddenly—Had Good Record.

William Johnson, the well-known Allegheny pitcher, dropped dead yesterday morning at Lacock and Craig streets, Allegheny. Johnson had been ill for two weeks. Early yesterday morning he went to a saloon to get a glass of beer, but before he tasted it he was seized with a fainting spell. He was led to the open air and placed on a stool at the rear of the saloon. Later he was found dead. He was 35 years old and is survived by his father, who is 77 years old, a brother and sister.

Johnson began his diamond career with local amateur teams, going to Bradford of the Iron and Oil league for his first professional job. Since then he played in different minor leagues, Eastern, Southern, New York state and many others. This year he played with Homestead.

FINALS IN DOUBLES ARE LEFT UNFINISHED

The finals in doubles of the tennis tournament at the Pittsburgh Golf club were left unfinished last night on account of darkness. The result at the time play was called was: C. L. Childs and George D. Edwards beat Guyton and Canfield 6-8, 6-4, 0-6, 4-4. The match will be taken up next Monday just where it was left off with the match two sets to one in favor of Childs and Edwards. The consolation final match between G. Siverd and H. O. Smith was also left unfinished and will be played next Monday.

Local Auto Race Called Off.

Automobile circles will be disappointed that the race between W. C. Temple's 40-horse power Pierce Great Arrow and Peter Hermes' 35-horse power Locomobile has been declared off. It was to have taken place yesterday morning for $200 aside. The course selected was the Beechwood boulevard speedway in Highland park and the distance was to be one mile. There has been much good-natured rivalry between the owners of these cars for some time and led up to the match. It was said that Mayor Hays interposed objection on account of possible criticism to the use of the speedway for the purpose.

Will Not Be Allowed to Fight.

The Hunting Season.

Nimrod was a mighty hunter, but had he hunted in the "Highlands of Ontario" that are reached by the Grand Trunk Railway System he would have been a mightier one. Nimrod hunted for glory, but those who go up into the several districts in Ontario hunt for game and have no difficulty in finding it. The regions in which deer abound are the "Muskoka Lake," "Lake of Bays," "Maganetawan River," "Georgian Bay," "Lake Nipissing," the "French River," "Kawartha Lakes" and on the line of the Canada Atlantic between Scotia Junction and the boundary of Algonquin Park. The open season is from November 1st to November 15th.

For moose, the best region in Canada is found in Temagami, where the season opens October 16th and continues until November 15th.

The open season for ducks in Ontario is from September 1st to December 15th and for partridge September 15th to December 15th.

A handsomely illustrated book, "Haunts of Fish and Game," giving descriptions of the different hunting districts, game laws, maps, etc., sent free on application to W. [illegible], Traveling Passenger Agent, 506 [illegible] building, Pittsburgh, Pa.

THE HANDSOMEST STORE FOR MEN IN AMERICA

Since the men's furnishings department of the Bennett Stores has been moved from the eastern to the western section of the building a decidedly marked change has taken effect.

Now there is much greater floor capacity, a condition made necessary by the rapid growth that has attended the business.

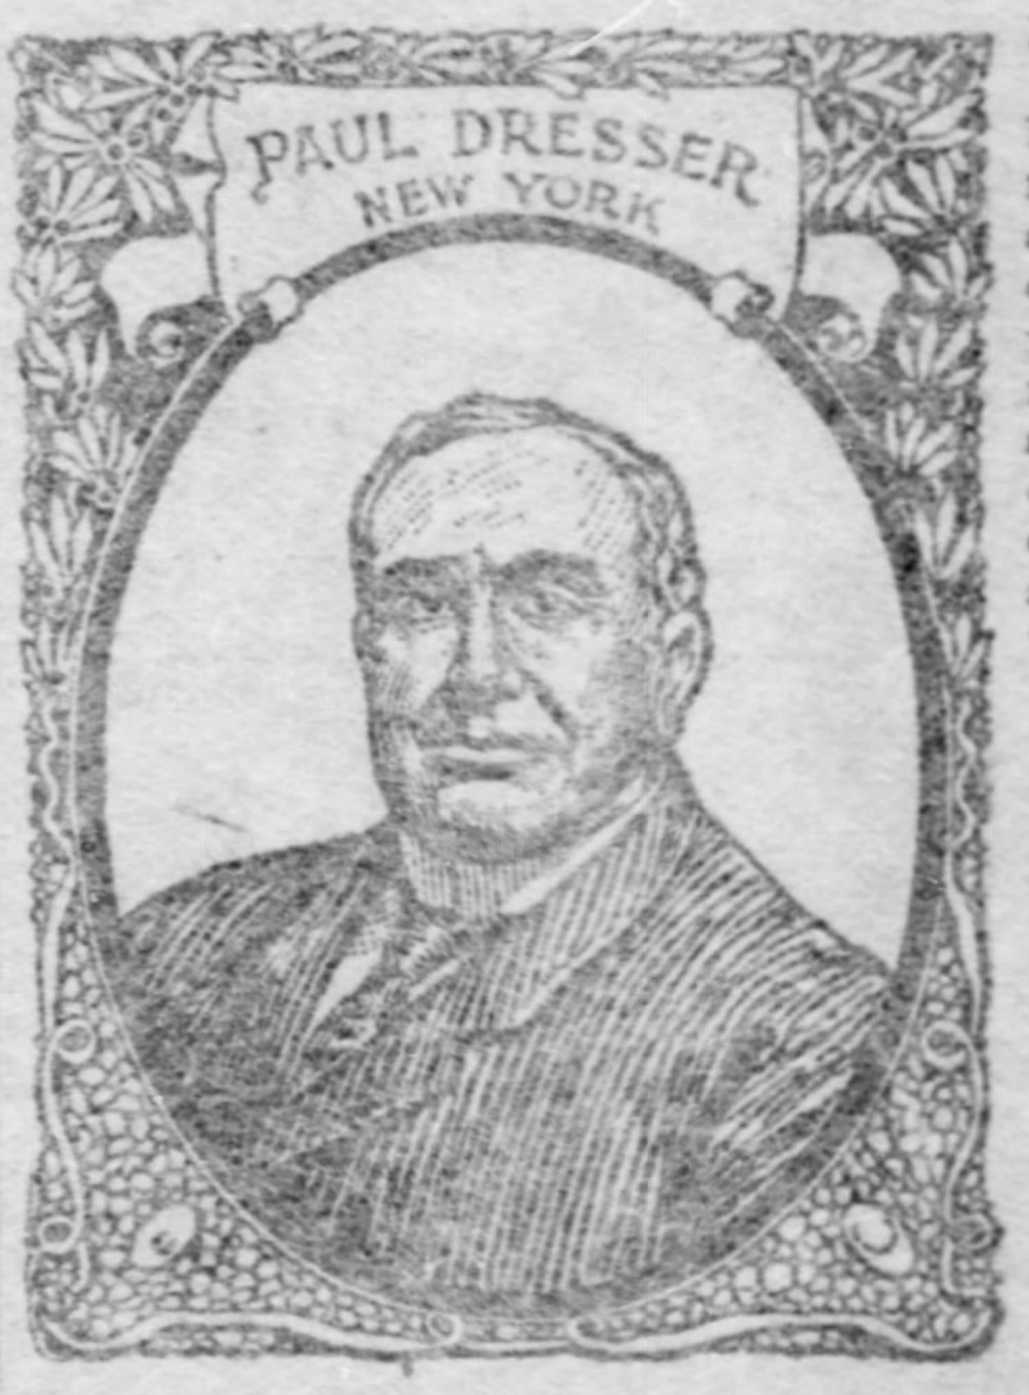
The display effects have undoubtedly reached the height of this important art. Glass cases of most modern construction, with mahogany frames, are arranged down both sides of the store, exhibiting the latest things in furnishings for men—shirts, neckwear, collars, handkerchiefs, pajamas, night robes, etc.—as soon as they see the light of day in the world of fashion.

Nickel finished fixtures—the shelving along the walls, etc.—have also been newly installed. In connection with this feature the neat uniform arrangement of the different stocks is of noteworthy interest.

Further back in the store is the made-to-order shirt department. A heavy brass railing separates this section from the store proper. Within the furnishment is of solid mahogany—the seats, the massive pedestal table, the display table, and the elegant mirrors. Here samples of the different shirtings for the current season are shown.

At the extreme back of the store is the beautiful art glass window, considered to be one of the masterpieces of the stained-glass art. The scene depicts the costuming in vogue during that period in the fifteenth century attending the revival of the arts. On either side of the main picture are two smaller panel-windows, also in art glass, each showing the proud peacock with its myriad colored plumage.

There will be no question in any visitor's mind but that the Bennett men's furnishings store, at Fifth avenue and Wood street, has justly earned the title of "finest in all America."



GREAT SONG WRITER
PAUL DRESSER, CURED BY
DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS

PAUL DRESSER NEW YORK

Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Gentlemen: I wish to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills, in the hope that my indorsement may be read by at least a few of the many thousands of sufferers from kidney trouble. I was so wretched from this malady that I could not sleep, rest or eat, and had a weak and aching back. Doan's Kidney Pills effectually cured me, and I wish that others may know, in order that they may also be benefited by the remedy. Yours truly,

(Signed) PAUL DRESSER.

Paul Dresser, who writes the above, is the man who wrote those wonderfully popular songs, "On the Banks of the Wabash," "The Blue and the Gray," "The Letter that I Longed for Never Came," etc. Mr. Dresser has written a new song, "Jim Judson," which promises to be as popular as some of his older successes.

Mr. Dresser is well known all over the United States, and his frank letter will be given much attention.

SICK KIDNEYS Make One an Easy Subject for Colds and Chills, and Every Cold Settles on the Kidneys, Causing Pain in the Small of the Back, Rheumatic Aches Etc.

When the kidneys are well they filter out of the blood every day from three to four pounds of watery waste (urine). You can soon tell when the kidneys are sick, for if this work is not properly done, the impurities will cause urinary disorders, pain in the back and loins, dizzy spells; every change in the weather will effect you, making you feel miserable, weak, nervous and rheumatic.

The seriousness of colds and chills is but little realized. Extra work is thrown upon the kidneys, and as it is impossible for the kidneys to do this extra work besides their own, they become diseased. It is, therefore, wise to provide against sudden changes of weather by keeping the kidneys well, or if a cold or chill is felt, begin using Doan's Kidney Pills and take them regularly until health and strength are restored.

Doan's Kidney Pills assist the kidneys in filtering out the poisonous waste by reviving their activity and restoring a natural action to the connecting organisms. The treatment makes you stronger and better in every way, so that you are less likely to take colds and chills. This remedy has done a great work in this city.

PITTSBURGH PROOF.

John Gabell, roofer, who lived in a houseboat on the river just below the Point bridge, is a firm friend of Doan's Kidney Pills, and any sufferer from kidney troubles who desires to correspond with him may address him care of John Gaw, Rebecca street, Allegheny. Mr. Gabell said: "Before I began using Doan's Kidney Pills I had suffered with kidney complaint for thirteen years. I had the usual constant dull, heavy pains through the loins and in the abdomen, and suffered from severe headaches and spells of dizziness which nearly toppled me over. The kidney secretions were irregular, full of sediment and scalded in passing. Doan's Kidney Pills very promptly relieved me of these troubles, and I was pleased to give a testimonial telling of my experience and recommending them. That was six years ago, and I have been well ever since."

SOCIETY

A NUMBER of Pittsburgh, Allegheny and Sewickley people expect to be in attendance at the wedding of Miss Jane Irwin Glenn of Wooster, O., and John Anson Emery, which is set for Saturday evening, October 7. The bride's father, the Rev. Samuel M. Glenn, will perform the ceremony, assisted by the Rev. Oscar O. Hill, pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian church of Wooster. Miss Mary Travelll Glenn will be her sister's maid of honor and the bridesmaids will include Miss Jessie May Vogt of Zanesville, Miss Catherine Vance of Wooster, Miss Dorothy Gilpen of Philadelphia and Miss Catherine C. Axtell of Wooster. Mrs. George Allen Brewer, the bride's sister, who was married a short time ago, will serve as matron of honor. Mr. Emery has asked his fiance's brother, Joseph Travelll Glenn, to act as best man, and the bridal party will be completed by Edward H. Flood and Stewart C. Spencer of this city, Thomas W. Fitch, Jr. of Cleveland, Samuel M. Glenn and Robert W. Glenn, the bride's brothers, and R. Edson Emery of Sewickley, the bridegroom's brother, as ushers. The ceremony is set for 6:30 o'clock in the Memorial chapel of the University of Wooster, and will be followed by a supper at the home of the bride's parents. Green and white are the colors chosen for the wedding. At-home days have been announced for after November 1 in Watson boulevard, Allegheny. The wedding is one of unusual interest, as the Glenns are former residents of Sewickley and are related to the Irwins, the Nevins and the Pews. Mr. Emery is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John A. Emery and is an attorney in this city.

Crookston-Guthrie.

The Protestant Episcopal Church of the Ascension presented an unusually attractive appearance last evening when Miss Agnes Denniston Crookston, William Crookston's daughter, became the wife of John Brandon Guthrie. The Rev. Dr. Robert Waddington Grange, rector of the church, read the marriage service at 7:30 o'clock, the bridal couple being attended by Miss Helen Rebekah Crookston as maid of honor; Havelock Walser of New York city, as best man, and Francis Sellers Guthrie, Francis J. LeMoyne, Bayard Guthrie and Dr. William Judd Crookston as ushers. The bride wore an exquisitely dainty gown of messaline silk and duchesse lace. Her veil, which covered her face, was caught and fastened with a pearl pin, and she carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor appeared in a simple, girlish gown of white mull hung over green silk. In her arms was a large bunch of maidenhair fern. Tall standards of annunciation lilies were combined with palms in the chancel of the church, and lilies in standards marked the pews. White roses and maidenhair fern formed an effective centerpiece on the table, where the wedding supper was served at the Hotel Schenley following the church ceremony. Only the members of the bridal party, with Mrs. LeMoyne, Mrs. Francis Guthrie, Miss Rebecca Marchand and Miss Yolande Marchand, were present at the supper, after which Mr. and Mrs. Guthrie began their wedding trip through the south. They have not yet decided where or when they will be at home, but they expect to return to Pittsburgh during October.

Smith-Branigan.

A pretty home wedding of last evening was that of Miss Clara Lytle Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Smith of Fayette street, Allegheny, and Clifford G. Branigan of New York city. The bride, attended by Mrs. James L. Cunningham of Columbia, Pa., and Miss Gertrude Branigan of New York, wore a beautiful white lace robe and tulle veil with orange blossoms. She carried a prayer book instead of the conventional bouquet. Mrs. Cunningham wore her wedding gown of white lace and carried lavender asters, while Miss Branigan, in lavender crepe de chine, carried white blossoms. The bridal procession was completed by the best man and ushers, John M. Henry of Elmira, N. Y., and James L. Cunningham and Wesley Benner. The Rev. John A. Henderson, pastor of the Third United Presbyterian church of Allegheny, solemnized the marriage, the bride being given away by her father. Lavender and white were the colors chosen for the decorations, which were carried out with asters. At the conclusion of a wedding trip Mr. Branigan will take his bride to New Brighton, Staten Island, N. Y., to live.

Reception to Celebrate Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Gettman gave a large reception at their home in Ripley street last evening to celebrate the fifteenth anniversary of their marriage. From 8 until 11 o'clock were the hours, during which the host and hostess were assisted by Mrs. H. A. Harris, Miss Elizabeth Cooley of Binghampton, N. Y., and Mrs. Charles Mitchell of Butler, all of whom were present at the wedding in 1890, and by Mrs. J. J. Green, Mrs. William Snyder, Miss Katherine Gettman and Mrs. Charles Keplar. The house was tastefully decorated throughout, smilax covering the portiers and curtains and banisters. The parlor was done in pink carnations, the diningroom in red and white and the library entirely in green. Prior to her marriage, which took place in the Third Presbyterian church, Mrs. Gettman was Miss Louise Foster. The Rev. E. R. Donehoo of the West End, who performed the ceremony, was a guest last evening. Mr. and Mrs. Gettman have one child, Clarence Milton Gettman.

Brockman-Kerr.

The marriage of Miss Augusta H. Brockman of Bellevue and Joseph G. Kerr of Wilkinsburg was solemnized at 5 o'clock last evening in the Roman Catholic church of the Assumption, Bellevue. The wedding was attended by more than 100 relatives and friends. Miss Esther Kerr was bridesmaid and Harry Vaillent of Baltimore, Md., best man. Misses Madeline Bell and Elizabeth McBride, cousins of the groom, acted as flower girls. Mrs. O. E. Steitz, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. The ushers included A. J. Bell, A. W. Bell, Albert Berg and Thomas Ebbitts. A reception followed at the residence of Mrs. Steitz. The couple left later for a tour of the great lakes and Canada and on their return will live at Bellevernon.

Will Wed Today.

The wedding of Miss Stella Erskine and James Adamson will take place this evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Erskine, in Amanda street, Knoxville. The Rev. Frederick Gordon, pastor of the Knoxville Christian church, will solemnize the marriage at 8 o'clock in the presence of relatives and intimate friends of the bridal pair. At-home days in Curtain avenue have been announced for after October 4.

CAPTAIN HOTVILLE LOSES HIS LICENSE

Ship's Officer Who Refused to Aid President's Yacht Is Dismissed.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—The failure of Capt. W. H. Hotville, as master of the United Fruit Company's ship Oteri, to give assistance to the president's yacht Sylph, which was disabled off the coast of North Carolina on the night of April 12, has cost him his position through the revocation of his license by the United States steamboat inspection service. This action was taken by inspection officers at Norfolk, Va., on September 12, and the correspondence made public today by the department of commerce and labor. The distress of the Sylph occurred while Lieut. Evans was bringing the vessel up the coast from Florida, where it had been used by Mrs. Roosevelt and the White House children for a cruise.

It appears from the evidence gathered by the steamboat inspection service that Capt. Hotville made little effort to aid the Sylph. The accusation of Lieut. Evans and reply of Capt. Hotville do not materially differ, except that Hotville offered an excuse for his action. In the inspection service, it is said, this excuse was the most damaging evidence obtained.

Falls Out of Hammer's Way.

Frank Johnson was yesterday lifted 15 feet by a drop hammer at the American Ax and Tool Company's works in Glassport. His clothes tore and he fell to the ground, fracturing his left arm. Then the hammer dropped. If the clothes had not given way Johnson would have been crushed to death. He lives at 1104½ Maple avenue, McKeesport.

Among the Clubs.

Fine Exhibit of Ceramic Art.

A very pleasing feature of the at-home which Miss Eichleay gave yesterday afternoon at her home in Boquet street, Oakland, in honor of Mrs. Vance Phillips of New York, was a little exhibit of some really notable examples of this painter's work. A duplicate of a tile painting which now adorns Georgian Court, the costly mansion of George Gould at Lakewood, and which was purchased by Mr. Gould himself, was a striking feature of the little exhibit which was placed about the drawing-room. The painting is in monotone, showing an exquisite figure in the nude. Other examples of Mrs. Phillips' work included a number of miniatures on ivory. Mrs. Phillips is one of the best known ceramic painters in New York city and makes miniature art a speciality.

The guests invited to meet Mrs. Phillips yesterday afternoon were the members of the Duquesne Ceramic club. Miss Eichleay and Mrs. Phillips received alone. The house was prettily decorated with goldenrod. Before the tea the club had a short informal business meeting. Miss Sophie Keenan is chairman of the committee to secure a permanent home, which is now a necessity, as the club has been buffeted about for several years and finds it imperative to the best interests of the club to locate in some suitable and accessible home. The question of such a home was an important feature of the business yesterday.

In the evening Miss Eichleay gave a small card party for her house guest. Today Mrs. Phillips goes to Monongahela City for a couple of days, intending to return to Pittsburgh and leave for her home in New York the last of the week.

Union Missionary Meeting Tomorrow.

Much interest is being taken in the annual meeting of the Women's Union Missionary association of Allegheny county, which will be held in the Cumberland Presbyterian church, Shady avenue and Aurelia street, East End, tomorrow afternoon and evening. Besides the usual missionary program a special committee recently appointed by the executive board to investigate the moral character of the police force of Pittsburgh will report, while several resolutions will be presented on important questions of the day.

The afternoon session will open at 2 o'clock and among the important features will be a report from the Northfield Bible school, given by Mrs. E. M. Hill, the introduction of new missionaries and those home on furlough, the roll call of all the churches of the denominations composing the association, together with a report on temperance presented by Mrs. E. B. Ewer. Mrs. Mary Porter will conduct the memorial service, which will conclude the afternoon session.

In the evening the junior society of the Cumberland Presbyterian church will give an exercise. Mrs. James A. Maxwell of McKeesport is to make an address, giving impressions of the recent Baptist world's congress in London, and an open parliament of young people's work will be conducted by representatives of the Reformed Presbyterian, the Lutheran, Methodist Episcopal, United Presbyterian and Presbyterian churches.

Club Presidents Home from Canada.

Mrs. W. P. Price, the president of the Traveler's club, and Mrs. John Cowley, formerly president of the Tourist club, arrived home yesterday morning from Canada, where they have been for a couple of weeks. They cut their visit short that Mrs. Cowley might return to spend a few hours with her daughter, Miss Elizabeth B. Cowley, who left last evening for New York. Miss Cowley goes directly to Poughkeepsie, where she is an instructor in mathematics in Vassar college.

While in Canada Mrs. Price and Mrs. Cowley visited Toronto, where they attended the annual exposition, whose averaged attendance is rated at 100,000 people a day. They then took the St. Lawrence trip, passing through the lagoons and channels which separate the Thousand Islands. The last week in Canada was spent at Point Jackson on the shores of Lake Simcoe. The last day at that lake, last Sunday, there was a severe storm, when the waves rolled in upon the shore with such thunder that sleep was almost impossible. That was the only stormy day while the Pittsburgh women were north.

Outing in Luna Park.

The Wimodausis club has planned for a very pretty and enjoyable outing today in Luna park. During the afternoon a large euchre will be given, followed this evening by dancing. The tables for the euchre will be placed in the dancing pavilion, and only 150 will be in use, thus insuring less crowded conditions than has sometimes been the case at outings of the club. Playing will commence sharply at 2 o'clock. Mrs. Reese Lindsey is chairman of the committee in charge of the arrangements for the afternoon and evening.

Entertains the Tea Cup Club.

Mrs. Alfred Pettit, the president of the Duquesne Ceramic club and a prominent member of the Tea Cup club, will entertain the members of the latter club together with a few friends at her home in Bartlett street, Squirrel Hill, on Saturday afternoon. It is expected that Mrs. Vance Phillips of New York, who has been visiting Miss Eichleay in Boquet street, will remain in the city to attend the tea, leaving almost immediately afterward for her home in New York.

Homestead Club Will Receive.

The Woman's club of Homestead will observe its president's day on Monday afternoon, September 25, at the home of Mrs. Charles W. Ashley in East Tenth street. The reception and informal meeting will commence at 2 o'clock and there will be addresses by Mrs. De La Cossitt, the president of the Homestead club, and by the presidents of other women's clubs in the Monongahela valley and in Pittsburgh who have been invited to attend.

COMMITTEE HAS UPHELD GRAND SIRE'S DECISION

Important Ruling Has Been Made in the Odd Fellows Order—Past Grands Hold Their Reunion.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 19.—The judiciary committee of the sovereign lodge of Odd Fellows made a report today approving a number of decisions upon questions of law and procedure made by the grand sire during the past year. One of these was a decision involving an interpretation of the present law dealing with the eligibility to membership of those engaged in the liquor business to which a proposed amendment is now pending before the sovereign grand lodge.

The decision made by the grand sire and approved with a slight modification by the judiciary committee, has no bearing upon the proposed amendment, but simply places an official interpretation upon the present law. The judiciary committees report was not made public. The proposed amendment will probably come up for consideration Thursday.

A reunion of past grand representatives took place at Lu Lu temple tonight, at which addresses were made by the Hon. R. Hill Myers, Grand Representative and past grand representative of Winnipeg, Man., and Hon. F. C. Goudy, of Denver, Col. Simultaneously with the reunion there was an exemplification of the patriarchal golden rule and royal purple degrees at Odd Fellow temple, and a grand decoration of chivalry conferred by Gen. M. A. Raney at the Second regiment armory. Later in the night the reception and military ball was held in the Second regiment armory.

BUFFALO
LITHIA WATER
"All the Argument Necessary."

The International Journal of Surgery, August, 1905, under the heading "CYSTITIS" says: "In the treatment of Cystitis water is the great aid to all forms of medication. Moreover, BUFFALO LITHIA WATER is the ideal form in which to administer it to the cystitic patient, as it is not only a pure solvent, but has the additional virtue of containing substantial quantities of the alkaline Lithates. Patients should be encouraged to take from two to four quarts per day if they can, and the relief they will obtain will be all the argument necessary after the first day or so.

Dr. Geo. Ben. Johnston, M. D., LL. D., Richmond, Va., Ex-President Southern Surgical and Gynecological Assn., Ex-President Virginia Medical Society, and Prof. of Gynecology and Abdominal Surgery, Medical College of Virginia: "If I were asked what mineral water has the widest range of usefulness, I would unhesitatingly answer, BUFFALO LITHIA WATER. In Uric Acid Diathesis, Gout, Rheumatism, Lithaemia, and the like, its action is prompt and lasting * * * Almost any case of Pyelitis and Cystitis will be alleviated by it, and many cured. I have had evidence of the undoubted Disintegrating, Solvent and Eliminating power of this water in Renal Calculus, and have known its long continued use to permanently break up the gravel forming habit."

SCHWAB'S PALACE TRIUMPH OF ART

WINS PRAISE OF SCULPTORS

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, Sept. 19.

Charles M. Schwab, accompanied by his valet, returned from Europe today on the Kronprinz Wilhelm, but will remain in the United States for but a short time. He expects to go back to the other side with his wife.

Mr. Schwab hinted that it may have been just possible that he had been in Russia, but would not say whether he had been successful in getting any steel contracts from the czar.

The great French renaissance palace on Riverside drive and Seventy-fourth street, which will be the home of Mr. Schwab, is nearing completion. In about 30 days, or, at most, six weeks, this most princely of New York residences, with its feudal exterior, will be ready for occupation. A small army of decorators is still at work, and a network of scaffolding and canvas coverings still hide the wondrous beauties of the art work collected from all sources.

The main scheme of construction is based on the famous old Touraine castle, the Chateau Chenonceaux, combined with certain characteristics of the Chateau De Blois. Maurice Herbert of Astor court is the architect and has called in more than 100 artists to assist in the scheme of decoration. While the treasures of ancient Europe have been ransacked to serve as models, much of the work has been done in America, and the tapestries in the dining room were made in this country from special designs in the Louis XIV. style. They represent "the four seasons" and "abundance."

The drawing room is decorated in the Louis XVI. style and the library in the period of Henri II. from the castle of Fontinebleau. But the main hall is probably the masterpiece of the whole house. It is a faithful representation of the decoration scheme of the chateus of Blois at the time of Francis I. A magnificent fireplace with highly sculptured mantelpiece of Sienna marble is on the left side of the hall and on the right is the entrance to the Louis XVI. drawing room. The walls of the hall are covered with soft green canvas, while the ceiling is of ivory whiteness.

Unlike many New York residences modeled on the ancient castles of Europe, there is a homelike atmosphere about this gorgeous palace that will make it the envy and admiration of visitors. A whole floor is devoted to guest rooms and the house is designed rather for comfort than for elaborate and spectacular entertainment.

The ground on which the house stands was broken in July, 1902, and the actual building was begun soon after. Unlike the magnificent residence now building in Fifth avenue for Senator William Clarke, the Schwab home has not been greatly disturbed by strikes and lockouts.

Many flattering expressions of opinion apropos of the Schwab residence have come from Europe and more than one notable artist and sculptor from the other side has been astonished at the progress of American art exemplified by this effort.

"On the Hudson," as Mr. Schwab's new home will be called, is already the pride of New York, but will some day be a possession as well, for it is Mr. Schwab's intention to leave the beautiful mansion to the city as a show place and as one of the landmarks in the evolution of American art.

TAKES DYNAMITE TO SCHOOL.

Now the Boy Is Minus a Finger and an Eye and There Are No Pictures on the Walls.

WAYNESBURG, PA., Sept. 19.—(Special.)—A son of Samuel Smith, a building contractor, created consternation in the East Waynesburg public school building today by playing with a stick of dynamite which finally exploded. One of the boy's fingers was blown off and an eye was probably destroyed. Several pupils were knocked down by the explosion. Pictures were blown from the walls and the furniture was damaged.

Two physicians were summoned to the building and attended the children, many of whom suffered from shock.

SPECIAL DISPENSATION FOR MEETING OF RED MEN

Donnally, great cheif of records stating that the great sachem will grant a special dispensation for the joint meeting of all tribes in Allegheny county in Old City hall on November 10. He also states that several of the great chiefs will attend for the purpose of conferring the great council degree on the past sachems of these hunting grounds who are entitled to the degree and have not received it.

Mrs. Riedinger gave psychometric, clairvoyant and clairaudient readings, which were considered very successful.

THE THREE RIVERS

The stage of water at Davis island dam at 9 o'clock last night was 4.2 and the river was falling.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 19.—At 6 p. m. the Ohio river was 14.2 feet and rising. All of the boats which arrived here on the rise out of Pittsburgh with the exception of three have gone back to the mines with empties. The Pittsburgh fleet will go as far up as possible, while the Kanawha fleet will be able to get into the mouth of the river and behind the lock and dams of that stream with their tows for reloading. Capt. Charles Menges of the Monongahela Consolidated Coal Company, said today that he did not expect the boats of his company to get beyond Pomeroy, where they would wait for water from above to help them to reach home. The three boats which were sent to Louisville will return with empties for upriver. The slight rains above have caused a slight rise at Pittsburgh, but indications are that it will not help navigation very materially. Cloudy with heavy showers.

MARIETTA—River 6 feet and stationary. Bessie Smith due from Pittsburgh at midnight tonight.

PACKET BOATS ARE CROWDED

Two Weeks of Low Water Piled Up an Extra Lot of Freight.

Two weeks of low water piled up an extra lot of freight on the Pittsburgh wharf boats and the Kanawha and Bessie Smith, which got in Monday, both had immense freight trips down. The Bessie Smith got away Monday afternoon for Parkersburg and the Kanawha left yesterday afternoon for Charleston. The boat owners expect to make regular trips now, as there is a sufficient stage of water and they think it will last until another rise comes.

A number of towboats are lying at Safe Harbor, Sewickley, and other points down the river, awaiting about a foot more water to bring a lot of empties into the harbor.

A number of pilots made a trip to Beaver Monday afternoon and inspected the river at that point, paying particular attention to the work in progress on the new dams.

The work of rebuilding the bear traps at Davis Island dam has been commenced and will be hurried to completion as rapidly as possible. The towboat Egan is towing supplies and material to the dam.

The I. C. Woodward was the Morgantown boat in and out yesterday.

GREAT OLD TIME FOR THE EDITORS

Program for State Body's Sojourn in Pittsburgh Agreed Upon by Committee.

FIRMS VIE FOR THEIR SHARE

The program for the entertainment of the Pennsylvania State Editorial association during its convention here September 26, 27 and 28, was formally agreed upon yesterday at a meeting of the general committee in the rooms of the Merchants and Manufacturers' association.

The editors and their wives will be kept on the go all the time they are here. Although all their time will be taken up invitations to the general committee, asking that the editors visit certain manufacturing plants, continue to pour in. One firm said it would donate $500 toward the expenses of the entertainment, in case the editors were brought to its plant, about 20 miles from Pittsburgh, but it was impossible to accept the invitation. Supt. James W. Wardrop of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' association, told the committee that numbers of firms have prepared souvenirs for distribution to the editors and the ladies with them.

This is the program, as finally agreed upon: The delegates to the convention will arrive on the morning of September 26. At 1:30 p. m. there will be a reception at the Hotel Schenley, at which a representative of Mayor Hays and John G. Stephenson, Jr., chairman of the general entertainment committee, will make speeches of welcome. At 2 p. m. the delegates will start on a trolley ride through the industrial section. Ten trolley cars will be at the party's disposal. At 8 p. m. Luna park will be visited. On Wednesday, September 27, at 9:30 a. m., the women of the party will be taken on an automobile ride by the Women's Press club. Two big electric busses and 40 automobiles will be needed to convey the women, the trip to wind up with a visit and luncheon at a pickle works in Allegheny. While the women are enjoying themselves the editors will hold a business session at the Hotel Schenley. At 1 p. m. the men and women of the party will be taken up the Monongahela river on a steamboat. The general committee requests that big signs be placed on the river bank, designating the name and nature of the manufacturing plants seen from the river. At 7:30 p. m. the big banquet will be held at the Hotel Schenley, and 450 persons will sit down to it. Congressman James F. Burke will be the toastmaster and Congressman John Dalzell has been invited to speak. Mayor Weaver of Philadelphia was asked to come, but will be unable to be there.

On September 28, at 9:30 a. m., a terminal trip, given by the courtesy of the Pennsylvania railroad, will be taken. It will start from the Union station. The train will stop long enough for inspection of the various Westinghouse works, Heinz's pickle plant, the Pittsburgh Provision and Packing Company's place and the big warehouses of the Pittsburgh Terminal Warehouse and Transfer Company. At 8 p. m. the Pittsburgh Press club will give a "Night in Bohemia" for the editors.

WILL NOT WITHDRAW TROOPS.

Scandinavian Soldiers Are to Be Kept at Distance, but Will Not Be Sent Home.

CHRISTIANIA, Sept. 19.—The Aftenposten declares that though during the negotiations at Karlstadt no troops, either Swedish or Norwegian, will be ordered to the frontier, and though the frontier guards on both sides will withdraw to a distance sufficient to prevent collisions, there is as yet no question of sending the troops home.

KARLSTADT, SWEDEN, Sept. 19.—The Swedish and Norwegian commissioners occupied today in unofficial conferences and there was no joint meeting. It is not expected that a preliminary agreement will be reached until Thursday.

CURIOUS MOB GREETS A CONVICTED WOMAN

PARKERSBURG, W. VA., Sept. 19.—(Special.)—Mrs. Gene Blackshire, convicted at the last term of Calhoun county circuit court, of implication in the killing of her husband, was brought here tonight en route to the penitentiary at Moundsville, to begin her three-year term. Nearly a thousand people met her at the depot and in the mad rush to get a glimpse of the famous criminal, her clothes were torn to shreds and she and her guard were nearly trampled under foot. When lodged in jail she fell in a faint and was unconscious several hours.

Well Known Contractor Dies.

A. E. Grieg, a contractor and builder of 601 South Lang avenue, died at his home last night about 11:30 o'clock, after a few days' illness from heart trouble. Mr. Grieg had been engaged in business in Pittsburgh for a long time, and among his many contracts was the building of the First Cumberland Presbyterian church of Shady avenue and Aurelia street. He was also a preminent member of that church. Mr. Grieg was born at Carmichaels, Pa., and was barely 56 years of age. He is survived by a widow and two daughters, Mrs. Gorhgel of Greensburg, and Miss Mabel, who lives at home. All were at his bedside when he died. The funeral arrangements have not been made as yet.

He will be superintendent of the Beaver Valley Railways Company and will soon move to Beaver. The employes of his present division will give him a banquet and present him with a testimonial before he leaves.

The gashes in his throat showed that he had made several attempts to sever the jugular vein.

ORPHAN CHILDREN WILL ENTERTAIN THE WORKERS

Annual Entertainment at St. Paul's Orphan Asylum Will Be a Big Affair.

The annual entertainment given by the children of St. Paul's orphan asylum at Idlewood, for the people who assisted at the orphans' picnic, will be held on Thursday evening, September 28. This is one of the big affairs at the orphan asylum each year, and gathers together all the men and women who lent their time and efforts to make the orphans' picnic a big success. Each year the entertainment gathers together over 1,000 people, besides many priests and the bishop of the diocese.

The program for the entertainment has just been completed and last night the Rev. Father Michael Lynch, manager of the orphan asylum, announced the date. The entertainment will begin at 8 o'clock and will open with a chorus by the little inmates, who will sing "With Merry Song We Greet You." This will be followed by an address of welcome by one of the little girls, after which the boys will sing "Our Profession." There will be an action song and then a recitation, entitled "The Water Mill." "Our Crew" will be sung by a chorus and the girls will sing "The Sleeping Song." There will be several songs by choruses and a recitation entitled "The Bald-Headed Man."

At the conclusion of the children's entertainment Bishop Canevin will deliver an address. Lunch will be served to those who attend and an orchestra will furnish music. Among those present will be the men who attended the Sunday evening meetings at the Epiphany Lyceum and the women of the following congregations who took charge of booths: The Epiphany church, St. Peter's and St. Andrew's, Allegheny; St. John's, the Holy Cross and St. Mary's of the Mount churches, South Side; St. Brigid's of Enoch street; St. Stephen's of Hazelwood, St. Aloysius of Wilmerding and the Sacred Heart church, East End.

For the Little Ones

To Keep Their Digestion Perfect Nothing is so Safe and Pleasant as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets

Thousands of men and women have found Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets the safest and most reliable preparation for any form of indigestion or stomach trouble.

Thousands of people who are not sick, but are well and wish to keep well, take Stuart's Tablets after every meal to insure perfect digestion and avoid trouble.

But it is not generally known that the Tablets are just as good and wholesome for little folks as for their elders.

Little children who are pale, thin and have no appetite, or do not grow or thrive, should use the Tablets after eating and will derive great benefit from them.

Mrs. G. A. Crotsley, 538 Washington St., Hoboken, New Jersey, writes: "Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets just fill the bill for children as well as for older folks. I've had the best of luck with them. My three-year-old girl takes them as readily as candy. I have only to say 'Tablets' and she drops everything else and runs for them."

A Buffalo mother, a short time ago, who despaired of the life of her babe, was so delighted with the results from giving the child these Tablets that she went before the notary public of Erie Co., N. Y., and made the following affidavit:

Gentlemen: Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets were recommended to me for my two-months-old baby, which was sick and puny and the doctor said was suffering from indigestion. I took the child to the hospital, but there found no relief. A friend mentioned the Stuart Tablets and I procured a box from my druggist and used only the large sweet lozenges in the box and was delighted to find they were just the thing for my baby. I feel justified in saying that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets saved my child's life.

MRS. W. T. DETHLOPE.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 12th day of April, 1897.

HENRY KARIS,
Notary Public in and for Erie Co., N.Y.

For babies, no matter how young or delicate, the tablets will accomplish wonders in increasing flesh, appetite and growth. Use only the large sweet tablets in every box. Full-sized boxes are sold by all druggists for 50 cents, and no parent should neglect the use of this safe remedy for all stomach and bowel troubles if the child is ailing in any way regarding its food or assimilation.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have been known for years as the best preparation for all stomach troubles whether in adults or infants.

MONEY OUTLOOK NOT ONLY RESTRAINING INFLUENCE

Although Tension Is Relaxed Stocks Are Weaker and Tend Toward Lower Level—Wabash Contest Causes Apprehension.

The developments in the New York stock market yesterday were of a kind to show that the assumption recently that the money outlook was the sole restraining influence against higher prices is not entirely correct. It had been urged that the industrial outlook is such that with the anxiety over the money outlook relieved there would be an immediate advance in the general list.

The immediate developments in the money market were distinctly toward relaxation of tension, but this did not prevent weakness in stocks, the tendenecy of prices being toward the lower level from the outset. The technical condition of the market after last week's considerable advance, which moreover was made in face of admonitory pleading on the part of a large element in Wall street, might be held accountable for the reaction in itself. Sufficient profits had accrued from the rise to induce some selling to take advantage of any strengthening influence which would help the market to absorb the sales.

There were besides some factors of a positive nature against the market. On the side of the money situation the most discussed development was the expression of opinion on the part of officials of the Bank of France and of Paris bankers contained in a cable to the Associated Press last night on the prospects of a gold movement to New York.

It was therein clearly disclosed that the Paris banking world would regard a surrender of gold by the Bank of France for shipment to New York with entire equanimity. The impression which has grown up in New York that the money requirements for the flotation of the forthcoming Russian loan would prompt the placing of obstacles to the withdrawal of gold from Paris is dispelled by this expression of opinion on the part of Paris bankers.

The news of the engagement of $1,750,000 of gold for shipment to New York, also contained in the Paris dispatches, was confirmed in New York. It became known that $400,000 additional in gold had been secured yesterday afternoon. The withdrawals up to this time are all from the London market. As a consequence the further advance in the Bank of England rate is expected this week in order to divert New York's demand from London to Paris. This prospect unsettled the London market.

The renewal of the crisis regarding affairs in Morocco was another disturbing influence in foreign markets. The heavy volume of selling for foreign account in the New York stock market was the immediate consequence and this played no small part in the weak tone of the market.

With the course of prices downward once established, more attention was given to other unfavorable factors. The possibility of mischief growing out of the contest for control of the Wabash was much discussed. The depression among the Southwesterns was aggravated by the total discouragement of the hopes of any early dividend disbursement on the Missouri, Kansas & Texas preferred shares contained in the annual report of the president. Railroad earnings in that section, as now reported, compare with the heavy St. Louis exposition earnings of last year, making the contrast unfavorable. The weekly crop bulletin of the weather bureau also reported some damage to the corn crop.

Besides the benefit of additional gold engagements, the New York money market was relieved from the absorption of the sub-treasury, the operations of which have converted the loss of last week by the banks into a small gain. Pension payments and purchases of foreign exchange by the postoffice department are the special items of the increased government expenditure. That institution also paid out several hundred thousand dollars on a transfer from San Francisco. While the immedite conditions of the money market were brightened in this way, opinion toward the prospect for the next few weeks continues decidedly conservative. The average rate for call loans was rather higher than yesterday.

Bonds were heavy. Total sales, par value, $3,150,000. United States bonds were all unchanged on call.

The local market yesterday was quiet and somewhat weaker than on Monday. Crucible Steel preferred advanced at the opening from 66½ to 66¾, but this was lost in the course of the day and the stock sold as low as 65¾ and closed at 65⅞, a loss of ⅝ for the day. The dealings in this issue as on Monday were the largest on the board, 1,203 shares changing hands. The dealings in the common aggregated 550 shares. It closed at 12⅝, a net loss of ⅛.

Manufacturers Light and Heat advanced one point to 27. Ohio Fuel and Philadelphia company common each lost ⅛, closing at 42⅜ and 47½. River Coal preferred was up ¾, 80 shares selling at 25¼. Westinghouse Airbrake was stationary, at 153. Small sales of Colonial Trust and Cosmopolitan National bank were at unchanged prices. The total sales were 3,667 shares of stock and $5,000 bonds.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

Much attention was attracted yesterday by the third advance of the Standards quotations on crude oil. Within a week the price of Pennsylvania has gone up 9 cents, after having been stationary at $1 27 for five months. One interesting side light was the news from Oil City that $1 40 was bid there.

The officers of the American Bankers' Association have decided upon the program for the thirty-first annual convention of the association, to be held at the New National Theater, Washington, for three days, beginning with October 10.

Goulder of Cleveland, will make an address, his topic being "Our Commerce."

The convention of the Savings Bank section will hold a session at the Hotel Shoreham on the opening day of the convention. The convention of the Trust Company section will be held at the New Willard Hotel on the opening day.

STOCKS CLOSE HEAVY AND GENERALLY LOWER

Volume of Business Much Contracted, and Seems to Be Still of Professional Nature.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—The Herald this (Wednesday) morning says:

Stocks declined yesterday, closing heavy and generally lower, although somewhat above the lowest prices of the day. The volume of business was much contracted, but still seemed to be largely of professional character. As a rule, the stocks in which the concentrated trading has recently been so conspicuous were the chief sufferers in the decline. Speculative sentiment was very much mixed, but appeared to be somewhat more bearishly inclined.

The opinions pro or con on the market, however, were solely those of the speculative element. Commission house brokers, with scarcely an exception, stated that there were no signs of public interest in the market. Their attitude was practically unchanged, and, as a rule, they found discouraging operations for the long account.

The important news of the day was made up of the gold import announcement by the firm of Lazard Freres and the National City bank. The combined imports of these interests, however, $8,750,000, had rather a contrary effect than professional Wall street had been led to anticipate. In other words, the coincident advance in money, discounts and bar gold abroad, which was so pronounced a feature of European markets Monday, and which were chiefly influenced by the gold engagements to America forced prices down abroad, depressed our stocks and influenced London selling, which in turn, had an adverse effect on prices here. The revival of the Morocco troubles also unsettled foreign markets. Some excellent railway reports came to hand, and crop advices were generally good, but features of this kind had no influence on prices.

HISTORIC ROOM RESTORED.

Maryland Senate Chamber, in Which Washington Resigned Commission, Stands as of Old.

ANNANAPOLIS, MD., Sept. 19.—The work of remodeling the senate chamber in the old state house at Annapolis, the room of national historic interest as the scene of the resignation of Gen. Washington's military commission, has been practically completed. The work has been under the direction of the architect, Josiah Pennington of Baltimore, aided by the state building commission and a specially appointed commission of architects and historians. After careful research every important detail of the old chamber has been fixed upon with well nigh certainty, and reproduced minutely.

The event with which the room is always associated, took place December 23, 1783, though this was not the only event of national significance connected with it, for there the treaty of peace which ended the war with Great Britain was ratified on January 14, 1784, and there (September 11-14, 1786,) sat the delegates from the six states in the meeting which led to the calling of the federal constitutional convention of 1787.

Residents Tired of Waiting.

Residents of Thirty-third street and vicinity are contemplating a movement toward bringing about the completion of repairs to the bridge in that street. Lumber has been piled up along the walks and in the center of the bridge for weeks and it is claimed that no effort is being made to complete the repair work begun a long time ago.

Foreign Money Markets.

LONDON, Sept. 19.—Money was in good demand in the market today. Discounts had a hardening tendency, lenders being dominated by fears of impending movements of gold and an advance in the Bank of England's rate of discount. On the stock exchange the tendency was toward weakness, the market being overshadowed by the monetary outlook. Business was restricted, the latest Morocco news having an unsettling effect. Consols were depressed, but closed a fraction better. Americans opened steady, reacted to below parity on realizations and New York selling and closed weak and irregular. Continentals were irregular on Paris selling. Japanese were dull and Kaffirs and Rhodesians generally had a downward tendency. Japanese Imperial 6s of 1904 were quoted at 105. Consols for money, quiet at 28⅝d an ounce; money, 1½@2 per cent; the rate of discount for short bills is 3 per cent; the rate of discount for three months' bills is 3 per cent.

PARIS, Sept. 19.—Prices on the bourse today were depressed at the opening owing to the delay in the Moroccan negotiations, but later they improved on official reassurance and at the close had an upward tendency. Russian imperial 4s were quoted at 94.85 and Russian bonds of 1904 at 517. Three per cent rentes, 99 francs 55 centimes for account; exchange on London, 25 francs 17 centimes for checks.

BERLIN, Sept. 19.—On the boerse today domestic coal and iron shares were active and 1 to 2 per cent higher. Other departments were generally inactive. Americans were fractionally higher. Exchange on London, 20 marks 43¼ pfgs.

The Drygoods Market.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Many nearby merchants visited the city today and made fall purchases which they wished shipped immediately. Spot cottons were hard to find in any substantial quantities and buyers have to accept rather late deliveries. Prices though high show no sign of declining. A keen demand is reported for mercerized cotton linings, which are scarce owing to the shortage in gray goods.

FORBES STREET SALE OF $31,000

Harry Nuttall Sells Residence Property at the Corner of Murdock Avenue.

A GOOD CRAIG STREET DEAL

Through the Real Estate Trust Company Harry Nuttall has sold to a prominent oil producer a fine residence property at the northeast corner of Forbes street and Murdock avenue, Twenty-second ward, for $31,000. Two years ago Mr. Nuttall bought the property through the same brokers from the Wheeler estate. It is 150 feet square and is only one square from the Murdoch entrance to Schenley park and the costly homes of W. L. Mellon and Julian Kennedy. On the lot there is a two-story brick and shingle residence, well finished and provided with modern improvements, and a stable. The buyer expects to spend about $15,000 at once in further improving the property before he occupies it as a home.

The Commonwealth Real Estate Company has sold for Lucy P. Neely and others to Benjamin F. Thaw 205-207 Craig street, Fourteenth ward, for $17,000. The lot measures 40x100 feet on the east side of the street, between Henry and Winthrop streets, and is improved with two brick houses. It is directly opposite the J. Bieler residence and adjoins the Friday property at the corner of Winthrop street. It is predicted by real estate men that good-sized lots all along Craig street will command a much higher price in a few years for business purposes, owing to the demand for good sites for drug stores, apartment buildings, etc., which will supply the needs of the population that is bound to center in this institutional neighborhood.

Property Must Be Resold.

The deed was registered yesterday in the transfer to Father H. McHugh from William A. Dunlap of the property at the northeast corner of Fifth avenue and Robinson street, the consideration being $73,500. The lot is 128x316 feet, and on it are some old buildings. This is the property purchased last June as a site for St. Agnes' Roman Catholic church, which is now on the south side of Fifth avenue, near Boston street. After the purchase was closed it was found that the site is too close to the Cathedral parish, and for this reason the Robinson street site will be sold as soon as a satisfactory buyer appears.

Thomas A. Coleman has bought from Richard M. Gulick 160x118 feet on the north side of Homer street, near North Negley avenue, Nineteenth ward, for $16,000. Mr. Coleman already has plans drawn for five brick houses which he will erect on the lot at a cost of $6,000 each. This will complete the building up of the street, except two lots near Haights avenue.

A new deal is well advanced for the purchase of the Munden property in Federal street, between Erie street and Montgomery avenue, Allegheny. Two months ago the property was reported sold for $50,000, but the deal never went through. It has a frontage of 40 feet in Federal street and runs through to West Diamond street, where it is 60 feet wide.

Brighton Heights Improvements.

Eight good houses—not one of them a frame dwelling—are already assured for the new Brighton Heights allotment. A local architect has plans completed for a $10,000 residence which he will build for himself at the corner of Cornell and Wellesley avenues. Foundations have been started for two of the other houses and the remaining five will be started by October 1. These houses will cost from $5,000 to $8,000 each and will be built by persons who have bought lots the past two weeks. Besides this lot six houses will be erected this fall by the Brighton Heights Land Company on the property. Over $50,000 worth of lots have been disposed of since the sale started. All the Termon avenue frontage between Brighton road and Walker avenue has been sold at $40 a foot and lots along the proposed extension of Termon avenue to Riverview park are being picked up rapidly.

Architect Edward Stotz has plans for a brick and frame residence for Herman Straub to be built at Butler at a cost of $20,000.

Architects E. J. Carlisle & Co. are preparing plans for a three-story brick store and apartment building for Katz & Goldsmith at Braddock avenue and Seventh street, Braddock, to cost $40,000.

Architect U. K. Beam has plans for an automobile factory in Summerlea street for the Pittsburgh Motor Vehicle Company, lately organized to manufacture motor delivery cars.

John Strubler will build a $10,000 business block in Ambridge from plans by Architect J. A. Haller.

In ancient times, before Pittsburgh tried to assume metropolitan airs, her sidewalks were kept for the benefit of the public. Of late years the supposition that the public has any right to them is evidently a false one. Instead they are given over to the use of contractors and teamsters, and the daintily-clad afternoon shoppers may get along as best they can with a path perhaps 18 inches wide. Merchants have been exasperated beyond measure the last few months at the blocking of the pavements all over the city with clumsy and unsightly piles of paving stones which have stood for weeks and months a menace to the safety and convenience of the public and a great drawback to business. Sixth and Smithfield streets have been persecuted more or less all summer by this sort of thing. Oliver avenue has been lined with great piles of paving blocks for weeks. And now Fourth avenue pavements are beginning to be blocked with piles of stones, although there are no other signs apparent of new pavements. Merchants say that the department of public works pays no attention to the time when the stones will be needed, but orders them hauled and lets the public take the inconvenience and the merchants the losses that cannot fail to result. A big wholesale merchant several weeks ago went to Director Bigelow and asked that there be no more paving stones piled in front of his place of business until they were needed. For three days the teamsters stopped. Then the work went on until his front entrances were practically blocked with the stone piles. Such proceedings, the merchants say, are an open insult to every business man along the street besides a constant annoyance to thousands of persons who travel the sidewalks daily.

The Wool Market.

LONDON, Sept. 19.—A large number of buyers attended the opening of the fifth series of wool auction sales today. The offerings numbered 9,408 bales, chiefly crossbreds. The demand was active throughout, with home buyers taking the bulk of the wool sold. A small supply of Merinos was in good demand. A few lots of superior combing were bought for America at full rates. The offerings of Cape of Good Hope and Natal wool were small. Owing to the high limits set by sellers most of this wool was bought in. The following advances were noted: Merinos, 5 per cent; fine crossbreds, 5 per cent; medium crossbreds, 7½ per cent; coarse crossbreds, 7½@10 per cent; and Cape of Good Hope and Natal, 5 per cent. Following are the sales in detail: New South Wales, 300 bales; scoured, 10½d@1s 9½d; greasy, 10½d@1s 3d; Queensland, 400 bales; scoured, 1s 2d@1s 11d; greasy, 11¼d@1s 2½d; South Australia, 48 bales; greasy, 11½d; West Australia, 600 bales; greasy, 7d@1s; New Zealand, 6,500 bales; scoured, 9d@1s 11½d; greasy, 7½d@1s 5½d; Cape of Good Hope and Natal, 800 bales; scoured, 10d@1s 11½d; greasy, 6½d@8½d; River Plata, 300 bales; scoured, 10d@1s 7½d.

BOSTON, Sept. 19.—The wool market has been more dull than for some weeks. The demand is fairly well distributed. There is a quiet demand for quarter blood and low medium fleece wools. Ohio mediums are quoted at 34@35c. Pulled wools are scarce. Territory grades are in steady movement. Foreign wools are firm. SUGAR SUSTAINS BIG DROP IN LOCAL MARKET

Price Is Cut 15 Points and May Go Lower—Flour Also On Down Grade.

Sugar and flour both sustained drops yesterday, sugar falling off 15 points, as anticipated in The Gazette yesterday morning. The market is weak at that, and further declines are not unlooked for. This is the lowest price at which sugar has been selling for several years. Flour is also getting down to a low figure, $5 30 and $5 40 being quoted for fancy patents, with plenty of shading at that figure. Jobbers are still confident the price is going to $5 or under, some even saying that large lots can now be purchased at that figure. The northwestern mills report increased sales and some large ones. If this is correct it is certain the large sales are being effected at a basis considerably under the present quotations. Sugar jobbers have nothing hopeful to offer in higher prices for that commodity. They think it is going considerably below its present level.

Green goods were slow yesterday, but fruits were in good demand. The high price of fruits does much to hold back sales, buyers preferring to wait in hope of something cheaper. There is little prospect of this, but the figures asked are having an effect on the amount of fruits being put up this season. At present figures housewives decide they can buy during the winter the preserves, etc., they may want and save themselves trouble and work.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Receipts.

Receipts yesterday were: Pennsylvania, 11½ cars oats, 2½ cars corn, 44 cars hay, 11 cars feed. Baltimore & Ohio, 2 cars oats, 2 cars hay. Lake Erie, 3 cars rye, 3 cars hay, 1 car straw, 1 car oats, 1 car corn.

Oats still continue to advance owing to scarcity here. Prices are on the upward bound. Middlings are much in demand and quotations are advancing. Receipts of corn are not heavy and prices hold firm. Straw is steady.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

For the first time in the history of the Coeur d'Alenes in Idaho, zinc is being saved from the ores mined. A shipment of this metal will be made from the Success mine this week. The Success was formerly known as the "Old Granite," on Nine Mile.

An official investigation of the smelting industry of Mexico has just been made by direction of the Mexican government, with the view of determining to what extent the American Smelting and Refining Company, known as the smelter trust, is interested in that business. The results of the investigation show that the charge that the smelter trust controls the smelting industry of Mexico is unfounded. It is shown that the total capacity of its own and allied smelters in this country is only about 4,000 tons daily, while the total capacity of the independent smelters in Mexico in operation at this time is 14,500 tons daily.

What appears to be the greatest and richest find of ore in the Cripple Creek district since the famous W. P. H. was opened has just been encountered at a depth of 650 feet on the Jerry Johnson property, in the shaft being sunk by Frank T. Caler of Denver. Between six and seven feet of rock is showing in the bottom of the shaft, much of which will run between 10 and 12 ounces to the ton, and much of it will average higher values.

Plans are being drawn for the erection and equipment of a ten rapid-drop stamp amalgamating and concentrating mill for the Penobscot Mining and Milling Company, and grading work has already been commenced on its mill site in Gamball gulch. The mill is to be completed in 60 days. The company will also install a 100-horse power boiler and a four or five air compressor, intending to use the latter for driving its big tunnel from Gamboll gulch to Tip Top mountain. Large bodies of concentrating ore, as well as a good grade of smelting mineral, have been opened up.

The construction of the arranged-for electric traction line from the Tomboy mills to Telluride and Pandora will probably lead to the adoption of like means of rapid transit in many other districts which have no better way of communication between the mines and railway terminals than pack trains or wagons. The advantage of rapid haulage of ores and supplies has been very fully illustrated by the Gilpin county tramway, with its two-foot gauge and steam locomotive, which reaches and accommodates every shipping property in the Central, Nevada and Russell districts, and in the high and low electric lines at Cripple Creek, supplemented by steam railways covering much the same territory.

Jacobs Brothers of Denver are reported to have made a good strike in their Horseshoe shaft in Moon gulch, Central City, Col., at a depth of less than 30 feet, having some milling ores, besides a streak of good grade smelting ores. They are intending to get out a shipment and send a carload lot to the Denver smelters.

The Metal Markets.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—The London tin market reacted slightly following the declines of yesterday, closing at £145 5s for spot and £144 10s for futures. Locally the market was very quiet with prices a shade steadier at 31.60@31.90. Copper was easier abroad, closing at £68 12s 6d for spot and £68 10s for futures. Locally the market was reported quiet. Some dealers are said to be holding supplies higher than the range regularly quoted, but on the other hand there are rumors of business at still lower figures. Lake and Electrolytic are quoted at $16 00@16 25 and casting at $15 75@16 00. Lead was quiet and unchanged at $4 85@4 90 in the local market, but was lower at £12 16s in London. Spelter was higher abroad, closing at £26 7s 6d for spot in London and at $5 85@5 95 in the local market. Iron was easier in the English markets with standard foundry quoted at 46s 3d and Middlesboro at 48s. Locally the tone is firm. No. 1 foundry northern is quoted at $16 25@17 25; No. 2 foundry northern at $16 50@16 75; No. 1 foundry southern at $16 25@16 75, and No. 2 foundry southern at $15 75@16 50.

MOVEMENT OF GRAIN WEAKENS THE MARKET

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—Heavy movement of wheat in the northwest had a weakening effect today on the wheat market here. At the close wheat for December was off ⅛c. Corn is up ½c. Oats are practically unchanged. Provisions are down 2½@10c.

Sentiment in the wheat pit at the opening was rather bearish and initial quotations showed slight losses, December being off a shade to ⅛@¼c at 83⅞@84c. The principal factor contributing to the easier tone was continued marketward movement of enormous quantities of new wheat in the northwest. Notwithstanding additional rains throughout the greater portion of the spring wheat belt, arrivals today at Minneapolis and Duluth totaled 1,083 cars, as against 660 cars a year ago. At Winnepeg, also, receipts showed a marked increase. It was asserted that the movement would be much greater but for the inability of railroads to furnish sufficient cars. Lower prices for wheat at Liverpool added emphasis to bearish sentiment here. For a time the market had the appearance of being on the verge of a sharp decline. Pit traders sold freely and caused a slump of the December delivery to 83½c. A prominent bull, however, came to the support of the market. Forced by demand from this source, the market rallied, December advancing to 84⅜c. Later the market eased off again on renewed selling by pit traders and commission houses. The close was easy, with December at 83⅞@84c. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 233,000 bushels. The world's visible supply, as shown by Bradstreets, increased 2,900,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 1,285,000 bushels, compared with 1,000,000 bushels a year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 1,143 cars, against 782 cars last week, and 813 cars a year ago.

Damage to the corn crop resulting from heavy rains in the southwest had a bullish effect on the corn market. A feature of trading was active demand for the May delivery from several prominent traders. Commission houses were fairly active bidders for both December and May. Liberal receipts caused some easiness at the start. The market closed firm. December opened unchanged to ⅛c lower at 44⅜@44½c, sold up to 45@45⅛c, and closed at 44⅞c. Local receipts were 657 cars, with 306 of contract grade.

Business in the oats pit was rather inactive. At the opening there was some selling by discouraged longs and by cash houses. As a result, prices sagged off a trifle. Later a steadier tone developed on covering by shorts. The close was steady. December opened a shade to ⅛c lower at 28⅛@28¼c to 28¼c, sold up to 28½c and closed at 28⅜c. Local receipts were 368 cars.

Provisions were comparatively steady. Offerings were not large, and were readily taken by shorts. At the close January pork was off 10c at $12 32½. Lard was off 2½@5c at $6 82½. Ribs were down 2½@5c at $6 45@6 47½c.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 51 cars; corn, 426 cars; oats, 181 cars; hogs, 28,000 head.

Third Advance in a Week Bring Joy to Oil Operators.

The oil market is advancing at a rapid rate and no indication of any new conditions arising to retard its movement in the direction that will bring joy and merited prosperity to the oil producer and operator. Yesterday morning the Purchasing agency posted new quotations for credit balances, making the third 3 cent advance for crude of the Pennsylvania grade within a week. The three advances, coming in rapid succession, have inspired hope that it may go on up to $1 50 or higher. With the market at $1 50 or better there will be a large amount of new work started and in the oil fields there will be a general overhauling of the old wells in an effort to make them do better. At no time in the past has such a movement failed to bring an increase in production. It is questionable, however, whether or not the old-time plan can bring a sufficient increase to meet the demand and stop the drain on stocks that has been almost continuous since the first of the year. Should the consumption be maintained for another six months it it not at all likely that enough high-grade crude can be produced to meet the demand. New producing territory has been growing scarcer each month and that not fully developed cannot be relied on to furnish anything better than light wells.

The new quotations posted are as follows: Pennsylvania, $1 36; Second Sand, $1 26; North Lima, 92c; South Lima and Indiana, 87c. All other grades were advanced proportionally, except Ragland, the Kentucky heavy grade, which remains at 49c.

In the new development, near Wellsburg, Brook county, Jones Bros. & Co. have completed and shot their test on the A. Lewis farm and have a show for a 10-barrel pumper. This test is located in advance of developments and its size does not give promise of extending the producing area of the pool. Two and one-half miles northeast of Hundred, on the left fork of Churchs run, in Church district, Wetzel county, the Philadelphia company has completed a test on the James Lewis farm and has a light gasser in the Gordon. Southeast of Hundred one mile the same company has completed a test on the Hemilrick heirs' farm and has a fair gasser in the Gordon.

On Sugar Creek, Meade district, Tyler county, and northeast of the Wick pool, the Cater Oil Company has completed its No. 4 on the Eli B. Long farm and has a show for a 25-barrel producer in the Big Injun. In the same district the Tri-State Gas Company has drilled its test on the L. J. Myers farm through the Big Injun and developed a very light show of oil. Unless a shot helps it will not make a paying producer. In the Littleton district, Wetzel county, the Hope Natural Gas Company has completed its test on the Matthew Carney farm and will have a very light pumper in the Gordon. It will not make better than a five of 10-barrel producer.

In the Smithfield district, Wetzel county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its test on the J. A. Harris farm through the fifth sand and has developed no oil or gas. It is still drilling. In the same district the same company's test on the Lindsay Stewart farm produced 25 barrels the first 24 hours after drilled into the pay. The hole has filled up 2,500 feet with fluid. In the Wallace district, Harrison county, the South Penn has drilled its No. 4 on the Michael Manion farm 35 feet into the sand and has developed no oil or gas. In the Fairview district, Marion county, the South Penn has tubed and will put its No. 9 on the A. Darrah farm to pumping. It will make a light producer.

In the Yellow Creek district, Calhoun county, the Guaranty Oil Company has drilled its No. 2 on the Robert Knight lot through the Berea grit and has a duster. In the same district the South Penn company's No. 1 on the U. S. G. Hickman farm is dry in the same formation. Near Sedalia, Doddridge county, the Wheeling Natural Gas Company has completed a test on the R. Allen farm and has a gasser in the Gordon.

On the Ohio side, in the Harriettsville district, Noble county, the Blake Farm Oil Company has completed No. 9 on the Catherine Blake farm and has a 5-barrel pumper in the 500-foot sand. In the same district the Hard Luck Oil Company has completed its No. 3 on the Daniel Williams, Jr., farm and has a 5-barrel pumper in the stray sand. N. S. Burton has completed his No. 8 on the T. J. Smithberger farm and has a duster in the Buells Run sand. Milbach, Fields & Co. have completed No. 3 on the Lee Bros.' farm and have a 5-barrel pumper in the same formation.

In the Homeworth district, Columbiana county, Jennings Bros. & Co. have drilled their test on the I. A. Miller farm through the Berea grit and have a duster. This test is located the farthest north of any in the Homeworth pool. West of Homeworth, Leonard & Co. have completed their second test on the Powell farm and have a show for a light pumper. There are some new wells starting in the Homeworth district and several now drilling should get the sand this week.

The local fields are completing very few wells. In the Burgettstown district, Washington county, R. G. Gillespie has completed his No. 8 on the Welch heirs' farm and has a show for a 5-barrel pumper. In the same district Guffey & Queen have completed a test on the Prye farm and have a show for a very light pumper. Near Woodville, Allegheny county, James Downing & Co. have completed a test on the James Porter farm and have a show for a small pumper.

IMPROVEMENT AT UNION STATION

Crew Dispatchers to Have Larger Office to Care for the 1,000 Men Daily There.

MAKING UP B. & O. PROGRAM

The Pennsylvania system is to have better facilities for the handling of its passenger train crews at the Union station. The old crew dispatchers' headquarters in room 107 on the first office floor of the Union station has become far too small to handle conveniently and comfortably the 1,000 or more men who report there every day, and particularly through the week, when the suburban trains are operated.

To secure larger quarters one of the three large connecting rooms that have served as the reading room for the passenger conductors and trainmen will be fitted up for the crew dispatching office. This room is about three times larger than the present dispatching office and will give ample room for the work. It is room 106 and is at the eastern end of the north tier of offices in the Union station. The new quarters will be ready for use in a couple of weeks.

The crew dispatching room will be fitted up in the most modern way with a three-division crew board, on which the standing of the crews are noted. There will also be a larger bulletin board for general orders and notices for the conductors and trainmen to examine carefully. The special bulletin board for the orders of the passenger train masters, for new crew block lists, etc., will also be larger. The new office will also give additional room for the crew dispatchers and telegraph operators, whose rooms in the present office is too small.

At present all the crews of the Pittsburgh and river divisions of the Pennsylvania railroad and the Pittsburgh division of the Panhandle report to this office and receive their orders and instructions there.

At the same time the conductors and trainmen of the West Penn and Monongahela divisions of the Pennsylvania and the Eastern, Cleveland & Pittsburgh and Erie & Pittsburgh divisions of the northwest system receive their information of general notices and orders and are given their train orders from the same office. This gives the office the handling of at least 1,000 men daily for train orders. For the former three divisions, the crews are handled entirely, assignments being made by the crew dispatchers, the matter of uniforms being watched and such other matters as concern the passenger crews being cared for. These matters concerning the crews of the West Penn, Monongahela, Eastern, Cleveland & Pittsburgh and Erie & Pittsburgh divisions are handled by the train masters of the divisions in Allegheny and Ormsby.

There are three men in charge of the office as crew dispatchers, W. E. Shaffer having the day trick, Hunter H. Stone the afternoon and evening and A. M. Borland the night trick. These men report direct to Station Master W. H. Niebaum, who in turn reports to General Agent H. A. Jaggard, who has charge of all terminal matters of the Pennsylvania system.

With the Newly-Married Railroaders.

Joseph W. Schneiders of the office of Charles Watts, general superintendent of passenger transportation of the Pennsylvania lines west, returned to duty yesterday after an absence of two weeks on a honeymoon trip with his bride, who was Miss Shriver of Baltimore, to New York, Albany and Chicago.

W. W. Parker of the Panhandle expects to return to duty next week on the Dennison accommodation after taking up his residence with his bride in Dennison. He and Miss Jennie Wagner of Philadelphia Road, O., were married at Dennison and have spent their honeymoon in Washington, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

T. E. Hughes, the chief clerk of the Pennsylvania's Monongahela division at Donora, and Miss Rachel Foster of Donora, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Foster, were married at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and left for a trip to Wilkes-Barre and New York.

Charles Bartells, chief clerk in the office of General Yardmaster C. Donahue of the Pennsylvania passenger terminal, has returned to duty from a visit with his bride to eastern cities.

Making Up Program for 1906.

Baltimore & Ohio officers of the Pittsburgh division are busy just now traveling over the lines of the division to make up the structure and bridge program for next year. The officers of the operating and maintenance of way departments inspected the line between here and Connellsville for this object yesterday, and they will spend today on the Wheeling & Pittsburgh branch of the road. The Pittsburgh & Western and narrow gauge lines will probably occupy their attention the remainder of this week. On the line from here to Connellsville there will not be bridge or structural improvements of any extent next year, but it is probable that something will be done in this line on the Wheeling & Pittsburgh branch, the "Pike," in order to bring it to a splendid condition for the gradually increasing use that is being made of it for passenger and freight traffic. On the Pittsburgh & Western new bridges have been provided this year, some of the work still being under way. It is probable that new stations will be asked at several points on the Pittsburgh division.

Those in the inspection party yesterday included Superintendent B. W. Duer, Train Master C. B. Gorsuch, Division Engineer L. P. Rossiter, Master Carpenter W. C. McCullough, Supervisors William Padden and T. F. Donahue and Chief Clerk O. C. Castle of Superintendent Duer's office. Supervisor B. White of the Wheeling & Pittsburgh branch will accompany the division officers over the "Pike" today.

Opening Lecture of B. & A. V.

The opening lecture of the winter's series to be given under the auspices of the Buffalo & Allegheny Valley railroad branch of the Young Men's Christian Association of Pittsburgh at the headquarters of the branch at Forty-third street, will be delivered Friday evening by J. B. Griggs. His subject is "Ireland," and the lecturer has gained much interesting information from observation and study of the people of the Emerald Isle, and the talk will be enhanced by 125 views shown by lantern slides. Members of the Buffalo & Allegheny Valley branch will be admitted free with their wives, while a fee of 25 cents will be charged to outsiders. Any fund resulting will be devoted to the association work.

Morgan and the "Great Central."

DETROIT, MICH., Sept. 19.—President Russell Harding of the Pere Marquette railway, arrived here today, and in a discussion of the future ownership of the Pere Marquette said: "There seems to be no doubt that J. P. Morgan has purchased the controlling interest in the road. There are three solutions possible. Mr. Morgan may unite the Detroit, Toledo & Ironton interests with his southern railroad lines. He may turn over the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton system, with the Pere Marquette, to the Vanderbilt and Pennsylvania interests, and he may unite the Great Central lines with the Erie to make a third great system. Which one of these solutions Mr. Morgan may decide upon no one knows but himself."

Mr. Harding did not regard the future of the Pere Marquette to be placed in jeopardy by the change in ownership.

Invitations to Club Meeting.

The invitations to the opening meeting of the Railway club of Pittsburgh have been issued by Secretary J. D. Conway. The secretary has used his usual manner of securing the attendance of members by assuring them of an excellent period of entertainment and instruction for the outing on Friday afternoon at Imperial, and the meeting in the evening at the Monongahela house, when a paper on "End Shocks in Car Service and Provision for Same in Car Framing" will be presented by A. Stucki, M. E., of Pittsburgh.

Railroad Notes.

Gardner I. Israel, traveling freight agent of the Delaware & Hudson, has returned to duty from his vacation, part of which he spent at Chicago.

The Pennsylvania handled 7,840 cars at Harrisburg between Sunday midnight and Monday midnight, thus bettering the former high record of 7,300 cars.

Miss R. E. White, telegraph operator at "BX" office, Union station, is enjoying a vacation of two weeks, part of which she will spend in Washington, D. C.

Edwin L. Calhoun, chief clerk to F. R. Eshelman, manager of the Pennsylvania lines' advertising bureau, has returned with Mrs. Calhoun from a vacation jaunt in Ohio.

S. M. Rankin, chief clerk in the general passenger transportation department of the Pennsylvania lines, is enjoying a vacation with Mrs. Rankin at Ocean City.

Conductor W. H. Black of Washington, Pa., of the Panhandle passenger list, who has been in ill health, has gone with Mrs. Black to Wisconsin for the benefit of his health.

D. F. Williams, chief clerk to General Superintendent A. M. Schoyer of the Northwest system, Pennsylvania lines west, is expected to resume his duties this morning after a vacation of two weeks.

F. J. Ward, lost article clerk in the baggage department of the Pennsylvania system at the Union station, is spending his vacation at his home in Massachusetts. Jesse H. Aultz of the same department, accompanied by his wife, is visiting friends at Huntingdon, Somerset and Philadelphia.

JUDGE BROWN IS MERCIFUL

Gray-Haired Woman Found Guilty of Larceny Gets One Day to Workhouse.

WERT & McLEAN GO UNDER

Mrs. Nellie Keptner, a woman whose hair was streaked with gray, created a pathetic scene in criminal court yesterday as she wept before the bench when the jury found her guilty of the larceny of a $60 diamond stud from Mrs. Lena Appleman of Coraopolis, but recommended her to the extreme mercy of the court. The woman seemed dazed when the clerk called out the verdict, and grasped the railing for support, bursting into tears. Judge Brown was affected by the old woman's grief. Addressing the jury, he was very glad they had recommended the prisoner to the mercy of the court, as it showed their big heartedness, and the verdict would meet the ends of justice. He then called Mrs. Keptner forward and in a kindly tone of voice sentenced her to one day in the workhouse.

Mrs. Keptner, who did not seem to understand the sentence, staggered back to the prisoners' box, where she was surrounded by several women, evidently children or relatives, and they mingled their tears together. A deputy sheriff who knew that the workhouse sentence was only a matter of form to relieve the woman of the court costs, came forward and explained the sentence to Mrs. Keptner. The tears of the women were then turned to smiles, and while the prisoner was being taken to jail, where she was to be discharged from custody after the records were completed, the other women hurried out of the court house to give her a glad welcome as she emerged from the jail doors a free woman.

Pleaded Guilty to Robbery.

Blaine Confer pleaded guilty to robbing the residence of Samuel C. Garvin in Perrysville avenue, Allegheny, in August, of jewelry and clothing valued at $50. He was sentenced to a year to the workhouse. Kirk Graner, who entered a plea of no defense to passing a forged check for $47 on Richman & Foster, cigar manufacturers, in Clark street, was sentenced six months to the workhouse. Graner forged his father's name, but the latter refused to make good the amount.

Other sentences were: Nick Schadron, selling liquor illegally, three months to the workhouse; Peter Cooper, receiving stolen goods, one day to the workhouse.

The case of Frederick Matzgar, charged with a felony by the mother of Mary Neeper, a 14-year-old girl living in Baldwin township, is still on trial.

The rule for an interpleader to determine the ownership of an automobile known as the "Green Dragon" was made absolute by Judge Shafer. The car is used by Barney Oldfield for racing purposes and was attached by Frank Clemson. The sheriff allowed the car to be taken out for a race in Ohio, to which Clemson objected. Judge Shafer says it makes no difference where the sheriff keeps the car, as his bond is responsible. The attachment is against the Peerless Motor Car Company. The Peerless company claims to own the machine.

Joseph A. West, a brick manufacturer of Beaver, and Luke F. Darrall, a mine superintendent of Kittanning, filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy, both as individuals and as partners in the West & McLease Brick Company of Allegheny City. They state their liabilities at $64,682 24 and their assets at $15,507 66. Mr. West states his individual liabilities at $323,616 41, a large part of which is secured, and his assets at $62,139 86. Mr. Darrall states his individual liabilities at $70,498 41, a large part of which also is secured, and his assets at $6,034 68. Both of them report a number of assets on which they say they are not able to place a definite value. The cause of this bankruptcy is said to have been an unsuccessful attempt to promote a railroad and develop coal in West Virginia.

E. J. Schattentroger, an architect, entered a suit against the Commonwealth Realty Company to recover $11,160, alleged to be due on a contract to furnish plans and specifications and to superintendent construction.

Wife Makes Serious Charges.

A libel in divorce was filed by Emma B. Krueger against her husband, Oscar E. Krueger. She avers that her husband deserted her in March, 1904, and that he has lived a life of infidelity since. She also sets forth that he held himself out publicly as the husband of one Mrs. Jane Wilhelm, a widow, and that on August 25, 1905, at the Jackson hotel, Atlantic City, he registered the names of Mrs. Jane Wilhelm and her son as O. E. Krueger, wife and child.

Krueger is a real estate man. Several years ago his wife was sent to Dixmont. She was released on a writ of habeas corpus, it being shown to the satisfaction of the court that she was not insane. Shortly after this a fight was made between Krueger and his wife for the custody of their only child. The child was awarded to Mrs. Krueger by Judge Evans after an extended hearing.

Other libels in divorce were: Joseph Gottlieb against Mary Gottlieb, infidelity; Elizabeth H. McGovern against Richard J. McGovern, willful and malicious desertion; Annie L. Gasser against Albert Gasser, desertion.

The following decrees in divorce were granted: Elizabeth L. Thomas from William J. Thomas, Henry Witzgall from Jennie Witzgall, Cora B. Kirkpatrick from William F. Kirkpatrick, Hattie J. Barbour from Robert O. Barbour; Reinhold Buehl from Minnie Buehl, all on the ground of desertion; and Frank E. Moorman from Gertrude A. Moorman, infidelity. In a decree granting a divorce to George J. Geismar from Carrie E. Geismar, for infidelity, the court enjoins her from marrying at any time Albert Kennedy or George Demtie.

Judge Buffington handed down an opinion in the case of S. A. Coleman, for use of the Commonwealth National bank of Steubenville, against the borough of New Kensington. The court awards the plaintiff $22,858.20. The action was brought for brick furnished the borough, the defendant having been given three vouchers of $5,000 each and one voucher of $2,500. The borough failed to pay the vouchers.

Penalty for Remarriage.

The will of Isaac Le Fevere gives to his son, Harry E. Le Fevere all his interest in the oil and gas leases and leaves to his widow all his remaining real and personal property. If she remarries it is to go to his son. The real and personal property of the deceased is $26,000. The Citizens Deposit and Trust Company of Sharpsburg is appointed executor.

At the suit of C. H. Rosenthal and others, tenants at 85 Fulton street, a preliminary injunction was granted restraining K. Kiebansky and others from putting two additional stories on the building. The plaintiffs say they have a lease until April 1 and the work is interfering with them. The case will be argued on Friday.

Beatrice L. Parkhurst of Wilkinsburg has asked to be made a femme sole trader. She says her husband is addicted to the use of liquor.

A preliminary injunction was obtained by the Central District Printing and Telegraph Company and the American Telegraph and Telephone Company restraining the borough of West Elizabeth from interfering with their wires. The Central company has a right of way through the borough, and the officials of the latter object to the American company's wires on the poles. The writ is returnable Saturday.

The Club Restaurant Company was sued for $5,000 damages by George F. Lawall yesterday. He says he was assaulted and ejected on June 17, to his great humiliation.

In the United States district court yesterday the printing plant of Harry D. Burgess, bankrupt, was sold to Percy F. Smith for $3,000.

Thomas Bain, a tank worker, filed a suit against the Petroleum Iron Works Company asking damages in $50,000 for injuries received by the breaking of a scaffold.

TELLS WHY SHERRICK WAS DISMISSED

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

HAMILTON, IND., Sept. 19.—In an address at the reunion of the Thirtieth Indiana regiment today, Gov. Hanley, the principal speaker, made public his reasons for his action in the case of David E. Sherrick, ex-auditor of state, whose resignation was forced by the governor. Facts and figures were used to show what became of the state's money lost by David E. Sherrick, late auditor of state.

The governor charged that $10,000 of the state's money went by check into the hands of the gentleman who was then operating the "Casino" at French Lick. The governor then enumerated a list of what he calls "wildcat" securities, aggregating a face value of $75,000, into which the state's money went.

Following this he charged that Sherrick's continued absence from the sessions of the state board of tax commissioners "was occasioned by drinking bouts and midnight carousals around the gaming table, from which he could not recover in time to meet with the commission. As to the other statement that the public officers, municipal, county and state, are doing as Mr. Sherrick did," said the governor, "I need only enter a general denial. It is not true. Some of them may be, but if satisfactory proof of that fact be established, I pledge you here and now that such officers will have successors within 30 days after the information comes to me."

"Babes in Toyland."

Hamlin & Mitchell's production of the musical extravaganza, "Babes in Toyland," is to be the attraction at the Nixon theater next week. "Babes in Toyland" ran for 250 nights in New York City, 100 nights in Boston, and over 150 in Chicago. As to the gorgeous nature of the production, both from the standpoint of scenic display and magnificent costuming, the "Babes" ranks with the very best presentations in both Europe and America.

CO-OPERATION THE KEYSTONE OF OUR SUCCESS

Co-operative prices are the lowest known, but not made lowest by sacrifice of quality. By dealing with a truly co-operative company like ours you will save from 25 to 40 per cent. Co-operation returns to the people the profits they create; it makes them owners of the business they build. Co-operation raises the quality of merchandise and lowers the cost of production. It also reduces the selling expense and does away with the middleman's profits. That is why we can undersell any store in Greater Pittsburgh. A partial List of Our Bargains for
